COMMUNICATION.

The following communication was read:

"BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO,
SECRETARY'S OFFICE, CHICAGO, October 1, 1870.

To the Honorable Grand Lodge of the State of Illinois, A., F. & A. Masons:

By direction of this Board I take great pleasure in extending to your organization, during its prospective session in this city, an invitation to visit the rooms of the Board at the pleasure of your members.

The daily sessions of the Board for business on 'Change occurs from eleven A. M. to one P. M., but the rooms will be found open from nine A. M. to five P. M.

With very high consideration, I am, Very Respectfully,

CHARLES RANDOLPH,
Secretary.

On motion of M. W. Bro. DILLS, (P. G. M.,) G. TREAS., the communication was received, ordered on file, and the invitation accepted.

The M. W. GRAND MASTER delivered the following

ADDRESS:

MOST WORSHIPFUL, RIGHT WORSHIPFUL, AND WORSHIPFUL BRETHREN OF THE GRAND LODGE OF ILLINOIS, A., F. AND A. MASONS.

One year more has receded from our view, and now contributes its share of history to the measureless past. Gathering strength from its events, and wisdom from its experience, it is our duty to improve the present and prepare for the future.

The Infinite One, in whose hands our breath is, with whom our lives are but a moment's space, and our whole being but an atom, has seen fit to spare us until this present hour; not a hair of our heads has fallen to the ground without his notice, and each thought of each one of us is registered in his Book of Remembrance. We have professed our trust in Him; let us be thankful for His Goodness, and prove our gratitude by obeying His laws.

On the 13th day of October last, assisted by R. W. Brethren D. C. CREGIER, Deputy Grand Master; GEORGE H. GINSON, as Senior Grand Warden; and G. W. BARNARD, as Junior Grand Warden; and other brethren in the several stations, I constituted Union Park Lodge, No. 610, and installed the officers thereof agreeably to ancient form and usage.

All of said Lodges give promise of much usefulness.

DISTRICTS, DEPUTIES AND REPORTS.

In conformity to the order of the Grand Lodge, I divided the State into twenty-four districts, and appointed the brethren whose names are mentioned on pages 364 and 365, proceedings of the Grand Lodge for 1869, as Deputies for their respective districts.

Reports have been received from all the Deputies. These reports show a remarkable degree of unanimity, peace and concord, in which we all rejoice. The Deputies have been great helpers and assistants in my work, and their advice, always cheerfully given, has been sound and impartial.

The district system has thus far worked well. I would fraternally recommend that the number of districts be increased to thirty. Our territory is very large, and the number of Lodges largely increased. I think it advisable to make the districts large enough to give respectability to the office of Deputy, and yet of such size as to be conveniently traversed, and not render the office a burden.

It is my duty to return my grateful thanks to the Deputies for their services, counsel and cordial co-operation, but special mention is due to Deputies CLYDE, BARNARD, STEVENS, HAMMOND, HOLLISTER, STILWILL, HAY, HOUSE, and PALMER for their efficient and timely services in settling difficulties and enforcing discipline.

I have had occasion to call to my aid the services of several brethren as special deputies, among whom are R. W. Brethren THOMAS J. WADE, A. L. VIRDEN, JOHN C. WINSLOW and JOHN D. HAMILTON, all of whom rendered important service, and are entitled to your thanks.

LODGES UNDER DISPENSATION.

The dispensations of Clement and Lilly Lodges were continued at the last Grand Communication by operation of law.

I have granted Dispensations for new Lodges as follows:

To Apollo and D. C. Cregier Lodges, in Chicago, as per order of Grand Lodge.
Nov. 2, 1869, to Oblong City, at Oblong City, Crawford county.
" 20, " to Bethesda, at Potosi, McLean county.
Feb. 4, 1870, to San Jose, at San Jose, Mason county.
" 22, " to Somonauk, at Somonauk, DeKalb county.
March 7, " to Blueville, at Blueville, Christian county.
" 15, " to Camden, at Camden, Schuyler county.
" 19, " to Hinsdale, at Hinsdale, DuPage county.
" 13, " to Mayo, at Tailhold, Effingham county.
April, 5, " to Irvington, at Irvington, Washington county.
" 16, " to Grand Chain, at Grand Chain, Pulaski county.
" 19, " to Centre Star, at Mackville, Piatt county.
" 22, " to Polar Star, at Mulkeytown, Franklin county.
" 29, " to Woodford, at ElPaso, Woodford county.
" 27, " to Greenview, at Greenview, Mason county.
May, 14, " to Lambert, at Quincy, Adams county.
" 23, " to Farina, at Farina, Fayette county.
June 4, " to Yorktown, at Yorktown, Bureau county.
" 6, " to Mozart, at Bloomington, McLean county.
" 21, " to LaFayette, at Grand Tower, Jackson county.
" 29, " to Rock Island, at Rock Island, Rock Island county.
July 16, " to Crawford, at Annapolis, Crawford county.
Aug. 11, " to South Park, at Hyde Park, Cook county.
" 16, " to Greenland, at Greenland, Fayette county.

I presume that all these Lodges, established previously to the first day of July last, will apply for charters.

DISCIPLINE.

In several cases, upon application of a respectable number of brethren, I have set aside proceedings of Lodges, in cases of trials, and have directed the cases to be tried again. In every instance substantial justice has been done, and appeals to the Grand Lodge have been avoided.

Charges having been preferred against the Worshipful Masters of Neoga Lodge, No. 279, and Muddy Point Lodge, No. 396, I placed the papers in the hands of R. W. Bro. WILLIAM H. HOUSE, D. D. G. Master, for the 18th district, who investigated the charges, and reported to me that they were not sustained, and in his finding I concurred.

Various charges were preferred against the Worshipful Master of Mt. Pleasant Lodge, No. 224, I gave the matter a long and patient hearing, and found no charges sustained except such as were confessed. I administered a reprimand to the W. M., and gave such counsel to the Lodge as I though advisable, and left the brethren with their Master, I trust in good and harmonious condition.

Soon after the close of the last Grand Communication, additional charges were preferred against Bro. J. B. WRIGHT, W. M. of Havana Lodge, No. 88; not being clearly denied I transferred the government of the Lodge for the remainder of the term to the Senior Warden.

Charges having been preferred against the Worshipful Master of Palmyra Lodge, No. 463, I specially deputed R. W. Bro. A. L. VIRDEN to investigate the charges with power; the result was the deposition of the said Master, in which I concurred.

Charges were preferred by one of the members of Streator Lodge, No. 607, against the Worshipful Master thereof. From the correspondence I became convinced that the accuser was laboring under an erroneous view of matters, but he pressed his case with such pertinacity that I specially deputed R. W. Bro. THOS. J. WADE to investigate and report; the result proved that there was not any ground for the charges, and they were dismissed.

Very serious complaints were made against the Worshipful Master of Kingston Mines Lodge, No. 357, together with statements that the Lodge had become so demoralized, that enforcement of discipline was an impossibility. I invested R. W. Bro. SYLVESTER STEVENS, D. D. G. M. for the 9th district, with full powers, and directed him to investigate the matter thoroughly, and undertake such steps as would vindicate the fraternity and liberate the good men in the Lodge from their intolerable burden. Noted as that R. W. Brother is for his kindness and charity, he performed his duty thoroughly, arrested the charter, received a petition for a new Lodge, from good and true men, which, being duly recommended was granted, and I doubt not that you will approve his work and grant a charter for the new Lodge.

Many cases of alleged irregularity in trials, and findings contrary to evidence, have been presented to me, which I have disposed of by advising parties how to appeal, or by urging settlements of difficulties and reconciliation among brethren.

Very serious charges were brought against a member of a Lodge, of a character more revolting than those for which you expelled an accused party, at your last Grand Communication, but the party, though confessing a portion of the charges, was only ordered to be reprimanded. The Worshspful Master conceived it to be an evasion of justice, was unwilling to give the reprimand and appealed to me. The details of the case are lengthy, and I will not weary you with them. The testimony and proceedings were furnished me. I ordered further proceedings stayed and soon a respectful petition was presented requesting a new trial. I accordingly deputed R. W. Bro. J. C. WINSLOW to hold a new trial, which resulted in the suspension of the accused, and for the faithful performance of the onerous duty he is entitled to your commendations.

Charges having been preferred against a distinguished member of Neoga Lodge, No. 279, at the request of all parties I presided at the trial, which was long and tedious, thoroughly prosecuted and persistently defended. The accused was found guilty upon several of the specifications and charges, and was indefinitely suspended. The long friendship which had existed between the accused and myself, caused me to hesitate about presiding, but I yielded to the earnest wish of all parties. The case, I understand, is before you on appeal.

Complaint was filed by St. Louis Lodge, No. 20, Mo., against Douglas Lodge, No. 361, at Mascoutah, St. Clair county, alleging irregular proceedings and work.

I found the facts in brief to be as follows:

That on the 6th of August last, Bro. PHILIP HORN had been a resident of Mascoutah for three years; that in February, 1869, he was rejected by said Douglas Lodge; that he is by occupation a peddler, and spends considerable time in St. Louis; that in December following he applied to said St. Louis Lodge, as a citizen of St. Louis, and was again rejected; that a large majority of his time was spent in Mascoutah, that there is no evidence before me that he was asked by said St. Louis Lodge if he had ever been rejected; that he was elected in Douglas Lodge March 5, 1870, initiated March 19, passed in due time and raised to the Third Degree in May; that about or after the time the candidate received the Third degree, said St. Louis Lodge protested against the advancement of the candidate. It is admitted by said Douglas Lodge that Bro. HORN did not state in his petition in February, 1870, or at the time of his initiation, that he had been rejected, and said Lodge alleges that as he was a resident of their jurisdiction, and the knowledge of his rejection a matter of record; that such a statement would be of no force only as a formal compliance with the established rule.

I decided that as it was quite clear that Bro. HORN was a resident of Illinois, that Douglas Lodge was not bound to regard the action of St. Louis Lodge, even if well known; but that the Lodge erred in not complying with the rule established by the Grand Lodge, and said Douglas Lodge was reprimanded accordingly.

CONFLICTING OPINIONS DECIDED.

Bro. S. A. DIDAMA, a member of Onarga Lodge, No. 305, signed the petition for a dispensation for Buckley Lodge, but did not sign the petition for a charter; I decided that his membership remained in Onarga Lodge.

Bro. M. L. WATERMAN, a member of Onarga Lodge, No. 305, signed the petition of Buckley Lodge, U. D., for a charter; the petition was granted and his name was inserted in the charter. Held that the charter is his demit and that he is a member of said Buckley Lodge.

It was alleged that a suspended brother in Westfield Lodge, No. 163, had been declared reinstated, in an irregular manner, having been immediately thereafter elected to an important station. Serious difficulties and disagreements followed. R. W. Bro. D. G. BURR, D. D. G. M., visited the Lodge and ascertained that the brother suspended was illegally declared to be reinstated, and declared the proceeding void, in which I concurred. I believe the Lodge is now prosperous and united.

It was represented to me that two brethren, members of Muddy Point Lodge, No. 396, were charged with gross criminal conduct, and that there was either inability or indisposition on the part of the Lodge to try the brethren, and I directed R. W. Bro. HOUSE, D. D. G. M., to cause charges to be preferred in said Lodge, and to preside and bring the matter to a speedy conclusion; it resulted in the expulsion of one, and the suspension of the other. Bro. HOUSE is entitled to great praise for his perseverance and ability in this matter, and as the lodge is unable to requite his services, I trust that you will amply reward him.

I have thus brought before you some of the principal cases requiring my attention. Other cases under different heads, will be mentioned, while very many others amicably adjusted or involving a point of law, will be entirely omitted.

In this connection permit me to say that Masonry is no hiding place for criminals or shelter for crime. If a Mason should be a good man and true, and should strictly obey the moral law, then we have no room in our Lodges for criminals and deliberate violators of the laws of the land, nor have we any use for Lodges which harbor offenders against the peace and security of society. The idea that a Mason is to shield a brother guilty of crime, or screen him from just punishment, is a portion of the anti-Masonic code, and is in no sense justified by any Masonic teachings or practice.

CHANGES OF LOCATION.

Upon the petition of KING SOLOMON'S Lodge, No. 197, on the 22d day of January, 1870, I changed the location of said Lodge from Old Kane (Homer) to Kane, on the railroad from Jacksonville to Alton. The Lodge was nearly unanimous in the request, and as no other jurisdiction was affected, it seemed proper that the location should be changed. I ask that this action be confirmed.

Upon the Petition of Hyde Park Lodge, No. 422, approved by the Deputies R. W. Breth. BARARND and CLYDE, and by Garden City Lodge, No. 141, Blair Lodge, No. 393, Home Lodge, No. 508, and Apollo Lodge, U. D., I changed the location of said Lodge from near the northern line of the town of Hyde Park to a convenient location in the southern portion of South Chicago. This Lodge was not located within the incorporated town of Hyde Park, but several miles from it, and was unpleasantly situated, and a change was not only desirable but necessary. I fraternally ask that this change be confirmed, and that another name may be given to the Lodge if desired.

In the month of June last, upon the petition of Oxford Lodge, No. 367, and with the consent of the Lodges interested, I changed the location of said Lodge from Oxford, Henry county, to New Windsor, in Mercer county. This Lodge has an excellent jurisdiction, and is now in a condition to make good progress. I fraternally ask confirmation.

The town of Coatsburg is situated five miles from Camp Point, on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, and is an important location. While Columbus Lodge was at Columbus it had jurisdiction over Coatsburg; in March last only four members resided at Columbus while fourteen resided at Coatsburg, and as Columbus was off from the railroad, a quorum was seldom in attendance, and it became manifest that its location must be changed, or else that the Lodge must cease to exist. The change was resisted by the W. M. at Camp Point, but being warmly seconded by R. W. Bro. BLAKESLEY, D. D. G. M., I thought it just to grant the prayer of the Lodge and locate it at Coatsburg, and so ordered. I do not ask a confirmation in this case, but hope the whole matter may be fairly considered. If the change is not confirmed then I think the charter should be vacated.

At the last Grand Communication, the location of DELIA LODGE, No. 525, was changed from Winterrowd, in Shelby County, to Elliottstown, in Effingham county. Very soon after application was made for leave to remain at Winterrowd, but I did not feel at liberty to set aside the action of the Grand Lodge, but limited the time to remain and required them to conform to the decree of your honorable body.

Immediately after this body closed its labors in October last, I found Mechanicsburg Lodge No. 299, at Mechanicsburg without a master or warden. Its records were in a bad condition and I was informed that they had not been written up for months, if they had for years. Mechanicsburg is and old and wealthy town, situated on the old thoroughfare from Springfield to Decatur. Before the Lodge was formed, the brethren united and built a nice hall, ample for all their need, and entered it with their dispensation and charter in 1858. The membership has always been respectable, but it is plain that the Lodge has never been favorably regarded by the people around it, who are largely Anti-Masonic. Its growth was to a great degree, from the extremes of its jurisdiction, and four Lodges have been mainly or partially formed from its membership. Dawson Lodge, No. 556, is on the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway, about six miles westerly from Mechanicsburg, Illiopolis Lodge, No. 521, is situated about eleven miles easterly from Mechanburg, on the same railroad. Buffalo, called by the railroad men, Mechanicsburg Station, is three miles from Dawson, three miles from Mechanicsburg, and nine miles from Illiopolis. One year before I had been importuned to entertain a proposition to change the location, but I discouraged it. In October last a petition was presented, signed by ten members praying for the removal of said Lodge to Buffalo. The latter place is beautifully located, has a large business and much enterprise. This petition was fortified by a pledge, signed by fifteen brethren, members of other Lodges, residing at or near Buffalo, in which they agreed to sustain and assist said Lodge if removed.

Following this came a protest signed by five members, against removal, and praying that W. Bro. O. P. HALL, who was about to remove into the jurisdiction from Dawson, might be appointed master. Relying greatly upon his high character and ability to bring order out of confusion, I cheerfully made the appointment until the regular election, but had resolved to change the location when satisfied that there could be no reasonable objection on the score of jurisdiction. Upon inspection of distance I thought, and still think, that Illiopolis Lodge would gain more jurisdiction than it would lose. Although not certified to me, yet I was informed and did fully believe that Dawson Lodge had placed its consent upon record, and had agreed that when the change of location should be made, demits should be granted to the members resident at Buffalo. Inspecting the returns to ascertain upon what day the regular election should be held, I found that it would occur on the Saturday evening preceding the full of the moon in December. I accordingly ordered an election to be held on that date, which was done. I also ordered that the location of the Lodge be changed from Mechanicsburg to Buffalo, from and after the first of January. Although the return above alluded to was certified as correct by the Secretary, yet, when the time arrived for the election, he stated that it was not the correct time, but as no evidence to the contrary was offered the election was held. Immediately thereafter I received a letter from a former master, who was not present at the election, stating that the By-Laws provided for the election at another time; upon investigation I found that he was correct, and the election was declared void, and a dispensation was granted to hold an election on the 15th of January, of which due notice was given. A dispensation was also granted to receive and act upon the petition of several brethren for affiliation. I attended and presided in person. Afterward I learned that Dawson Lodge objected to what had been done. If this objection had been made known to me before the removal was ordered, no such order would have been made. The reasons which induced me to make the change are:

1. The neglect to keep the records in proper condition.

2. The want of agreement and interest at Mechanicsburg.

3. The Anti-Masonic sentiment and the want of working force at Mechanicsburg.

4. The unity and enterprise of the brethren at Buffalo, the convenience, and the number of members.

The brethren, at considerable cost, had fitted up a Lodge room, and I did not think it advisable to change my order which would have been to arrest the charter, if the change of location had not been made, and to require a settlement of the affairs of the Lodge. There is no membership anywhere superior in character and worth to the brethren at Buffalo. This will be readily admitted on all hands. The work done at Buffalo shows the propriety of the change, and while I do not ask that my action may be approved, or the change confirmed, yet I trust that the good of Masonry may induce a careful consideration of the whole subject before any decision may be made.

FOREIGN JURISDICTIONAL QUESTIONS.

In July, 1869, I received a communication from the M. W. Grand Master of the State of New York, that H. W. Bigelow Lodge had conferred the degrees upon one GEORGE VAN HOUTEN, a resident at the time of Rochester, New York, and who had previously made application to Genesee Falls Lodge, No. 507, at Rochester, and had been rejected.

I communicated by letter with the W. M. of H. W. Bigelow Lodge, No. 438, who defended the action of the Lodge and insisted that VAN HOUTEN was at the time a legal resident of Chicago.

Communications passed between the M. W. Grand Master of New York and myself, and I became satisfied that VAN HOUTEN was really a citizen of Rochester at the time he was initiated and placed the matter in the hands of R. W. Bro. CLYDE, D. D. G. M., and from him I learned that H. W. Bigelow Lodge would endeavor to make a settlement of the matter with Genesee Falls Lodge, and so the matter stood at your meeting last year.

In the latter part of November I received another communication from the Grand Master of New York alleging that no adjustment had been made.

The correspondence satisfied me that VAN HOUTEN had been guilty of gross deception; that he was really an unworthy man; that he had exercised important functions as a citizen of Chicago when in reality he was a citizen of Rochester, New York, where his family resided, and that he ought to be expelled.

Charges were therefore preferred against him in H. W. Bigelow Lodge, upon which he was tried, found guilty and expelled. The correspondence is lengthy, and in some cases quite sharp, but courteous and fraternal. The whole of it is subject to inspection.

A similar complaint was made in March last against Seneca Lodge, No. 582, at Seneca, in this State. I investigated the matter quite thoroughly and found that while Seneca Lodge had not been quite regular in questioning the candidate, yet no wrong intention was manifest either in the candidate or the Lodge. Upon a representation of the fact, and of the inexperience of the Lodge, to the M. W. Grand Master of New York, the matter was dropped.

In October, 1867, M. W. Grand Master GORIN caused charges to be forwarded to the Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of New York against Cosmopolitan Lodge, No. 585, charging said Lodge with initiating one MARK POLLACK, a sojourner, who had been twice rejected in Chicago Lodge, No. 437, and who was at the time of his initiation, passing and raising a citizen of Chicago.

Charges were preferred in said Cosmopolitan Lodge against said POLLACK, upon which he was tried and definitely suspended. From the testimony it appears that POLLACK asserted that he had never been rejected, and in this matter he and others involved W. Bro. CHARLES COHEN, who was at the time W. M. of Chicago Lodge.

On the 31st of December, 1868, the M. W. Grand Master of New York, addressed a letter to me, charging that Bro. COHEN aided and abetted said POLLACK in obtaining the degress in said Cosmopolitan Lodge, and that he was a party to the misrepresentations of said POLLACK.

That letter I referred to R. W. Bro. CLYDE, D. D. G. M., who reported to me, that he had been unable to gain any information from any one except from Bro. COHEN, who asserted that he never had any knowledge or information in regard to the application of said POLLACK, until he had taken the degrees. I supposed that I had communicated this to the M. W. Grand Master of New York, but if I did, it never reached him. I regarded the matter at rest, until I received a copy of that portion of the address of the M. W. G. M. of New York, delivered before the Grand Lodge of that State, in June, 1869, which was followed by a letter from Bro. COHEN calling my attention to the matter, and desiring an investigation. I then procured from the M. W. Grand Master of New York, a complete copy of the testimony and documents used in the said trial of Bro. POLLACK, and sent the same to R. W. Deputies CLYDE and BARNARD for further investigation.

It appears that when Bro. POLLACK returned to Chicago, he applied to Chicago Lodge for admission to visit, and was objected to by Bro. COHEN himself, then in the chair, for reasons which he stated to the Lodge.

I am credibly informed that no one in the city of Chicago stands fairer in character than Bro. COHEN. His statement corroborates at great length and with minuteness the statement made to R. W. Bro. CLYDE, and this is supported by statements from Breth. JACOB KOCH, MORRIS KOHN, and Deputy BARNARD, which resulted in a firm conviction that Bro. COHEN was in no way directly or indirectly obnoxious to the charge preferred against him, and I so expressed myself to the M. W. Grand Master of New York, who, among other things, in a letter of date June 2, said: "the evidence is convincing so far as any evidence can be where only one side is heard, that Bro. COHEN is guiltless in this matter."

Another party is involved besides Breth. COHEN and POLLACK, but I am of opinion that enough has been done.

On the 27th day of January last I received an official letter from the R. W. Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Missouri, in regard to an alleged invasion of jurisdictional rights by Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76. After some correspondence with said Lodge, I visited Carlinville, and gathered up the facts in the case, and thereupon addressed the following letter to the M. W. Grand Lodge of Missouri:

To the M. W. Grand Master, R. W. Deputy Grand Master, and Grand Wardens and Brethren of the M. W. Grand Lodge of Missouri:

M. W., R. W., and Dear Brethren:—Health, Salutation and Peace. The M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, and the Grand Master of Masons send you fraternal greeting.

It pleased your Grand Master, M. W. Bro. JOHN D. VINCIL, at your Communication in October, A. L. 5869 to say as follows:

"There are others. A Lodge over the river in our sister Grand Lodge of Illinois, perpetrated the same wrong upon our rights." Mr. ADAM TAPPAN, for some years a resident of the Territory of New Mexico, went (in the spring of 1868) on a visit to his relations in Illinois. While there he was made a member of Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76, "and after an absence of four months, he returned to Santa Fe a full grown Mason. He also visited Montezuma Lodge, No. 109, until Bro. GREEN interfered. I issued the same order in his case as in the other. I dislike to speak harshly or judge uncharitably, but am constrained to utter the conviction that, seeking the honors of Masonry in places remote from the residence of the applicant throws a dark cloud of suspicion about the case. It ought to raise a doubt in the minds of the brethren where the application is made, and that doubt should only be removed by the most indubitable assurance of worthiness, accompanied by all necessary legal authority to work up such material."

W. Breth. WM. H. STONE, MARTIN J. HUBBLE, and J. A. PRICE, Committee, were also pleased to report upon the above subject with others as follows:

"JURISDICTIONAL RIGHTS."

"Your committee are pained to learn of the invasion of this jurisdiction by Monitor Lodge, No. 528, of New York City, Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76, in Illinois, and St. Merron Lodge, No. 129, Paisley, Scotland, and fully endorse the emphatic protest of the M. W. Grand Master in the premises, and had supposed that the firm and unswerving position of this Grand Lodge was fully understood by every other jurisdiction, to the extent that our rights would not be again invaded; but, believing that the above acts were committed by subordinate Lodges, ignorant of Masonic rights and usage, and that ample redress will be afforded when the grievance is properly presented to the respective Grand Lodges, we therefore recommend that the Grand Secretary express in suitable terms, the solemn protest of this Grand Lodge to Grand Lodges named, against this action by their subordinates, and that the parties so made Masons be recognized only as clandestine, until they be properly healed by the Lodges to whose jurisdiction they properly belong, entertaining, as we fully do, the belief that the Grand Lodges named will make ample apology, and punish the offending Lodges."

On the 26th day of January last, I received a letter from the R. W. Grand Secretary of the M. W. Grand Lodge of Missouri, from which I give the following extract:

"By reference to pages 25 and 65 of published proceeding of the Grand Lodge of Missouri, you will notice the complaint made by the M. W. Grand Master of Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76, of your jurisdiction, in the invasion of the rights of Montezuma Lodge, No. 109, New Mexico, under charter of this Grand Lodge.

Also that it has been made my duty to express to you, fraternally, the firm position of this Grand Body in respecting the jurisdictional rights of other Grand Lodges, and this Grand Lodge is naturally jealous of her own; and to express the belief that you will administer the reprimand which the case justifies, and to prohibit to the extent of your ability a repetition of causes for such complaints."

The facts in the case are as follows:

Bro. ARTHUR DANIEL TAPPAN, a native of the State of New York, came, while quite a youth, to Illinois to reside. For several years he resided with his brother, Bro. HENRY TAPPAN, at Alton, for three years with him at Jerseyville, and for some time with another brother at Bunker Hill; who is now deceased. At or before the decease of this brother, Bro. HENRY TAPPAN removed to Bunker Hill, and there remained until he was elected sheriff of Macoupin county, when he removed to Carlinville, where he now resides and is a member of Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76. The deceased brother represented Macoupin county in the Legislature, in 1847, and both he and Bro. HENRY TAPPAN were men of unusual intelligence, capacity and enterprise. Bro. HENRY TAPPAN served the Lodge in several capacities at Bunker Hill. He was the natural guardian, and stood as father to Bro. ARTHUR D. TAPPAN, and the latter considered his home to be with his brother HENRY.

Before the latter brother left Bunker Hill, Bro. ARTHUR D. TAPPAN, then, ever since, and still a single man, went west and traveled over California, Arizona and New Mexico for several years. That he was at Santa Fe and did business there is admitted, but that he considered it as his home, is denied. In 1867, the Indian troubles induced him to return to his brother HENRY, at Carlinville, where he arrived in the fall. He came with the intention, stated previously by letter, of going into business with his brother. Before doing so he determined to visit his birthplace, and there spend the winter. Up to this time he had entertained no serious intention of becoming a Free Mason. But at his first home, in company with his relatives, he found that his father had been a devoted Mason; that he was witness to the terrible persecutions of the anti-Masons; had suffered himself, and that he had left behind him a noble record and many memorials of his devotion to the Order. This awakened in him a strong desire to become a Mason, and he communicated to his brother HENRY his desire to take the degrees in his Lodge where he was known, and as he had received intelligence that his affairs in New Mexico demanded his attention, that he would like to receive them as soon as practicable. Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76, at Carlinville, is not obnoxious to the belief that she is "ignorant of Masonic rights and usages." Her membership will compare favorably with that of any Lodge in Illinois, Missouri, or elsewhere, for character, learning or Masonic intelligence. She has always been loyal to Masonic law and usages. Enrolled upon her list of Past Masters are the names of the present Governor, judges, members of both branches of the legislature, clerks of courts, and regimental, brigade, division, corps and department commanders during the late civil war. Colonel THADDEUS PHILLIPS, the present Master, was elected in December, 1855, and served as such until 1861, when he entered the service as Captain, and left it in 1866 at the head of a regiment. In December, 1867, he was again called to the Oriental Chair, and is now in his third term of second service. I have been thus particular in detailing these facts in order that the supposition of ignorance of Masonic law and usage on the part of either Mt. Nebo Lodge or Bro. HENRY TAPPAN, may be dispelled.

No Lodge now in existence would repel more promptly any invasion of her jurisdictional rights, or be more careful to respect the rights of Lodges, than Mt. Nebo Lodge, No. 76. Of this I am myself a cheerful witness.

The Grand Lodge of Missouri has no sovereignty beyond her own State lines. Every Grand Lodge in the United States has a right to occupy the Territory of New Mexico, in common with all the others. The fact that there was any Lodge in New Mexico was wholly unknown to either Mt. Nebo Lodge, or Bro. HENRY TAPPAN. It was natural for the younger brother when resolved to become a Free Mason, to apply to the brother who had been the guide of his youth, with whom he still intended to become a business partner, and at the place where he intended to reside. The facts, as communicated by Bro. HENRY TAPPAN, and as understood by the Lodge, were made known to the Grand Master, who granted his dispensation to confer the degrees upon Bro. ARTHUR DANIEL TAPPAN without regard to time. More than eight months after he left New Mexico, to-wit: on the first day of June, 1868, he was initiated, passed June 6th, and raised June 13th, and was demitted the same day.

With this demit he went to Santa Fe, was admitted to visit the Lodge, and was subsequently exalted in Santa Fe Chapter, a part of the members of which, if not all of them, were members, of the Lodges in Santa Fe, under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Missouri.

Having closed up his business, Bro. ARTHUR DANIEL TAPPAN, in pursuance of his previous intention, in the winter of 1868-9 returned to Carlinville, entered into business with his brother HENRY, affiliated with Mt. Nebo Lodge, but not suited with his prospects, demitted again in May, 1869, and returned to Santa Fe.

The Grand Lodge of Illinois has ever been careful of the rights of her sister Grand Lodges. No Lodge is permitted to receive petitions from the borders of adjoining States, without the consent of the Lodge holding jurisdiction, with the approval of the Grand Master.

The present Grand Lodge of Illinois was formed in 1840, and was immediately recognized by the Grand Lodge of Missouri; yet, instead of withdrawing from our territory, I do certainly know that as late as 1847, Col. H. P. BOYAKIN, of Salem, Marion County, was D. D. G. M., and it is my belief that the Grand Lodge of Missouri continued to hold jurisdiction over a Lodge at Salem, if not over others, as late as 1851; for all this the Grand Master of Illinois exerted all his authority to prevent one of our subordinate Lodges from initiating a candidate who had applied from Missouri, on the ground of convenience, during his term of office in 1850-51.

Even if all the statements and suppositions of M. W. Bro. VINCIL, your honorable committee, your M. W. body, and of your R. W. Grand Secretary in your behalf were true, I cannot conceive upon what principle of Masonic law or common justice you can require of us to treat Bro. AR-THUR DANIEL TAPPAN as a clandestine Mason. He petitioned and was accepted in due form. He was made in a regularly constituted Lodge, and by the authority of the Grand Lodge of Illinois. As I understand the term "clandestine" it applies to Masons working without lawful consent. While I understand that a brother may be irregularly made in a regular Lodge, yet I have never learned that such irregularity is to effect his standing. On the contrary, unless previously forbidden, his making is considered good, but the party guilty of the irregularity is subject to censure or discipline.

If Mt. Nebo Lodge has invaded the jurisdiction of a subordinate Lodge in New Mexico, she is subject to discipline and should make atonement, and if she has been aided and abetted in so doing by the Grand Lodge of Illinois, ample apology should be made. But the demand to hold an innocent party to be clandestine, is one which we hold to be unlawful and one which I fraternally decline to entertain.

Far be it from me to criticise your M. W. body upon the manner or the mode in which you may seek for justice or demand reparation for violations of Masonic law or jurisdictional rights. But in no other instance have I any recollection of any such matter being brought to the notice of this Grand Lodge, without first giving our authorities or the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois due notice and opportunity for explanation, apology or defense. The first notice or knowledge that came to the Grand Lodge of Illinois or any of its subordinates, came through your printed proceedings, accompanied by the letter herein alluded to from your R. W. Grand Secretary. May I be pardoned in saying that M. W. Bro. VINCIL charges us in explicit terms with wrong; admits and justifies the use of harsh language, not to say an uncharitable judgment? That your honorable committee assumes our guilt, and that your M. W. body has rendered judgment, and demanded execution at our hands without notice or trial? M. W., R. W., and W. Brethren, have you done by the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois as you would expect her to do by you? We are your equals; nothing more, nothing less. And in a friendly and brotherly spirit, I do claim that we should have had notice, and opportunity for explanation, apology, or defense. In conclusion, I say:

1. That Bro. ARTHUR DANIEL TAPPAN (not ADAM) if a resident anywhere, was a resident of Illinois.

2. That he was well known personally or by reputation at Carlinville, and known to be worthy.

3. That the character of both Mt. Nebo Lodge and of Bro. HENRY TAPPAN, forbids the idea that any violation of law or jurisdictional rights was intended or thought of.

4. The indifference of Bro. ARTHUR DANIEL TAPPAN to the subject of Masonry until his visit to New York, and his want of any knowledge of Masonry in New Mexico, preclude the idea of any mercenary or improper motive on his part.

5. Bro. ARTHUR DANIEL TAPPAN was a single man, with no fixed and determinate residence but with a constant idea of home in Illinois; it has been the custom to respect that idea, and to permit some flexibility in such cases.

6. All the parties are worthy; all have acted sincerely and in perfect good faith.

7. The M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois and all her subordinates have the highest respect for your M. W. Grand Body, and will at all times observe the laws of comity and jurisdiction, and will not permit them to be violated, and most sincerely desire to live on terms of perfect amity and friendship with you, all your subordinates, and every Mason in your jurisdiction. Your glory is our glory; our success is your success, and there is no interest affecting the one that does not affect the other.

Regretting any difference, trusting to your calm consideration of the whole subject, I shall lay before the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois this letter, and its action thereon will be communicated to you at the earliest convenient moment. Renewing my assurances of high fraternal consideration,

I am fraternally yours,

HARMAN G. REYNOLDS,
G. M. of Masons, Ill.

I respectfully ask that my action and the foregoing letter may be approved and endorsed by your M. W. Body, and that the same may be instantly communicated with fraternal assurances, to the M. W. Grand Lodge of Missouri, through our Grand Representative, R. W. Bro. MARTIN COLLINS. That able body will be in session next week at St. Louis.

CORNER STONES.

Assisted by R. W. Bro. D. C. CREGIER, Deputy Grand Master; R. W. Bro. J. W. CLYDE, as Senior Grand Warden, and G. W. BARNARD, as Junior Grand Warden, and other Grand Officers, on the 8th day of October last, I laid the corner stone of the West Chicago Benevolent Association, in West Chicago. An elegant oration was delivered by M. W. Bro. BROMWELL. An excellent banquet followed. The building is now nearly complete, and the stock is owned by Cleveland and Hesperia Lodges, Washington Chapter and Chicago Commandery and the members of those bodies. This enterprise is a great credit to the energetic brethren who conceived this project, and have arrived so nearly to the consummation. I hope it is the initial step to several others in this city.

On the 17th of May last, assisted by M. W. Bro. THOMAS J. PICKET, P. G. M.; W. Bro. EDWARD COOK, W. M. Blaney Lodge, No. 271, as Deputy; R. W. Bro. JAMES A. HAWLEY, Senior Grand Warden; R. W. Bro. GEORGE E. LOUNSBURY, Junior Grand Warden, and a full complement of officers, I laid the corner stone of the Normal University at Carbondale. Full fifteen thousand people witnessed the ceremony. About twelve hundred Masons were in procession, and one hundred and twenty Knights Templar in full uniform did guard and escort duty under the command of Em. Sir C. H. FOOTE, of Cairo. STEPHEN ELLIS, as Junior Grand Warden, and a full complement of officers, I laid the corner stone of the Jacksonville Female College of the Methodist Episcopal Church. A very large concourse was present, the provision was munificent, and full three hundred Masons were in the procession. Elwood Commandery, of Springfield, Em. Sir WILLIAM LAVELY, commander; Hospitaller Commandery, of Jacksonville, Sir C. M. MORSE, commanding; and Hugh DePayen Commandery, of Carrollton, Sir J. B. NULTON, commanding, were present in costume.

DEDICATIONS.

On the 9th day of October last, I dedicated the Hall of Union Park Lodge, No. 610, near Union Park, in this city, agreeably to ancient form and usage. A large audience witnessed the proceedings, and Bro. C. C. Bonney delivered a fine address.

On the 20th day of October last, I dedicated the new Hall of Magnolia Lodge, No. 103. The ladies provided a good dinner for the occasion.

On the 15th day of October last, R. W. Bro. D. C. Cregier, Deputy Grand Master, dedicated the Hall of Lincoln Park Lodge, No. 611, in this city.

In October last, R. W. Bro. Rodney Ashley, as my proxy, dedicated the new Masonic Hall at Kankakee.

On the 9th day of November last, I dedicated the new Masonic Hall at Avon. Addresses were delivered by R. W. Bro. John W. Ross and Rev. Bro. M. D. Heckard, both of which were appropriate and eloquent.

On the 17th day of November last, R. W. Bro. James A. Hawley, Senior Grand Warden, dedicated the new Masonic Hall at Sycamore. Past Grand Master Allen, of this city, gave the audience an able oration.

On the 3d day of December last, I dedicated the new Hall of Lexington Lodge, No. 482, at Lexington, McLean County. R. W. Bro. J. M. Stilwill, D. D. G. M., and Bro. William Smith, gave addresses appropriate to the occasion.

On the 29th of November last, I dedicated the new Hall of Richmond Lodge, No. 143, at Richmond, McHenry County; installed the officers of the Lodge, and delivered an address at the Methodist Church in the evening.

On the 24th day of June last, W. Bro. William Rounseville dedicated the new Masonic Hall of Tarbolton Lodge, No. 351, at Fairbury, and delivered an eloquent address.

On the 2d day of May last, I dedicated the new Hall of Tuscola Lodge, No. 332. The audience was large, the hall is spacious and beautiful, and the proceedings were impressive and orderly. The ladies gave a superb banquet. All these dedications were enlivened by good music, and crowded attendance from neighboring Lodges and the people at home.

INSTALLATIONS.

December 23d I installed the officers elect of Wenona Lodge, No. 344. The ladies provided a fine supper.

January 11th, I installed the officers of Lincoln Lodge, No. 210, and of Logan No. 480, at Lincoln. Two marked events attending this installation deserve special mention. The Rev. Mr. Anderson, 82 years of age, was initiated in Jonesboro, Tennessee, fifty-four years ago, came as a traveling preacher to Illinois in 1829, and was then a colleague of the celebrated Peter Cartwright. The old patriarch acted as Chaplain, and was treated with great affection by the brethren.

R. W. Bro. John M. Scott, now a Justice of the Supreme Court, delivered an address replete with sound doctrine and convincing arguments, which was severely classical and delivered with great eloquence and power. Strenuous efforts were made to procure the address for publication, but his well known desire to avoid notoriety could not be overcome.

A splendid banquet was served up by Bro. J. W. Sponsler.

EXEMPLIFICATIONS OF WORK.

On the 4th 5th and 6th days of March last, Grand Examiners Chamberlin, Fisher, Prickett, and Barnard, with myself, held a Grand Lodge of Instruction at Odin, which is at the crossing of the Illinois Central and Ohio and Mississippi Railroads. The attendance was large from the neighboring Lodges, several degrees were conferred, Masonic ceremonies were taught, and instruction was given in the ritual. The Worshipful Master of Odin Lodge, Bro. T. J. Whitehead, is a thorough proficient in the work, an eloquent degree worker, and an accomplished gentleman. Bro. H. S. De Pew, the Secretary, is an able supporter.

On the 26th, 27th and 28th days of April, Examiners Chamberlin and Barnard, with Secretary Ide and myself, held a meeting at Galesburg, at which nearly fifty Lodges were represented. Degrees were conferred by Alpha, Galesburg and Vesper Lodges, followed by the same degrees conferred by the Examiners, and the differences were specially noted and corrected. Instruction was given in the ritual and Masonic ceremonies, and good order and attention prevailed. Important assistance was rendered by the brethren at Galesburg, and by Grand Lecturers Stevens, Dewey, Hammond and Thomson. Both at Galesburg and Odin, ample provision was made for the comfort of brethren from abroad.

On the 25th day of November, I witnessed an exemplification of work in Benevolent Lodge, No. 52, at Meredosia, W. Bro. J. H. Carver, Master; and on the 1st day of December, I witnessed the same at Carrollton, W. Bro. George W. Davis, Master. March 16th, I visited El Paso Lodge, No. 246, and the work was exemplified in the first and second degrees by W. Bro. Shockley, of Eureka, the W. M. Bro. Lewis, being unavoidably detained at court; April 14th I visited Jerseyville Lodge, No. 394, and observed the working of the third degree, W. Bro. C. E. Miner, Master.

On the 2d day of May, I witnessed an exemplification of work in the third degree, in Tuscola Lodge, No. 332, W. Bro. W. H. Lamb, Master; R. W. Breth. House, D. D. G. M.; and Darrah, Grand Lecturer, assisting. No Lodge anywhere can present a better record than Tuscola, 332.

On the 20th of September I visited Centralia Lodge, No. 201, and witnessed an exemplification of the third degree, R. W. Bro. W. J. A. DeLancey, Master; assisted by R. W. Bro. Hubbard, D. D. G. M. The W. M. is a splendid governor, and the Lodge is an excellent one.

On the 22d of September, I visited Cairo Lodge, No. 237, W. Bro. Claiborne Winston, Master; and Delta Lodge, No. 568, W. Bro. J. H. Lufkin, Master, and witnessed the working of the third degree, R. W. Bro. H. W. Hubbard, formerly Master of No. 237, presiding. The floor work was managed by W. Bro. Lufkin. A banquet followed and the occasion was enlivened by several speeches.

On the 27th of September, in company with R. W. Breth. O. H. Miner, Grand Secretary; G. W. Barnard, D. D. G. M., and John C. Reynolds, Deputy Grand Secretary, I visited Mount Joliet Lodge, No. 42, W. Bro. Wm. E. Spear, Master; and Matteson Lodge, No. 175, W. Bro. H. T. Woodruff, Master, and observed the confering of the third degree, R. W. Bro. Barnard, presiding, assisted by R. W. Bro. Reynolds. An elegant banquet followed.

On the 30th of September a large number of visitors were present at Oriental Hall, to witness the conferring of the third degree, by Oriental Lodge, No. 33, W. Bro. Edwin Powell, Master, and presiding. The work was literally accurate, and every officer performed his part with precision and grace. The work was embellished with music, and with costumes suited to the degree. It has never been my privilege to witness a grander scene in any of the Masonic workings in any degree through which I have passed.

ANNIVERSARIES.

On the anniversary of St. John the Baptist, I visited La Harpe Lodge, No. 195, W. Bro. JAMES MAYER, Master; several Lodges in the neighborhood, were largely represented, and the people from the surrounding country attended in crowds. The grove near the village was literally crammed with people. I delivered an oration, and an elegant poem was read by Rev. Bro. MAYALL. The Anti-Masonic sentiment in that part of the country was greatly changed. It was a joyous occasion and the most ample provision was made for the large number of Masons present.

On the same day the brethren at Bradford had a fine time, and a very superior address from the Rev. Bro. E. J. FORRESTER, of Aurora.

On the same day the members of Tyrian Lodge, No. 333, held a pic-nic, and Rev. Bro. D. F. CARNAHAN delivered an able address.

OFFICIAL VISITS.

During the past year I have visited Springfield Lodge, No. 4; St. Paul's, No. 500; Chenoa, No. 292; Trio, No. 57; Chatsworth, No. 539; Schiller, No. 335; Monmouth, No. 37; Trinity, No. 561; Vesper, No. 584; Leroy, No. 221; Temperance, No. 16; DuQuoin, No. 234; Shekinah, No. 241; Metropolis, No. 91; Thos. J. Turner, No. 409; Cleveland, No. 211; and H. W. Bigelow, No. 438.

In all the places where I have laid corner stones, in all the Lodges where I have dedicated halls, performed ceremonies of installation or constitution, or made visits, I have been received with the honors appropriate to my station, and in such a manner as to reflect credit upon your distinguished body.

At nearly every one of these ceremonies or visits other Lodges have been represented, and I have not lacked for efficient and able assistance and co-operation.

APPOINTMENT.

The office of Grand Chaplain having become vacant by reason of death, on the 19th day of March I appointed Rev. Bro. M. D. HECKARD, of Prairie City, McDonough county, to fill the vacancy.

GRAND LECTURERS.

Commissions have been issued to R. W. Breth. M. D. CHAMBERLIN, of Freeport; G. W. BARNARD, JOHN W. CLYDE, G. P. RANDALL, and H. F. HOLCOMB, of Chicago; RODNEY ASHLEY, of Kankakee; SYLVESTER STEVENS, of Knoxville; CHARLES FISHER, of Springfield; DANIEL G. BURR, of Paris; JULIUS L. DEWEY, of Galesburg; RICHARD D. HAMMOND, of Macomb; THOMAS J. PRICKETT, of Carbondale; D. W. THOMSON, of Fulton; GEORGE O. IDE, of Princeton; LEANDER CHURCH, of Woodstock; A. T. DARRAH, of Tolono; and D. C. JONES, of Salem.

MASONIC TEMPLE.

At your last Grand Communication, the committee appointed the previous year to consider the most feasible method for the permanent location of the Grand Lodge, and the erection of a Masonic Temple, made a very able report, and demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Grand Lodge, that if a Temple is to be built for the purpose of deriving a revenue from its use and rental, that it could not be made so largely profitable upon the money expended in any place so well as in Chicago. An increase of more than 160,000 in its population within the last ten years very greatly confirms this opinion.

The following resolution was offered and adopted after the adoption of said report, to-wit:

"Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to select a suitable site in the city of Chicago, on which to build a "Temple," or building for the Grand Lodge, and procure a refusal of said site until all the Lodges in the State can be made acquainted with such selection, and have received a printed copy of the report just made, and when a majority of such lodges shall have sanctioned such selection, the committee shall be empowered to complete such purchase or lease, and proceed in the usual way to make an offer for the same."

After considerable reflection, I resolved to act carefully in the selection of the committee, and to select such as would command the confidence of this Grand Lodge and of the business community.

Accordingly, after considerable consultation, I appointed R. W. Bro. WILEY M. EGAN, formerly President of the Board of Trade, of unquestioned foresight, probity and business sagacity; and associated with him P. G. M. T. J. TURNER, of Freeport, a good lawyer; R. W. Bro. JOHN M PEARSON, of Alton, who presides over the Grand Chapter; and R.W. Bro. WM. H. TURNER, of Chicago, P. G. Junior Warden, a gentleman of character and business capacity; and your Grand Secretary, whose financial ability was so thoroughly demonstrated as auditor of State.

The committee held several meetings, selected a site in a commanding business location, but found that a large sum of money must be advanced as a forfeit, and that large sums, utterly beyond their power to raise, must be paid at short intervals until the whole sum was paid. Nor could any other desirable property be purchased on any better terms. One piece of property which was offered your committee on such exacting terms, in ten days thereafter was sold at five per cent. advance in price and on much better terms to the selling party.

The committee found themselves embarrassed with terms with which it was impossible to comply. No means had been provided them, nor any made by which they could be raised. They had no authority to borrow, and even if they had been authorized to borrow, the act of incorporation restricted them to one thousand dollars.

But under the terms of the resolution it was clearly ascertained that the refusal must await the action of the lodges, and that until their sanction could be obtained, no purchase could be made. Every Chicago representative—every representative in this Grand Lodge at all acquainted with operations in real estate in this city, will at once see, that while the report presented the matter fairly, that the resolution under which the committee were compelled to act, completely blockaded their progress, for no transactions can be had in such real estate as this body would demand under that resolution. Of course further action and expenditure of money was unnecessary.

What is to be done? It is not for me to recommend, neither do I express any opinion in regard to the manner in which a temple shall be built or where it shall be located.

But the difficulties which environ our brethren in Massachusetts, Maryland and Missouri should be carefully avoided. A temple can be built, it should be built, and if for revenue, then it can and should be built of such proportions and magnitude as to ensure a revenue far over-reaching all other possibilities of additional or extra expense, and in such a manner as to reflect credit on our craftsmen and State. This should be planned and deliberately perfected, and so as to avoid all discord and confusion.

The following plans have been suggested to me in brief:

1. A joint stock arrangement.

2. An amendment to our act of incorporation, and the issuance of bonds.

3. An investment of our surplus funds from year to year, by commissioners, in Chicago real estate, until the amount becomes sufficient to build a temple free from embarrassment.

4. To resort to the methods practiced in New York to raise money. These two latter propositions might be united.

5. To locate the Grand Lodge at some central point, and erect a plain building sufficient for its wants.

M. W. Bro. Thomas J. Turner having advised me that he cannot attend at this Grand Communication, I have apointed R. W. Bro. Isaac R. Diller, Past Senior Grand Warden, upon the Temple Committee.

REINSTATEMENTS.

Upon the recommendation of Lee Centre Lodge, No. 146, I restored James Crombie to all the rights and benefits of Masonry, as authorized by the resolution of the Grand Lodge on page 61, Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of 1868. This order was made on the 13th day of November last.

On the first day of January last, upon filing the proper papers, I reinstated Breth. David Solenbarger and A. J. Bateson to membership in Lewistown Lodge, No. 104, as per resolution on page 311, Proceeedings of Grand Lodge for 1869.

DECISIONS.

I have made the following decisions:

1. The Lodge found a brother guilty upon charges preferred and voted a reprimand; the W. M. neglected to perform the duty, and removed from the State; held, that the S. W. should administer the reprimand, or cause the same to be done.

2. An objection before balloting, made to the Master, is equivalent to a rejection, and the ballot should be stayed until the objection is removed.

3. The charter members of a new Lodge are liable for dues for the qnarter or term in which such charter was granted to the Lodge of which they were members at the time such charter was granted.

4. It is the duty of every non-affiliate to join some Lodge, but he is privileged to join such one as suits him best, without regard to local jurisdiction.

5. The right to visit is not absolute but conditional. The right to ask implies the power to deny, and the power to deny rests with any member of the Lodge, and must be respected.

6. Where a negative ballot is cast upon application for initiation, advancement or affiliation, no brother has any right to disclose how he voted, and any such disclosure should be followed by effective discipline, except in cases where it is clear that the negative was the result of misapprehension or mistake.

7. The officers of a Lodge named in a charter hold their positions after installation, until the time set for election in the by-laws, when an election should be held, even if it should occur on the next day after their installation.

8. When a candidate is declared rejected the Lodge has no further power over the matter, until the W. M. orders another ballot under section 42, Grand Lodge By-Laws.

9. In voting by show of hands the W. M. does not vote, unless his vote may be necessary to a tie, or as a casting vote. The W. M. never has but one vote, and may vote whenever a ballot is taken.

10. The "any other Lodge" mentioned in section 26, Grand Lodge By-Laws, includes any Lodge wherever located.

11. A brother wishing to visit a Lodge must first satisfy himself of its legality by inspection of the charter and the usual test; the Master of the Lodge must then require proof in the usual way that the brother is a just and upright Mason.

12. The test should precede all examinations; two brethren may examine each other for their mutual satisfaction, but they cannot vouch for each other upon such an examination; the only cases where vouchers are permitted are where the brethren have sat in Lodge together, or where a satisfactory examination has been had by authority of the W. M.

13. It is unlawful to give a suicide Masonic burial, unless the evidence of insanity is clear.

14. A two-thirds vote restores a member suspended indefinitely to membership.

15. In the absence of any Lodge by-law, a majority vote is sufficient to grant a demit.

LIABILITY OF ONE LODGE TO ANOTHER.

Northern Light Lodge, No. 81, F. & A. M., at Manston, Wisconsin, submitted an account of June 13, 1870, giving items against Marengo Lodge, No. 138, for the sum of $105, charges for attending upon Bro. H. Nickerson.

Woodbridge Lodge, No. 138, F. and A. M., at Woodbridge, California, also submitted an account of date May 24, giving items, against said Marengo Lodge, No. 138, for the sum of $619 00 charges for supplies and attention in sickness bestowed upon Bro. A. L. Wheeler. The sum total is $724 00.

I received a letter from the W. M. of Marengo Lodge, No. 138, asking if the Lodge was obliged to pay such demands. I advised that the whole matter be referred to you for authoritative decision.

I am clearly of the opinion that one Lodge cannot hold another in a legal sense beyond its contracts, or the provisions of its by-laws.

A Lodge does not assume the obligation binding upon its individual members, and it seems to me that no lodge has the right to incur expenses at the charge of another unless upon a promise to pay or a plain provision in the by-laws. The W. Master of Marengo Lodge avers that his Lodge cannot pay these demands. As a matter of good policy it may be expedient for this Grand Lodge to pay them, asserting that no more such accounts can be allowed unless by promise to pay in some form.

But I submit the whole matter for your decision.

AUDITING ACCOUNTS.

I would respectfully suggest to this Grand Lodge that some method should be devised to meet its demands and necessities in some methodical form. It is hardly possible for a finance or auditing committee to do justice to the questions and business which comes before it during your sessions.

I would therefore recommend that an estimate be made of sums necessary to meet the regular and legitimate expenses of the Grand Lodge during its recess, that the necessary sums be appropriated, and that the Finance Committee be required to meet quarterly and pass upon all bills and accounts which may be presented, and that upon the certificate of the said committee orders be issued, and in no other case, except as now provided by the by-laws.

GRAND LODGE OF QUEBEC.

That section of North America formerly known as Upper and Lower Canada, New Brunswick and Novia Scotia, was, some years since, joined together under one government known as the "Dominion of Canada," and the Provincial Grand Lodges in New Brunswick and Novia Scotia have been formed into sovereign Grand Lodges.

As long since as 1855, many Lodges in both upper and Lower Canada united in forming an independent Grand Lodge, with a jurisdiction over the whole country. It was followed by a serious confusion, and while the differences were mainly adjusted in 1858, many Lodges retained their connection with their respective Grand Lodges in the old country.

The old provinces of Upper and Lower Canada are now known by the names of Quebec for Lower Canada, and Ontario for Upper Canada. In October last a convention of delegates from eighteen Lodges upon the Canada Registry, two upon the Registry of the Grand Lodge of England, and one upon the Registry of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, met at Montreal, adopted a constitution, and formed a Grand Lodge under the name of Quebec. Among many reasons urged in favor of this movement, was the similarity of condition by Quebec to that of the separate States of our Union, and the right to form a Grand Lodge for that reason. To that the Grand Lodge of Canada replied that her jurisdiction extended over the territory of both Ontario and Quebec. This was met by the fact that the Grand Lodge of Canada never did exercise exclusive control over said countries. Is has resulted in more violence and ill-feeling than is at all justifiable among Masons. I deemed the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Quebec irregular, but the necessity for a separation is clearly demonstrated. It was hoped that the Grand Lodge of Canada would come to some compromise, whereby the Lodges in Ontario should retain the Grand Lodge of Canada, and those in Quebec should be formed into another Grand Lodge.

Notwithstanding the most strenuous exertions by M. W. Bro. William Mercer Wilson, the first Grand Master of Canada, and the powerful co-operation of several eminent Masons, the Grand Lodge of Canada has refused all compromise, and nothing is now left but to recognize or refuse to recognize the Grand Lodge of Quebec. It is certain that the formation of the Grand Lodge of Quebec is no more schismatic or rebellious than was the formation of the Grand Lodge of Canada. This Grand Lodge unhesitatingly recognized the latter: the former has been recognized by several Grand Lodges, and I think the matter may as well be set at rest by a general recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec.

DECLARATION SET ASIDE.

Bro W. H. Vining was declared expelled, January 16, 1867, by Lawn Ridge Lodge, No. 415, by a majority vote, and upon insufficient evidence, and, as since shown, without any cause. I declared the proceedings irregular, and Bro. Vining not expelled, two-thirds being indispensible to declare a brother expelled.

BALLOT SET ASIDE.

Wesley B. Lucas was rejected in Venice Lodge, No. 621, upon a supposed state of facts, which proved to be untrue. Thereupon I set aside the ballot and granted leave to spread the ballot again.

CONDITION OF MASONRY.

With the charters which will be granted this session, this Grand Lodge will have nearly 650 chartered Lodges, and something over 36,000 affiliated Master Masons. The increase has not been as great as in former years. This is to be ascribed to the scarcity of money, emigration westward, and a closer watchfulness over the ballot box. It would naturally be inferred that the frenzy of anti-Masonry would debar many from seeking admission, but it is a singular fact that in the region where anti-Masonry is the most furious, the average of initiations is equal to any other portion of the State.

The Grand Lodge met in this city in 1849. M. W. Bro. William Lavely, now an active member of your body, was Grand Master at that session, and R. W. Bro. William McMurtry, at that time Lieutenant-Governor of the State, was in attendance as Grand Treasurer. R. W. Bro. E. R. Roe, Deputy, is now the able editor of the Pantagraph at Bloomington. M. W. Bro. W. C. Hobbs was elected Grand Master from the station of Junior Grand Warden. A most thorough scholar and gentleman. R. W. Bro. William Mitchell, Grand Secretary, died immediately after reaching his home at Peoria. No Secretary ever excelled him. R. W. Bro. Geo. Davis, deceased, was Grand Orator. Prominent among the members was M. W. Bro. Harrison Dills, since Grand Master and now Grand Treasurer, and R. W. Bro.

John C. Bagby, who now represents No. 9. Of the officers and members Breth. Whitaker, Russell, Cabiness, Gilson, Wallace, Heyl, Noyes, Barrett, and probably several others, are dead. Of the others, Breth. Wade and myself are with you now. Several have since been Grand or Deputy Grand Masters, one of whom, M. W. Past Grand Master Pickett, our representative near the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, we are glad to welcome to-day. The Grand Lodge met in a spacious and convenient hall for those days, on Lake street, near La Salle, and the third day the Grand Lodge and members of the Fraternity in this city formed in procession under the escort of Apollo Commandery, R. W. Bro. John R. Case, Commander, and proceeded to a hall on Randolph street, between State and Dearborn, where a most elaborate and polished oration was delivered by Bro. Davis. The whole number of Lodges represented did not exceed forty, and yet we thought it a grand affair. The old Sherman, on the site of the present Sherman, had sufficient room for us all.

In 1866, the Grand Lodge met here the second time, and now, just twenty-one years after the first meeting here, I presume that 575 Lodges are represented, and that from 600 to 800 representatives are present.

Is there anything singular in this? Yes. In 1850 the population of the State was over 850,000. The affiliated Masons did not exceed 2,500, an average of one to 340 inhabitants. Now the population of the State is 2,500,000, and the average is one to every seventy inhabitants. Romantic as the increase of the population may seem, the increase of Masonry almost exceeds the range of credulity. What has kept pace with this? Everything good—everything noble. Equality among the people, universal education, the magical spread of the arts and sciences, a higher range of civilization, a higher tone of personal honor, and a decided improvement in the moral culture of the people.

It will be asserted that some Lodges are low in the scale of morals, efficiency or usefulness. Admit it. The same is true in every department of human society. Banks are sometimes compelled to close, merchants fail, farmers and mechanics do not succeed, and demoralization reaches churches and other societies. Masonry cannot be expected to escape the fate of all other earthly things. Ye the advancement of Masonry is the advancement of improvement, civilization, religion, morality, culture, learning and law, and its cosmopolitan influences bring good men in contact, and contribute to bring about that time when all men shall love one another. Wherever there is civilization there is Masonry. Wherever Masonry advances darkness disappears. Wherever it declines fanaticism obscures the light of culture and learning, and barbarism, rudeness and lawlessness override order and law.

While Masonry is essentially social, and a large system of charity, it is not license. Where I find the majority of members of a Lodge in dram-shops, addicted to profane swearing, loose in morals and personal honor, and ready to excuse immoral or unmasonic practices, I tremble for the community where it is located. Such Lodges are the blots upon our fair system, and are no better than birds of prey. They are a moral pest, and should be cleansed or closed. My brethren, is this the case with any of your Lodges? Let it be so no longer.

OUR LAMENTED DEAD.

The Rev. James I. Davidson, of Decatur, Grand Chaplain, and Past Grand Orator, died at his residence on the 10th day of January last, aged about forty years. A native of England, and a machinist by occupation, upon arriving at his majority. As early as twelve years of age he was known as the "boy preacher." He came to this country when twenty-one years old and commenced preaching in the Methodist Episcopal persuasion. He was originally licensed in this country at Quincy, by the Quarterly Conference, of which our R. W. Grand Treasurer was a member. He passed regularly through the orders, and had become a famous preacher when our late civil war broke out. He entered the service as Chaplain, but was soon elevated to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, and displayed in several engagements the most daring, heroic, and soldierly qualities. At Chattanooga he was severely wounded, and was transferred to the presidency of a court-martial at Nashville.

After leaving the service, he preached for three years in the first Methodist Society in Springfield, one year in Decatur, and one year since he was made presiding elder. He left a widow and an adopted child. Elwood Commandery, of which he was a member, went from Springfield to Decatur and escorted his remains to the Oak Ridge Cemetery, near Springfield, our M. W. Bro. William Lavely, commanding, and the deceased was buried with Masonic honors.

Bro. Davidson was a remarkable man. He attached his friends to him very strongly; his mind was of a philosophical cast, but he studied oratory, and his preaching, always effective, was occasionally very eloquent. The wounds received at Chattanooga were the ultimate cause of his death; he suffered much but bore all patiently, was serene and tranquil, and in the possession of his reason, died happily and in peace.

R. W. Bro. Phares A. Dorwin, Grand Lecturer, and Past Master of Central Lodge No. 71, at Springfield, died of consumption, on the second day of February last, at the age of forty-eight years, leaving a widow and three minor sons. The deceased was Master of Central Lodge several years, was one of the brightest workmen in the State, and an elder in the Presbyterian church.

Hon. D. D. Shumway, of Taylorville, for several years Master of Mound Lodge No. 122, county judge, member of legislature in 1846-7, and of the convention which immediately followed, died May 8th, leaving a widow and several children. The deceased was a gentleman and an honorable man.

I cannot avoid mentioning the decease of Col. Lawrence S. Church, of Woodstock, a member of the Constitutional Convention, and for several years a member of the legislature, and who, though never Master of a Lodge, was most influential in favor of Masonry. His death occurred on the 21st day of July last. The deceased was an able man, a talented legislator and an honorable gentleman.

I presume there are others whom I ought to mention here, but I leave that for the Committee on Obituaries.

The deaths of M. W. Breth. Robt. D. Holmes, Past Grand Master of New York, who died on the 12th of March last, and Benjamin B. French, Past Grand Master of the District of Columbia, who died on the 13th day of August last, have caused profound regret and sorrow. Their Masonic lives furnish a large portion of the history of Free Masonry in this country since 1849.

In April, 1837, at Montpelier, Vt., I bid adieu to father and mother for the last time on earth; exchanged farewells with brothers and sisters, among them was the youngest child, a lad nine years old. The father had suffered at the hands of anti-Masons as few men suffered. The eldest son—myself—came by stage and boat to Detroit, and thence to Rock Island on foot and alone. Upon reaching the verge of the Bluff overlooking Rock Island, Fort Armstrong, Davenport, the town of Rock Island, the Mississippi and the mouth of Rock river, as the sun was declining in the west, a scene of beauty and grandeur burst upon my vision, such as I had never witnessed before. Two other brothers with myself became Masons in this State, but the parents having passed away, the younger lad, grown to man's estate, went to California and from thence to Virginia City, amid the Sierras of Nevada, where he, too, became a Mason, married, and in a few years sickened, and though kindly cared for by stranger Masons, closed his eyes upon the scenes of earth in September, 1868. In July last the body was brought to Rock Island, and on the same bluff, not far from where I stood in 1837, four brothers—three of us Free Masons—looked again upon the well preserved features of the lad I had left in 1837, with his emblems of Masonry resting upon his bosom. There we buried him. In that hour where was ambition? Where was wealth, or the pleasures of this world? In the midst of the sorrow and weeping, I felt in my soul to declare, "O, Lord, in the midst of life we are in death; have compassion upon the children of thy creation, and administer them comfort in the time of trouble."

My brethren: I have again brought back the gavel you placed in my hands one year since. I have tried to use it in such a way as to promote harmony and good-will, morality, culture and elevation of character. It is now yours. And it will ever be my prayer, that the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, may be your God, your father and your trust. For all your forbearance with my faults, for all the honors you have conferred on me, I feel profoundly grateful I have been honored far beyond my ability or deserts, but in every position in which I have been placed, I have tried to give you honest service, and wherein I have failed it has never been for want of good intention. May good order, unity and courtesy govern your deliberations, and may the Grand Architect of the Universe crown your labors with abundant success.

R. W. Bro. BOBBINS, P. G. O. (296), offered the following RESOLUTION.

Resolved, That the resolutions known in the printed proceedings of the Grand Lodge as "Resolutions in Force" be referred to the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence for consideration.

The resolution was adopted.

REPORT—LODGES U. D.

W. Bro. FLOWER, (71) from the Committee on Lodges U. D. submitted the following report:

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons:

The Committee on Lodges Under Dispensation respectfully report that they have examined the work, returns, and by-laws of such Lodges as have been submitted to them, and submit the statements, recommendations, and statistics set down in the following pages.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

CALVIN H. FLOWER,
JAMES C. McMURTRY,
SAMUEL M. MARTIN,
LOUIS ZEIGLER,
GEO. W. DAVIS,
Committee.

The following Lodges made correct returns in all respects, viz: Blueville, Centre Star, D. C. Cregier, Lambert, Polar Star, Rock Island, Somonauk, San Jose, Woodford, and Yorktown.

We also herewith submit a report of the most important errors, in the returns, work and by-laws of the remaining Lodges:

LILLY LODGE.

Failed to copy Dispensation. Received petitions to be made Masons, and placed them on file. Your Committee are of the opinion that they belong to the committee till report is made. We especially call attention to the absence of Masonic terms in the records. Brethren were passed and raised without any record of their election or examination.

HINSDALE LODGE.

By-laws provide for trial by a Committee, instead of by the Lodge, which your Committee find to be an irregularity, and suggest that they be amended so as to conform to the by-laws of the Grand Lodge.

APOLLO LODGE.

This Lodge adopted By-Laws for their government while U. D., which was unnecessary. It also proceeded to elect officers, which has, however, been explained to your Committee as informal.

MOZART LODGE.

Your Committee recommend that the several changes made upon the copy of By-Laws, submitted by this Lodge, by this Committee, be adopted by the Lodge, and that Article 11 of Section 4 of the said By-Laws be stricken out, and from the last clause of Section 62 to and including Section 68, of the By-Laws of the Grand Lodge be inserted in lieu thereof.

GREENVIEW LODGE.

Records somewhat informal. Returns state in one place that G. F. Dowell and Z. T. Burns were initiated on the 14th of August, and in another on the 14th of July, the latter evidently correct.

OBLONG CITY LODGE.

Records informal, and a general absence of Masonic terms.

IRVINGTON LODGE.

The records state that a petition was received and referred, but do not state what the petitioner asked for. The records fail to give the names of reference in petitions; fails to give the date of reception of petitions of William Fisher and J. M. Grismore; the returns say June 8th. The returns fail to show that William Fisher, initiated July 9th, was ever elected. Returns and records do not agree as to the date of passing Brethren Fisher and Grismore.

LAFAYETTE LODGE.

Makes no return of the reference of petitions.

CAMDEN LODGE.

One petition received, of which record does not state what the petitioner asked for. Record as to opening and closing the Lodge informal. Breth. B. H. West, J. H. McHatten, G. R. Anderson and Theodore Hettrick were raised in less than the regular time.

GRAND CHAIN LODGE.

Neglected to record Dispensation as required by law. Record shows a general lack of Masonic terms, as to opening and closing, reception and reference of petitions, and conferring of degrees. By the record it appears that an E. A. was examined in a M. M. Lodge.

MAYO LODGE.

Not having completed its work, asks that its Dispensation may be continued, which request we recommend be granted.

PHOENIX LODGE.

This Lodge having done no work, we recommend that its Dispensation be continued.

We recommend that Charters be granted as follows:

To Lilly Lodge, as Comet Lodge, No. 641.
To Apollo Lodge, as Apollo Lodge, No. 642.
To Cregier Lodge, as D. C. Cregier Lodge, No. 643.

On motion of R. W. Bro. EGAN, G. S. D. the report was adopted.

R. W. Bro. CUNNINGHAM, D. D. G. M., from the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, presented a report, the consideration of which, upon motion of R. W. Bro. ROBBINS, P. G. O. (296) was postponed until after the special order set for the morning session.

SPECIAL ORDER—ELECTION.

The hour designated for the special order having arrived, the Grand Lodge went into an election of officers for the ensuing year. The M. W. Grand Master announced the following

APPOINTMENT OF TELLERS.

R. W. Brcth. MILO D. CHAMBERLIN, (97) THOMAS J. WHITEHEAD, (503) GILBERT W. BARNARD, D. D. G. M., (141) WILLIAM H. HOUSE, D. D. G. M., (260) THOMAS J. PRICKETT, (241) RICHARD D. HAMMOND, D. D. G. M., (553) JAMES LOWE, (1 ;) W. Breth. A. B. DAVIDSON, (582) CLAIBORNE WINSTON, (237) JOHN W. SEMPLE, (400) and Bro. JAMES H. L. SLAYTON, (333.)

M. W. Bro. IRA A. W. BUCK, Past Grand Master, in the East.

The ballots having been collected, sorted and tallied, the Tellers reported that R. W. Bro. DEWITT C. CREGIER, Deputy Grand Master, had received a majority of all the votes cast for Grand Master, whereupon he was declared duly elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, for the ensuing year, and until his successor should be duly elected and installed.

REPORT—TEMPLE COMMITTEE.

Pending the count of the ballot for Grand Master, R. W. Bro. EGAN, G. S. D., from the "Temple Committee," submitted the following report:

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, A., F. & A. M.:

Your committee appointed under the following resolution, adopted at the last Grand Communication. viz:

"Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to select a suitable site in the city of Chicago, on which to build a "Temple," or building for the Grand Lodge, and procure a refusal of said site until all the Lodges in the State can be made acquainted with such selection, and have received a printed copy of the report just made, and when a majority of such lodges shall have sanctioned such selection, the committee shall be hereby empowered to complete such purchase or lease, and proceed in the usual way to make an offer for the same."

Respectfully report as follows:

That in the month of October last, immediately after receiving notice of appointment, the Committee (with the exception of M. W. Bro. THOS. J. TURNER) assembled in Chicago, for the purpose of consultation as to the best method of accomplishing the wishes of the Grand Lodge under the resolution.

Being unable at that time to make any selection, the committee adjourned until November, when the committee again met and examined a number of eligible sites for the proposed building, and appointed Breth. EGAN and W. H. TURNER a sub-committee to ascertain the ownership of the different sites under consideration, and the terms on which a refusal of the same could be obtained. At this meeting Bro. A. M. BENNETT was appointed Secretary of the committee.

Your committee again met in March last, to receive the report of the sub-committee, which was to the effect that a refusal of either of the sites suitable for the purpose, could be obtained only on the payment of a considerable sum of money as a forfeit, say ten thousand dollars or more. The site considered by the committee as the most eligible for the purpose, was held at one hundred and eighty thousand dollars. The refusal of which, for thirty days, could have been obtained on payment of ten thousand dollars in hand, to be forfeited if the purchase was not consummated, and in case of the purchase being actually made, a further sum of thirty-five thousand dollars, to be paid at the end of thirty days.

The committee were unable to find any suitable location which could be obtained on terms better or even so good as this, and being entirely unprovided by the Grand Lodge with means to close such a bargain, or with any authority to obtain the same, were unable to procure the refusal of a site as contemplated in your resolution, and therefore found no necessity for submitting any selection to the Lodges for approval.

All of which is fraternally submitted,

W. M. EGAN,
JOHN M. PEARSON,
ORLIN H. MINER,
WM. H. TURNER.
Committee.

Attest: A. M. BENNETT,
Secretary to Committee.

The report was laid on the table for further consideration.

REPORT—COMMITTEE ON ADDRESS.

Pending the count of the ballot for Grand Secretary, M. W. Bro. BROMWELL, P. G. M., from the Committee to whom was referred the address of the M. W. Grand Master, submitted the following report:

The Committee to whom was referred the Address of the Most Worshipful Grand Master, respectfully and fraternally report that they have considered the same as well as the limited time and opportunity allowed them would permit, and they are of opinion that the Address of the Grand Master, together with the large volume of documents, including correspondence with the Masonic authorities of several jurisdictions, gives evidence of great zeal, care and industry on the part of the Grand Master, and also shows that he has well and ably maintained the honor and dignity of this Grand Lodge, both at home and abroad, in a manner which must be gratifying to all Masons of this jurisdiction.

Your Committee recommend that so much of said Address as relates to Lodges under Dispensation be referred to the Committee on Lodges U. D.

That so much of said Address as relates to the case of Mechanicsburg Lodge No. 299, be referred to the Committee on Petitions.

That so much of said Address as relates to the Masonic Temple, be referred to the Committee on the Masonic Temple.

That so much of said address as relates to decisions made by the M. W. Grand Master, be referred to the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence.

That so much of said address as relates to the appointment of District Deputy Grand Masters be approved and the recommendation contained therein adopted.

That the action of the M. W. Grand Master in the matters of Mount Pleasant Lodge No. 224, Muddy Point Lodge No. 396, Neoga Lodge No. 279, Havana Lodge No. 88, Palmyra Lodge No. 463, Streator Lodge No. 607, Kingston Mines Lodge No. 357, Ridge Farm Lodge No. 632, Douglas Lodge No. 361, Onarga Lodge No. 305, and Westfield Lodge No. 163, be approved in all respects.

In regard to the questions arising between this Grand Lodge and that of NEW YORK, touching the case of GEORGE VAN HOUTEN, and involving the action of H. W. Bigelow Lodge No. 438, and also in the matter of the complaint against Seneca Lodge No. 582, we recommend that the action of the Grand Master be approved. Also his action in relation to the case of Bro. MARK POLLOCK, and the proceedings of Chicago Lodge No. 437.

In relation to the controversy between M. W. Grand Master REYNOLDS and the Most Worshipful Grand Master of MISSOURI, concerning the action of Mount Nebo Lodge No. 76, in initiating ARTHUR D. TAPPAN, which action is alleged by the Grand Lodge of Missouri to be in violation of the territorial jurisdiction of that Grand Lodge, your Committee would say, that in their opinion the acts of the Grand Master of Illinois, in the premises have been such as to entitle him to the warm thanks and approbation of this Grand Lodge, and the law in such cases as held by the Grand Master, properly held and applied, and the whole controversy shows a thorough mastery on his part of all the questions involved.

In the first place it is clear to this Committee that according to the facts in the case of said Bro. TAPPAN, as ascertained and set forth by Grand Master REYNOLDS, he, Bro. TAPPAN, was, at the time of his initiation, a resident of the State of Illinois, and Mt. Nebo Lodge was justified in treating him as such.

Your Committee are surprised at the doctrine laid down by the Grand Lodge of Missouri in namely, that the said Bro. ARTHUR D. TAPPAN having been initiated in a regular Lodge, is by reason of his residence being without the jurisdiction thereof, a clandestine Mason.

It is a matter beyond the understanding of this Committee that a regular Lodge, working under a charter from a regular existing Grand Lodge, can make a clandestine Mason in any way.

We hope the Grand Lodge of Missouri, for which the Grand Lodge and all our Lodges and Brethren entertain so high a respect and regard, will reconsider this expression of Masonic Law which we feel sure must have been uttered without that due reflection which usually characterizes the acts of that illustrious body.

To conclude this matter briefly, we recommend that the action of our Grand Master be approved; that this action on our part be communicated at once to the Grand Lodge of Missouri, with fraternal greeting and assurance of high esteem on our part toward that Grand Body.

The recommendation of the Grand Master that estimates be made in advance, of the sums necessary to meet the proper expenses of the Grand Lodge during each fiscal year, and that a committee be clothed with the power and required to meet and pass upon all bills quarterly, your Committee deem worthy the attention of the Grand Lodge, and they beg leave to offer for adoption the annexed resolution on that subject.

Your Committee further endorse the opinion of the Grand Master in relation to recognizing the Grand Lodge of QUEBEC as the only course now left by which the subject can be disposed of to the benefit of the Craft, and accordingly offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Grand Lodge recognizes the Grand Lodge of QUEBEC as a regular Grand Lodge, and extends its Masonic welcome to said Grand Lodge as one proper to take a place among the regular Grand Lodges of the Masonic World.

Your Committee beg leave to congratulate the Craft upon the happy condition it has maintained throughout our jurisdiction during the last year, as shown by the statements of the Grand Master concerning the laying of corner stones, dedications, Installations, anniversaries and meetings for exemplification of work attended by him. We understand that the meetings at Odin and Galesburg have been particularly useful to Masons in those sections of the State, and recommend that such meetings be held in other quarters.

We join with the Grand Master in his touching tribute to the honored and lamented dead, who have been called from among us during the past year. May their memories be long cherished and their virtues imitated by the Craft who have enjoyed the benefit of their illustrious example.

Finally, your Committee beg leave to join with the Grand Master and this Grand Lodge in thanks to all the officers, to whose efforts the Craft are so much indebted, and in congratulation to the whole body of the Craft upon the good order, harmony and Brotherly Love which prevail among us, and in an invocation to the Grand Architect of the Universe that he may continue his blessing and approbation upon our labors.

H. P. H. BROMWELL,
IRA A. W. BUCK,
EDWIN POWELL,
JAMES LOWE,
JOHN W. ROSS,
JOHN M. STILWILL,
Committee.

The consideration of the report was interrupted by the report of the Tellers as to the ballot for Grand Secretary:

ELECTION—GRAND CHAPLAIN.

The ballots for Grand Chaplain having been collected, sorted and tallied, the Tellers reported that Rev. and W. Bro. JOHN W. AGARD, (479) had received a majority of all the votes cast, whereupon he was declared duly elected Grand Chaplain to the Grand Lodge of Illinois, for the ensuing year and until his successor should be duly elected and installed.

Pending the count of the ballot for Grand Chaplain, the Grand Lodge resumed consideration of the report of the Committee on the Address.

M. W. Bro. William Lavely, P. G. M., in the East.

Ordered, That the Report be considered apart from the resolutions.

The resolution regarding the recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, was taken up, considered and on motion of M. W. Bro. Buck, P. G. M., adopted, there being no dissenting votes.

The resolutions regarding the Committee on Finance, were taken up, considered and amended by striking out the words "four," "December," "March," "June," and "September," and inserting in lieu thereof the words "twice," "January," and "July," and as amended referred to the Committee on Constitution, Manual and By-Laws:

The report was then taken up, considered and adopted.

ELECTION—GRAND ORATOR.

The ballots for Grand Orator, having been collected, sorted and tallied, the Tellers reported that W. Bro. John M. Scott, (43) had received a majority of all the votes cast, whereupon he was declared duly elected Grand Orator of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, for the ensuing year, and until his successor should be duly elected and installed.

The M. W. Grand Master assumed the East.

ELECTION—GRAND TYLER.

The ballots for Grand Tyler having been collected, sorted and tallied, the Tellers reported that Bro. John P. Ferns, G. T., (438) had received all the votes cast, whereupon he was declared duly elected Grand Tyler of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, for the ensuing year, and until his successor should be duly elected and installed.

REPORT—MASONIC CORRESPONDENCE.

The hour appointed for the special order regarding the Report on Masonic Correspondence having arrived, it was Ordered, That the further reading of the Report be dispensed with, and the same printed with the proceedings.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MASONIC CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Illinois:

Your Committee on Masonic Correspondence would respectfully report:

That in the discharge of their duties they have labored to reduce the result of their researches to as brief a space as possible, while they have endeavored to preserve all that is most valuable in the interesting and instructive documents with the review of which they have been charged. How far they have succeeded in their design must be left to your impartial judgment for decision.

The Committee have been furnished with and have received the proceedings of the following Masonic Grand Bodies:

Alabama,	Iowa,	New Hampshire,
Arkansas,	Kansas,	New Jersey,
British Columbia,	Kentucky,	New York,
Canada,	Louisiana,	North Carolina,
California,	Maine,	Ohio,

Grand Orient of France,

ALABAMA.

Communication of 1869, commencing on December 6th, 1869, and continuing three days. GEO. D. NORRIS, M. W. G. M., and DANIEL SAYRE, R. W. G. Secretary.

The address of the Most Worshipful Grand Master is voluminous. He announces the reception of the protest of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana against the action of the Grand Orient of France, and shows that the assumption of the French Grand Body, that race or color has anything to do with the question, is without foundation, and recommends immediate action; he recommends the recognition of the Grand Lodge of New Brunswick; calls attention to the necessities of the "Orphans' Home"; recommends a committee to compile a suitable Monitor for Subordinate Lodges Several decisions were made, but none on points of a new or doubtful character. Seventeen dispensations were granted for opening new Lodges during the year. The Grand Master closes his address by recommending sundry Masonic publications.

R. W. Daniel Sayre was introduced and received as the Representative of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, near the Grand Lodge of Alabama, with the usual honors.

A resolution was adopted "recognizing the Grand Lodge of Canada as possessing supreme and sovereign control, and exclusive jurisdictional rights, within its territory," and that a violation of these rights will be looked upon with disapprobation.

A proposition to allow the M. W. Grand Master to appoint the R. W. Deputy Grand Master was negatived.

A resolution was adopted that no Brother has the right to dimit, and that no Lodge has the power to grant a dimit, except for one of the three following reasons: To form a new Lodge; to join a Lodge more convenient, or to remove from the jurisdiction of the Lodge.

Some discussion of points contained in former reports of the Committee on Masonic Correspondence of the Grand Lodge of Illinois is to be found in the report of the same committee of the Grand Lodge of Alabama, but we do not see that a continuance of the discussion would be of interest to the Craft. We would, however, approve the fraternal spirit in which the discussion has been conducted.

Suitable honors were awarded to Brethren deceased.

Wm. P. Chilton was elected M. W. Grand Master, and Daniel Sayre was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

ARKANSAS.

Communication of 1869, commencing November 1st, and continuing three days. E. H. English, M. W. Grand Master, and W. D. Blocher, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master pays a fitting tribute to the dead of the year, especially mentioning Nathaniel G. Smith, Past Grand Master, and Wm. Hicks, Past Senior Grand Warden.

Nineteen Dispensations were granted to open new Lodges during the year. During the Communication twenty-five new Lodges were chartered, five Dispensations to open new Lodges granted, and two Dispensations continued.

The Grand Master relates some very interesting incidents that have come under his own observation during his travels, showing the humanizing effects of Masonry; finds some fault with the lack of uniformity in the work in the jurisdictions he has visited, but concludes it is nearer perfection than could be expected; recommends the usual appropriation to St. John's College, a Seminary of learning under the control of the Grand Lodge; and reports two hundred and forty-two Lodges in his jurisdiction.

By resolution offered by the Committee on Masonic Law and Usage, all Masonic correspondence and fraternal relations between the Grand Lodge of Arkansas and the Grand Orient of France, were discontinued.

In consideration of his eminent services to the Order a valuable jewel was presented to the M. W. Grand Master.

We find no notice of the Grand Lodge of Illinois in the report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

W. D. Blocher was elected M. W. Grand Master, and Luke E. Barber, was elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Communication of 1869, commencing May 1st and continuing one day, J. W. Powell, W. Provincial Grand Master, and H. F. Heisterman, Provincial Grand Secretary.

The communication was held at Victoria. The Grand Master finds that Lodges invade each others jurisdiction, and deplores the demoralizing effect of the reception of a candidate into one Lodge after having been rejected by another, and thinks it "opens the Masonic door to questionable if not unworthy subjects." We think the Provincial Grand Master condemns it very mildly. He complains of the ignorance that exists as to the rules governing the reception of candidates and the right of visitation.

The Provinical Grand Master communicates to the Provincial Grand Lodge that he has received papers from the District Grand Lodge working under the Grand Lodge of England, proposing the establishment of an independent Grand Lodge for British Columbia, and that he had transmitted them to the Grand Lodge of Scotland, for the consideration of that Grand Body. It is to be hoped the movement will prove successful.

The course of the Provincial Grand Master was approved by the Provincial Grand Lodge.

Four Lodges were represented at this Communication with a membership of about one hundred and fifty.

The District Grand Lodge, working by authority of the Grand Lodge of England, has the same number of Lodges under its care, and an equal number of members. The same Grand Master and Grand Secretary were continued in their respective chairs.

CALIFORNIA.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 12th, and continuing five days. Charles Marsh, M. W. Grand Master, and Alex. G. Abell, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master's address is brief and pertinent; he reports three violations of his jurisdiction, each of which was promptly attoned for; he issued twelve dispensations for opening new Lodges, all of which were chartered by the Grand Lodge. Four new halls were dedicated. A dispensation to dedicate a hall jointly with another organization, was properly refused. The corner stone of an Episcopal Methodist Church, was laid by the Grand Master. The address recommends the abolition of the affiliation fee, and that there be required but one ballot for the degrees.

Several representatives near other Grand Lodges were appointed, among them being one for the Grand Lodge of Illinois, in the person of M. W. Grand Master H. G. Reynolds.

Nearly one hundred pages are devoted to the report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, in which Illinois is favorably noticed. The committee wonder, as so many have wondered, how a Grand Lodge with so many members, gets through with its business in two days. A very fair hit is made at the "esoteric" and the "exoteric" work.

It was decided by the Grand Lodge that the Master of a Lodge may resign his office and dimit from his Lodge; that the fee for affiliation should be abolished; that one ballot for three degrees was not binding upon a subordinate Lodge. The Grand Lodge voted to suspend all Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient of France, so long as that Body continues its unlawful invasion of the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. It was determined that the Lodge was the proper authority to decide whether a suicide was entitled to Masonic burial.

A splendid address was delivered by Grand Orator FRANK M. PIXLEY.

LEONIDAS E. PRATT was elected M. W. Grand Master, and ALEX. G. ABELL re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

CANADA.

Communication of 1869, commencing July 16th, and continuing three days. A. A STEVENSON, M. W. Grand Master, and THOMAS B. HARRIS, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master congratulates the Grand Lodge on the prosperity of Masonry in the jurisdiction, reporting twelve Dispensations issued to open new Lodges: has laid the corner stone of a Masonic Hall and a Christian Church: regrets the greed of office which possesses some Brethren: speaks discouragingly of a Masonic Asylum, the erection of which has for some years been agitated: congratulates the Fraternity that the Lodges of Nova Scotia are all quietly working under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of that Province; recommends the appointment of a committee to open negotiations with Lodges within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Canada, under charters not granted by that Body, and closes by expressing the hope that the deliberations of the Grand Lodge may be productive of beneficial results.

A resolution introduced in Grand Lodge requiring two black balls for the rejection of a candidate was very properly voted down.

The greater part of the business of the Grand Lodge was of a local character.

The report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence is a brief and well digested production, containing much information in little space. The proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois are favorably mentioned.

A. A. STEVENSON was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and THOMAS B. HARRIS was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

A Special Emergent Communication of the Grand Lodge of Canada was held December 1st, 1869, the purpose stated in the proclamation to be "to adopt such measures as may be deemed necessary in view of the recent rebellion and secession of certain Lodges and Brethren within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Canada." This Communication was convened to considerer the organization of the so-called Grand Lodge of Quebec, but as the M. W. Grand Master has already placed before the Grand Lodge the facts and papers in the case, your Committee believe that no further necessity exists for pursuing the subject. The proper committee will doubtless make such report in the premises as the case demands.

CONNECTICUT.

Communication of 1870, commencing May 11th, and continuing two days. AMOS E. COBB, M. W. Grand Master, and JOSEPH K. WHEELER, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master's address is brief and business-like. He reports Dispensations granted for opening six new Lodges, all of which were chartered at the annual Grand Communication.

A body of men claiming to be Masons, and that they worked under a Dispensation granted by the African Grand Lodge of New York, asked for recognition, but were permitted to withdraw their petition, no evidence having been produced that they were what they claimed to be.

All Masonic intercourse was suspended with the Grand Orient of France, on account of its illegal assumption in Louisiana.

The answer to the request of the Grand Lodge of Quebec for recognition was deferred until the next Grand Annual Communication, and the hope expressed that the difficulties, before that time, would be settled by the Grand Bodies most interested.

Copious extracts are made by the Committee on Foreign Correspondence from the address of M. W. Grand Master Reynolds, and also from the report of the Committee of this Grand Lodge, and fault is found, in a very fraternal spirit, with the strictures of R. W. Bro. Robbins on the claims to power put forth by the Grand Lodge of Connecticut, in which the Committee of the Connecticut Grand Lodge show themselves "workmen that need not be ashamed." The report is an able one throughout.

Asa Smith was elected M. W. Grand Master, and Joseph K. Wheeler re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Communication of 1869, commencing November 2d, and continuing in session one day. R. B. Donaldson, M. W. Grand Master, and N. D. Larner, R. W. Grand Secretary.

Very little business was done except to receive the report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence and the address of the Grand Master. The latter was brief, and the former the reverse of that virtue, occupying some one hundred and twenty-five pages of the proceedings, of which seven are devoted to the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

In the District of Columbia the Grand Master is required to visit each Lodge in the jnrisdiction at least once a year. It has been found that these visits exert a good influence.

The claim that has heretofore been put forth by the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia, to the right to initiate, pass and raise persons, no matter where they may reside, is canvassed pretty thoroughly, and with seeming fairness, by the M. W. Grand Master in his address to the Grand Lodge at the semi-annual session, and a proposition submitted to prohibit such action in future. It was laid over until the annual communication, but we are unable to find that any further action was taken in the matter. It is more astonishing that such a claim should be made, than that steps should be taken to relinquish it.

Suitable notice of the death of Past Grand Master W. B. Magruder was taken, and a new burial service was reported by a committee raised for that purpose at a former communication.

R. B. Donaldson was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and N. D. Larner was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

COLORADO.

Communication of 1869, commencing September 28th, and continuing one day. Henry M. Teller, M. W. Grand Master, and Ed. C. Parmelee, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master's address is a very matter of fact document. He refused to grant a dispensation for a new Lodge because the Brethren had gone in debt for fixing up a hall in which to meet; refused another where the brethren were out of debt and well up in the work, because of the sparseness of the population, and refused a third because the petition came into his hands only a month before the Annual Grand Communication. The Grand Master called the attention of the Grand Lodge to the prevalence of the vice of intemperance. He closes by saying that the Lodges in all parts of the jurisdiction are doing well. Perhaps that is not an unnecessary announcement when all the published facts are remembered.

The decease of Past Grand Master WESTON is feelingly alluded to, and a suitable tribute paid to his memory. A brief notice of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, is given in the report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

HENRY M. TELLER was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and ED. C. PARMELEE was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

DELAWARE.

Communication of 1869, commencing June 28th, and continuing one day. EDWIN J. HORNER, M. W. Grand Master, and J. P. ALLMOND, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master notices the decease of P. D. Grand Master WM. GRAVES, and suitable tribute to his memory was paid.

But one Lodge was constituted during the year.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence give a detailed statement of the facts in the Louisiana case and say: "The Supreme Council has been recognized by the Grand Orient of France, in utter disregard of the rights of the Lonisiana Grand Lodge." Our own jurisdiction is not mentioned in the report of the Committee.

EDWIN J. HORNER was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and J. P. ALLMOND was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

FLORIDA.

Communication of 1870, commencing January 12th, and continuing three days. SAMUEL B. STEVENS, M. W. Grand Master, and D. W. C. DAWKINS, R. W. Grand Secretary.

A communication was received from the Grand Master stating that a recent death in his family prevented him from being present at the communication, and conveying the announcement of the decease of Past Grand Master THOMAS Y. HENRY. R. W. SAMUEL PASCO, acting Grand Master, made a brief address. He gave some excellent advice, made allusion to the work of the Grand Lodge, not yet finished, and exhorted to its completion.

A revision of the standing rules of the Grand Lodge, containing alterations important to the Lodges in that jurisdiction, was adopted.

The Grand Lodge withdrew all Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient of France, and with the irregular organization in Louisiana which it recognizes.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that it was inexpedient to hastily recognize the Grand Lodge of Quebec.

The matters transacted at the late communications of the Grand Lodge of Florida, judging from the published proceedings, seem to have been loosely done, but there is evidence of amendment in the business performed at the last session.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence have had the good sense to be brief and pointed in their report on Grand Lodge proceedings. Illinois comes in for a fraternal and commendatory notice, though our staid, sober and dignified Past Grand Master Gorin would probably fail to recognize himself in the name of Givin, by which he seems to be known in that floral jurisdiction.

Samuel Pasco was elected M. W. Grand Master, and Dewitt C. Dawkins was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

GEORGIA.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 26th, and continuing three days. Samuel Lawrence, M. W. Grand Master, and J. Emmett Blackshear, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master introduces charity and labor for the good of mankind, as the sublime objects of Masonry; deplores the apathy existing among the Craft; thinks the cause of the evil lies in negligent work; descants upon the arduous duties of Worshipful Master; denounces the action of the Grand Orient of France as a wanton insult to the Grand Lodge of Louisiana; recommends that duplicate copies of proceedings be furnished to each Grand Lodge recognized; and gives a detailed history of his Masonic labors through the year. He dislikes and would discountenance the "side degrees." The address is eminently practical, and hence, valuable.

The proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois for 1868, are briefly reviewed, and in a truly Masonic spirit.

It was resolved that the Grand Orient of France be fraternally requested and urged to rescind its action in the matter of the invasion of the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, as the Grand Lodge of Georgia cannot hold fraternal intercourse with any Masonic body that knowingly and wilfully recognizes clandestine Masons.

Samuel Lawrence was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and J. Emmett Blackshear was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

IDAHO.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 4th, and continuing five days. Geo. H. Coe, M. W. Grand Master, and P. E. Edmonson, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master opens his address by congratulating his Grand Lodge that it has been recognized by every Grand Lodge in the United States. Two Dispensations to open new Lodges were issued. The Grand Master deplores the want of uniformity in the work, a fact that always obtains on the frontier; enjoins the absolute secresy and sacredness of the ballot, protests against the making of Masons by Eastern Lodges, of persons whose homes are in the West. This protest has a bearing against a case said to have occurred in Horicon Lodge No. 244, of this jurisdiction, where a person said to reside within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Idaho, was made a Mason while on a visit to this State. Six Lodges were represented and two others received charters. The Grand Master was requested to appoint a representative near each Grand Lodge that should appoint a similar officer near the Grand Lodge of Idaho.

Subordinate Lodges were required to collect one dollar a year from each non-affiliated Mason in their several jurisdictions, to constitute a fund for the relief of orphans. Affiliation fees were abolished, but after a six months' residence in the territory the non-affiliates must pay fees equal to those paid by a member.

Jonas W. Brown was elected M. W. Grand Master, and P. E. Edmonson re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

INDIANA.

Communication of 1870, commencing May 24th, continuing three days. Martin H. Rice, M. W. Grand Master, and John M. Bramwell, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master opens his address by stating that among the Lodges of his jurisdiction there has been no strife or discord to interrupt the work; mentions prominently the decease of Past Grand Master Blair, formerly of Illinois; condemns the Grand Orient of France for its violation of the territory of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana; declines to discuss the question of the regularity of the Grand Lodge of Quebec; reports twenty Lodges opened under Dispensation during the year; states that a large number of halls have been dedicated and corner stones laid; speaks favorably of the Masonic mutual benefit societies that have sprung up in that jurisdiction, and represents them as having a numerous membership. A committee reported that it was eminently adapted to give aid and protection to the widows and orphans of deceased Masons. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence, to whom was referred the assumption of the Grand Orient of France of a jurisdiction in Louisiana, reported that the Grand Lodge of Louisiana is the only legal Masonic authority in that State, having jurisdiction over the subordinate Lodges of Masonry, and resolved that the Council claiming to exist by authority from the Grand Orient, is a spurious and clandestine body. Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient of France, was, by resolution of the Grand Lodge, dissolved.

The consideration of the request of the Grand Lodge of Quebec for recognition, was postponed until the next Grand Annual Communication.

A memorial page is devoted "to the memory of those Masons who were cruelly murdered by order of the Spanish government, in Santiago de Cuba, in the Island of Cuba, without the benefit of a trial, simply for being Masons." Pages are also set apart to commemorate the deaths of other brethren, among them that of Past Grand Master Blair.

Martin H. Rice was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and John M. Bramwell was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

IOWA.

Communication of 1870, commencing June 7th, and continuing three days. John Scott, M. W. Grand Master, and Theodore S. Parvin, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master congratulates the Grand Lodge on the prosperity of the Craft in that jurisdiction; twenty-six Lodges have been opened by dispensation during the past year; several Masonic Halls have been dedicated; discipline has been needed but in few instances; there is a commendable uniformity in the work; it is recommended that the Grand Lodge of Quebec be recognized; the status of negroes, as to eligibility to receive the degrees of Masonry, is discussed, and the position arrived at that it is a matter to be decided by the Subordinate Lodges.

The Grand Master made forty-nine decisions of questions in Masonic jurisprudence, none of which are important to this jurisdiction.

Bitter complaint is made of the dilatory manner in which the chairman of the Committee on Foreign correspondence has performed his duties, and there seemed to be good cause for it.

The Grand Lodge recognized, in the fullest sense, the Grand Lodge of Quebec; resolved that "by the ancient constitutions the selection of members of subordinate Lodges belongs to the Lodges themselves," and annulled all laws inconsistent therewith.

Copious extracts are made from Grand Master GORIN's address, the report of the Illinois Committee on Masonic Correspondence extolled, the oration highly praised. It is stated that the report of the Illinois Committee is "compressed" into one hundred and eighty-two pages.

Suitable notice was taken of the decease of Past Junior Grand Warden, PEARLY JACKSON.

JOHN SCOTT was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and THEODORE S. PARVIN was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

KANSAS.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 20th, and continuing two days. JOHN H. BROWN, M. W. Grand Master, and E. T. CARR, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The annual address of the Grand Master is mostly devoted to home subjects, and deals in a candid manner with existing facts.

Two fine Masonic Halls were dedicated during the year.

The case of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana and the Grand Orient of France was brought up by the Grand Master, and was referred to a committee, which reported that all Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient be suspended, and members hailing therefrom should not be recognized until that Grand Body reviews its action. The report was adopted.

A favorable notice of the Grand Lodge of Illinois is found in the report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

JOHN H. BROWN was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and E. T. CARR was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

KENTUCKY.

Communication for 1869, commencing October 18th, and continuing four days. ELISHA S. FITCH, M. W. Grand Master, and J. M. S. MCCORKLE, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master is of length interminable; it occupies about twenty-eight closely printed pages. It includes facts, poetry, suggestions, thanks, exhortations, reports of doings, excuses, fears, vindications, elections, correspondence, regalia, representation, confessions, &c. It contains much that is good and nothing that is bad, but the chaff that covers the wheat makes it a serious work to search for the kernel. In addition to this, the Grand Master made an address at the laying of the corner stone of the Widows' and Orphans' Home, and a third on leaving the chair, all of which are published.

The Grand Master refused to grant Dispensations to open new Lodges; recommends the re-election of Grand Masters; the appointment of representatives near Grand Lodges; resistance to the aggressions of the Grand Orient of France, and speaks contemptuously of the anti-Masonic demonstrations in various parts of the country.

Fraternal relations and correspondence with the Grand Orient of France were suspended.

Nine new Lodges were chartered, and five Dispensations to open new Lodges were granted; three Dispensations before granted were continued, and seventeen applications for Dispensations for new Lodges were denied.

Thomas J. Pickett, Past Grand Master of this jurisdiction, is an active and working member of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky.

Charles Eginton was elected M. W. Grand Master, and J. M. S. McCorkle was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MAINE.

Communication of 1870, commencing May 3d, and continuing three days. John H. Lynde, M. W. Grand Master, and Ira Berry, R. W. Grand Secretary.

This was the Centennial Anniversary of the Grand Lodge. At a previous communication it had been resolved to celebrate it in suitable style, but in consequence of the expense it would entail, which the Grand Lodge was not in circumstances to meet, the resolution was reconsidered and the celebration omitted.

The Grand Master issued three Dispensations to open new Lodges.

He reports that in consequence of a traveling concern in Massachusetts, which pretended to confer the degrees of Masonry, he had issued an edict that no Mason from that State should be allowed to visit a Lodge under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Maine, without first exhibiting proof that he had received his degrees in a regular Lodge.

We are sorry that the Masons of Maine are so poorly posted as to render such an edict necessary. What kind of evidence was considered necessary and proper is not stated.

The recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec is recommended, and the passage of non-intercourse resolutions against the Grand Orient of France was suggested. Both propositions were adopted by the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Master speaks severely against intemperance and profanity.

Among the decisions made was one that "there is no regulation requiring a candidate to apply to the Lodge nearest his residence." Then we say there should be such a regulation. Another decision is that "an application to which the candidate has affixed his mark should not be received." That we take to be good and sound doctrine.

Copious extracts are made by the Committee on Foreign Correspondence from the proceedings of this jurisdiction, and generally with approval.

The Committee very properly takes exception to the doctrine of the Grand Orient of France, when that body says, in substance, that a belief in God is not necessary as a qualification for a candidate for the degrees in Masonry. A belief in the existence of God—so much theology there is in Masonry. It is just enough, and none too much. It must be preserved inviolate—sacred.

John H. Lynde was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and Ira Berry was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MARYLAND.

Communications of 1869. John Coates, M. W. Grand Master, and Jacob H. Medairy, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master's address for the May Communication is very brief, and entirely devoted to the debt for and dedication of the Masonic Temple. A tax of two dollars a year on each affiliated Mason was assessed, to be paid until the income from the Temple will meet the interest on the debt.

At the Annual Communication, in November, the Grand Master reported that he had issued Dispensations for opening three new Lodges. The address is unusually destitute of interest and information, the reason of which may be found in the ill health of the Grand Master.

The Grand Charity Fund is reported to be $68,139 42.

JOHN S. BERRY was elected M. W. Grand Master, and JACOB H. MEDAIRY was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Communications for 1869, March, June, September and December. WM. SEWALL GARDNER, M. W. Grand Master, and SOLON THORNTON, R. W. Grand Secretary.

From the address of the Grand Master, at the March Communication, we should infer an unpardonable looseness in recording the proceedings in that jurisdiction. A provision for a committee to examine the records has been ignored for ten years past. A charity fund of $50,000 is in such a condition of forgetfulness that the Grand Master did not even know the Board of Trustees, or if there existed such a Board; no report of the expenditures for building the Temple had been made by the Directors, and various other odd methods of transacting business are brought to light.

The subjects contained in the Grand Master's address were referred to a committee, who found them of so much consequence as to require more time for consideration than was furnished by that session.

At the June Communication, a committee, to whom had been referred the Franco-Louisiana case, made a full report of the facts. At the close of the report, they say the Supreme Council, chartered by the Grand Orient of France in Louisiana, is a spurious, unmasonic body; that the Grand Lodge of Louisiana has been wounded and injured in its just prerogatives by the decree of the Grand Orient of France, but neglect to recommend the severance of all Masonic intercourse with the Grand Body inflicting the injury.

The committee on the address delivered by the Grand Master at the March Communication, reported that "several things seemed to need correcting," and committees were appointed to undertake the task of correction.

The committee also reports, in substance, that the claim of the Grand Orient of France to the right to establish Lodges in other independent jurisdictions, is wrong.

The recommendations of the committee were adopted, but as it is not quite clear from the record what these recommendations were, we are left to infer that the action of the Grand Orient aforesaid is condemned.

The address of the Grand Master, at the Annual Communication in December, relates solely to local matters. A communication was received from the Grand Lodge of Canada relative to the organization of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, and referred to a committee, which failed to report. Eleven Dispensations for opening new Lodges were issued during the year.

WM. SEWALL GARDNER was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and SOLON THORNTON was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MICHIGAN.

Communication of 1870, commencing January 12th, continuing three days. A. T. METCALF, M. W. Grand Master, and JAMES FENTON, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master is unusually exhaustive. Thirteen Dispensations to open new Lodges were granted; ten Masonic Halls were dedicated; the corner stones of two buildings Masonically laid.

The Grand Master decided that a ballot for a candidate when all the members present did not vote, because of want of balls, was invalid; that only three reasons for granting a dimit could exist: the candidate about to travel in foreign countries, to remove beyond the jurisdiction of the Lodge, or to petition, with others, for a Dispensation to organize a new Lodge.

The case of the Grand Lodge of Quebec is stated. While granting that Masonic jurisdiction should be held as far as possible by political boundaries, he regrets that an amicable adjustment has not been reached by the brethren immediately interested, and recommends the Grand Lodge of Michigan to refrain from all interference in the matter.

The Grand Master calls attention to an invasion of jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana by the Grand Orient, but recommends no action in the premises.

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of dimits, reported that they were unable to agree, some holding with the Grand Master, and others that a brother in good standing had a right to a dimit at any time on application. The Grand Lodge adopted the report. However, we do not quite see how the question was decided.

The Grand Lodge unanimously adopted a resolution suspending Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient of France.

We do not observe that any action was taken relative to the recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec.

A. T. Metcalf was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and James Fenton was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MINNESOTA.

Communication of 1870, commencing January 11th, and continuing three days. C. W. Nash, M. W. Grand Master, and W. S. Combs, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master felicitates the body over which he presides, on the prosperity of the past year. Five Dispensations for opening new Lodges were issued. The Grand Master recommended the subject of the recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec be referred to a special committee, but it fell into the hands of the Committee on Jurisprudence, from whom no report was received.

The Grand Lodge protested solemnly against the action of the Grand Orient of France, in the Louisiana case, and pathetically besought that Grand Body to reconsider and rescind that action. It instructed its subordinates to be particularly strict in the examination of visitors from Louisiana, and to admit those only who were made in regular Lodges.

The report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence is pithy, pointed and brief. The Grand Lodge of Illinois is fraternally noticed.

Charles W. Nash was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and W. S. Combs R. W. Grand Secretary.

MONTANA.

Communications of 1868 and 1869.

M. W. Grand Master Frary at the opening of the communication of 1868, congratulates the Grand Lodge on the strength, beauty and harmony of Masonry in that jurisdiction. He recommends that the law which permits Lodges under dispensation to try members on charges preferred, should be abrogated. Well informed Masons will wonder how such a law could have been enacted.

The remainder of the address is devoted to matters of a local character.

WILBER F. SANDERS was elected M. W. Grand Master, and SOL. STARR R. W. Grand Secretary.

At the communication for 1869, the Grand Master opens his address in a glowing eulogy on Masonry in general, and on that which has been transplanted to Montana, in particular. He reports that he has set aside the laws of the Grand Lodge in certain instances—in three cases only—these cases being to grant leave to a Lodge which had balloted for and rejected a candidate, to try it again before the legal period had expired: A law that the less frequently it is violated, even by a Grand Master, the better it will be for Masonry. However, the Grand Lodge seem to approve such violations, and sanctioned the act.

A very flattering notice is given by the Committee on Foreign Correspondence of the proceedings of this Grand Lodge.

N. P. LANGFORD was elected M. W. Grand Master, and SOL. STARR was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MISSOURI.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 11th, and continuing four days. JOHN D. VINCIL, M. W. Grand Master, and GEO. F. GOULEY, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master covers thirty-two pages and may be called an exhausting document. He asks that Deputy Grand Masters may be authorized to give their opinions on disputed subjects, thus relieving the Grand Master of much labor: reports the issue of twenty-three dispensations to open new Lodges: proposes that District Deputy Grand Masters be required to recommend petitions as a condition of issuing Dispensations: reports that Lodges of instruction have been held with good results: the arrest of the charters of several Lodges—one for refusal to punish a brother for stealing, and another for refusing to adopt the form of work prescribed by the Grand Lodge: one for initiating a man who had been rejected, without the proper action taken, and several others were closed for various misdemeanors.

The Grand Master seems not to have reposed on a bed of roses during his administration.

The Grand Master also reports an invasion of his territory by Mt. Nebo Lodge, of Illinois, by receiving to full grown Masonry, one who had resided for several years in Santa Fe. Application in the proper quarter for redress would probably have righted the wrong.

The Grand Lodge of Missouri holds all Masons made in an Army Lodge to be clandestine, and receives them only after they have become members of a regular Lodge. Such is the decision of the Grand Master who refused to recognize one of these Masons, though certified by the Grand Secretary of this jurisdiction. A considerable portion of the address is devoted to the review and reversal of the decisions of a former Grand Master. Most of the suggestions and recommendations were approved by the Grand Lodge.

The Grand Lodge of West Virginia was recognized, and all Masonic intercourse between the Grand Orient of France and the Grand Lodge of Missouri was suspended.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reviews the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, and charges the chairman of the similar committee of this jurisdiction with attaching a meaning to its words which they will not bear: "trying to make them say that the large number of Dispensations issued in Illinois for conferring degrees out of the regular time, are conferred on unworthy persons." The explanation is that the Committee of the Grand Lodge of Missouri said "that nine-tenths of those who apply for Dispensations to get the degrees, just before they are going to travel, do so from mercenary motives." We leave it to the Missouri brethren to say whether a candidate who would apply for the degrees through mercenary motives, ought to be considered entirely worthy. The distinction seems to us to be without a difference.

Thomas J. Turner, P. G. Master, was appointed representative of the Grand Lodge of Missouri, near the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

Wm. D. Muir was elected M. W. Grand Master, and Geo. Frank Gouley was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

MISSISSIPPI.

Communication of 1870, commenced January 17th, and continued four days. Thomas S. Garthright, M. W. Grand Master, and J. L. Power, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master is diffuse. He congratulates the Grand Lodge on the improved condition of the jurisdiction over the previous year: reproaches himself for granting so many Dispensations for balloting for candidates once rejected: a deserved reproach, we should say: decides that seven Master Masons are necessary to do business in a Lodge; complains that the laws of the Grand Lodge prescribe a premium for non-affiliation: recommends the erection of a Grand Lodge Temple: advises Masons to treat new citizens kindly, and to extend the same consideration to the whites who hold different opinions from themselves; makes an eloquent appeal for the Orphans' Home: calls attention to the Grand Lodge of Quebec, and closes with a very appropriate quotation from the poets.

Dispensations for eight new Lodges were issued. The Committee on Masonic Law made an elaborate report, covering the ground occupied by thirty-four questions, none of which are of sufficient importance to claim special notice. A question is to be submitted to the Grand Lodge, at its next communication, to the effect, that as Masonry has become speculative instead of operative, cannot a man who has lost a finger, an arm, or a leg, or who is otherwise maimed, perform all the social and moral duties incumbent on Masons, and should he not therefore be admitted?

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence made a report which contains much valuable matter. In relation to our own Grand Lodge there is nothing singular, unless it be an individual curiosity to know what a "Rail Road Secretary" is, and a mild stricture on the language of a former report of a Committee on Foreign Correspondence of this Grand Lodge.

George R. Fearn was elected M. W. Grand Master, and J. L. Power was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

NEVADA.

Communication of 1869, commencing September 21st, and continuing three days.

George W. Hopkins, M. W. Grand Master, and Wm. A. M. VanBokkelen, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master expresses his fears that the sudden and growing popularity of our Fraternity may prove detrimental to its interests and stability; thinks where the increase of membership is slow, the new ones better assimilate with the old than if the influx is great and sudden. He reports that peace and harmony pervade his jurisdiction, and that Brethren have exercised considerable care in the selection of material for the moral and Masonic edifice; complains of the invasion of the jurisdiction by New York Lodges, but reports satisfaction made, and says he has issued one Dispensation to open a new Lodge. The address is brief and practical.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence speak fraternally of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, and quote liberally from its proceedings. It was decided that no cypher should be used in the jurisdiction.

A special committee was raised to procure a design for a Grand Lodge Diploma. The Grand Lodge of West Virginia received fraternal recognition. The matter of the invasion of the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana, for want of time to investigate it, was postponed to the next Annual Communication.

Complaint was made that the Grand Lodge of Kansas chartered a Lodge at Salt Lake City, which had worked two years under a Dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Nevada and had been refused a Charter by that Grand Body, and also by the Grand Lodge of Montana. We apprehend it would be difficult to justify the action of the Grand Lodge of Kansas upon any recognized principle of Masonic comity.

The Committee on Jurisprudence, to which was referred the often propounded question as to what physical defects in the candidate should bar the entrance to the Lodge, reported that "men made Masons must be free-born, of mature age, of good report, hale and sound, and not deformed or dismembered." Very properly the Grand Lodge adopted the report.

The effort of the Grand Orator occupies a page and a half of the proceedings and is a valuable production, saying less and containing more than many much more pretentious.

George W. Hopkins was elected M. W. Grand Master, and William A. M. VanBokkelen re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

NEBRASKA.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 26. Harry P. Deuel, M. W. Grand Master, and R. W. Furnas, R. W. Grand Secretary.

Grand Master Irish, having received a government appointment which required his absence from the State, the duties of that office, for a part of the year, were performed by Deputy Grand Master Deuel, and both reported their doings to the Grand Lodge.

Grand Master Irish reported a case where a brother was elected a W. M. of a Lodge in Nebraska while he was still a member of a Lodge in Connecticut, the Lodge and W. M. claiming that his election to that office constituted him a member. The Grand Master very properly decided that he was a member of the Connecticut Lodge.

Three Dispensations to open new Lodges were issued by the Grand Master, and a like number were granted by the Deputy Grand Master, and all received charters, as did another which had worked under Dispensation from previous year.

Measures were taken looking to the erection of a building to accommodate the Annual Communications of the Grand Lodge.

Harry P. Deuel was elected Grand Master, and R. W. Furnas was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Semi-Annual Communication, held December 29th, and Annual Communication held June 9th and 10th, 1869. Alexander M. Winn, M. W. Grand Master, and Horace Chase, R. W. Grand Secretary.

No business of importance was transacted at the semi-annual communication.

The Grand Master's report to the Annual Communication is very brief and of no general importance. One Dispensation for a new Lodge was issued. The same brevity and lack of general interest characterise all the proceedings. The jurisdiction is prosperous, quiet and happy, and needs no legislation. There were no differences to settle.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence reported that the Grand Orient of France, nor any other Masonic authority had the right to establish Lodges within the jurisdiction of an existing Grand Lodge. A favorable notice is given of the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

Alexander M. Winn was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and Horace Chase R. W. Grand Secretary.

NEW JERSEY.

Communication of 1870, commencing January 19th, and continuing two days.

Henry R. Cannon, M. W. Grand Master, and Joseph H. Hough, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master is principally devoted to local affairs. He enters warmly into the subject of representation near Grand Lodges, and regrets that "some decided effort had not been made to unite in the bonds of fraternal intercourse, the Grand Lodges of the country." He mentions the application of the Grand Lodge of Quebec for recognition, but recommends no particular action except reference to a committee. He proposes the same course with the Grand Orients of France and Italy, and also on petition of colored men claiming to be Masons, for reception into Lodges.

The last named petition was referred to the Committee on Jurisprudence, who reported that the matter was of so much importance that it could not be disposed of at that Communication, and recommended that it be referred to a special committee to report at the next Communication, which was agreed to.

The special committee, to whom was referred the correspondence from the Grand Orients of France and Italy, regretted that circumstances had recently occurred which precluded them from responding in as cordial terms as they would have been glad to use. Not having sufficient information concerning the Grand Orient of Italy, and the Grand Lodge of Quebec, they recommended that a special committee to sit during recess, be raised, to report at the next Communication, the Grand Lodge of Quebec remaining unrecognized, and it was so ordered.

The review of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, is short, fair and pointed.

Robert Rusling was elected Grand Master, and Joseph H. Hough, who has filled the office for thirty-two years, was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

NEW YORK.

Communication of 1870, commencing June 7th, and continuing four days. James Gibson, M. W. Grand Master, and James M. Austin, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master's address is lengthy, minute and exhaustive. He refers in fitting terms to the death of P. G. M. Robert D. Holmes, of whom he gives a brief biographical sketch. Seven Dispensations to open new Lodges were granted, and seventeen petitions for that purpose were denied. Much complaint has been made against Lodges in that jurisdiction for using material belonging to others. Correction of the wrong has been provided. The Grand Master complains of that fault in this jurisdiction, but says that ample reparation has been made.

A singular question was propounded to the Grand Master, and it was more foolish than singular. The query was, whether a member of a Lodge, called upon to testify in a court of justice, should testify to the truth when it would "injure or disgrace a brother, or a brother's wife." The Grand Master very properly decided that where a Mason had sworn to "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," he should not fail to do it.

A Lodge in New York buried a Mason who belonged to a Lodge in Indiana, charging the expenses to the Lodge to which the deceased belonged, which refused to pay the demand. The Grand Lodge of Indiana sustained the Lodge in the refusal. The Grand Master says that the action of the New York Lodge is that usually pursued by Lodges in that State. The Committee on Jurisprudence reported that one jurisdiction could not make laws for another, and so the matter stands.

The proceedings at laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Temple are given in full. They were imposing and impressive. The report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence is full and yet interesting. It contains a very flattering notice of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, and generally accedes to its decisions, but excepts to that which holds that a protest against the advancement of a brother is more permanent in its effect than an adverse ballot.

John H. Anthon was elected M. W. Grand Master, and James M. Austin R. W. Grand Secretary.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Communication of 1869, commencing December 6th, and continuing four days. Robert B. Vance, M. W. Grand Master, and Donald W. Bain, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master relates chiefly to local affairs, and in that regard is worthy of admiration. He reports general harmony and prosperity throughout the State.

Nine Dispensations for opening new Lodges were issued. The Grand Master recommends that the Deputy Grand Master be appointed by the superior officer; that the Grand Secretary be ex-officio chairman of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence; that fraternal intercourse be withdrawn from the Grand Orient of France. The last mentioned matter was reported upon by the Committee on Foreign Correspondence, who recommended the severance of Masonic intercourse with that Grand Orient. The report was adopted.

The report of the committee reviews the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois for 1868, and quotes largely from the address of the Grand Master.

Ninety-one Lodges in that State (North Carolina) have gone out of existence.

Robert B. Vance was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and Donald W. Bain R. W. Grand Secretary.

OHIO.

Communication of 1869, commencing October 19th, and continuing three days. Howard Matthews, M. W. Grand Master, and John D. Caldwell, R. W. Grand Secretary.

Fourteen Dispensations were issued for opening new Lodges. The report of the Grand Master is an able document. Two public discussions of the merits and demerits of Masonry have been held in Ohio, during the past year. We agree with the Grand Master when he says: "It is degrading the institution of Masonry, and humiliating to its friends, to see this public discussion of its merits." We hope to hear no more of it.

The invasion of the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana is spoken of in fitting terms, and action by the Grand Lodge is recommended. Accordingly the Grand Lodge prohibits all members of Lodges in its jurisdiction from holding Masonic intercourse or fraternal relations with those who claim to have received the Symbolic degrees through the so-called Supreme Council, chartered by the Grand Orient of France, which, in our opinion, is rather a mild way of discountenancing such a flagrant wrong. The Committee on Foreign Correspondence denounce the body in Louisiana, recognized by the Grand Orient, as clandestine.

Alexander H. Newcomb was elected M. W. Grand Master, and John D. Caldwell was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

OREGON.

Communication of 1869, commencing June 21st, and continuing three days. Avery W. Smith, M. W. Grand Master, and J. E. Hurford, R. W. Grand Secretary.

There was one Dispensation granted for opening a new Lodge.

The Grand Master decided that an Entered Apprentice, becoming maimed after initiation, is entitled to advancement; he laments there are so many non-affiliated Masons, and recommends that a resolution be passed making it the duty of Worshipful Masters of Lodges to notify such non-affiliates to prefer their petitions for membership, or show cause why they should not be expelled; suggests that a dimit should only be evidence of good standing, and not a clearance from the Lodge until deposited for membership; decides that a member has the right to object to the admission of a Mason not a member, and that the Worshipful Master must exclude all persons so objected to.

The Grand Lodge modified the recommendation of the Grand Master by abolishing all fees for affiliation, and making it the duty of subordinate Lodges to persuade those not members to become such; that if a member objects to the entrance of any Mason into his Lodge, he must prefer charges against him.

At the communication for 1870, commencing June 20th, and continuing three days, the Grand Master reports the issuing three Dispensations to open new Lodges.

Representatives near most of the Grand Lodges of the several States were appointed, R. W. Bro. O. H. Miner, being honored with the appointment in this jurisdiction.

The Committee on Jurisprudence say they could not report in the case of the Grand Lodge of Quebec. The Grand Orient of France was condemned, and fraternal intercourse prohibited with those Masons who owe it allegiance.

Conciliatory resolutions were passed relative to a difficulty with the Grand Lodge of Washington Territory.

D. G. Clark was elected M. W. Grand Master, and J. E. Hurford re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Communication for 1869. Richard Vaux, M. W. Grand Master, John Thompson, R. W. Grand Secretary.

There is nothing of general interest to be noticed in the proceedings of the Quarterly Communications. The Annual Communication opened on the 27th of December. There were two addresses by as many Grand Masters, the outgoing and the incoming.

Grand Master VAUX opposes with vehemence the system of the representation of Grand Lodges, by the appointment of representatives near them; takes ground with the Grand Lodge of Canada as against the Grand Lodge of Quebec; does not think much of the corroborative testimony to the truth of Masonic history said to have been found on the site of Salamis; eulogizes the Pennsylvania work; deprecates calling Masonry progressive, and closes in an eloquent peroration.

Grand Master LAMBERTON, who succeeded to the East, congratulates the Grand Lodge on the prospect of the erection of a Temple, which "will be peerless among Masonic edifices;" speaks wisely of the necessary qualifications of officers; enlarges on the proper use of the ballot, from which it is difficult to decide whether he would be stern and just, or mild and charitable; insists very unreasonably that D. D. Grand Masters should be qualified for their stations, recommends the Temple once more and closes.

The report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence occupies about a hundred and fifty pages, and is minute and verbose. If, as is stated in the document, "brevity is the soul of wit," we might be discouraged in searching in their report to find it. Illinois is noticed. The Committee offer a resolution to sever all Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient of France, and with all Masons owning fealty to that body, but as we do not find that the report was adopted, we have no right to conclude the regulation is in force.

ROBERT A. LAMBERTON, elected at a previous communication, was installed M. W. Grand Master, and JOHN THOMPSON was re-elected and installed R. W. Grand Secretary.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Communication of 1869, commencing on the 16th of November, and continuing two days. JAMES CONNER, M. W. Grand Master, and R. S. BRUNS, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master congratulates the Grand Lodge on the continued prosperity of the jurisdiction; states that its relations with other Grand Lodges are most friendly; that the objections to the recognition of the Grand Lodge of West Virginia had been removed, and recommends its recognition; says the Lodges generally ceased work during the war; that many of them lost their jewels and other property, and their members were scattered never to return. In 1865 but twenty-six Lodges were represented. The Grand Master expresses a fear of the too rapid increase of the Lodges, and of membership, and of too little care in the selection of material; recommends that names shall be given to Lodges which are not offensive to good taste; disapproves of the common use of dispensations to evade the by-laws, and states that he had refused to grant them except in extreme cases.

The Grand Master speaks in fitting, yet fraternal terms of the action of the Grand Orient of France in the recognition of the spurious body of clandestine Masons in the jurisdiction of Louisiana, and earnestly advises the Grand Lodge to stand by the right. He clearly shows that the issue between the two Grand Bodies, is not upon the question of race or color, but whether the Grand Orient of France has the Masonic right to establish Lodges within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Louisiana. If this may be done then it may be done everywhere, and fraternal intercourse and Masonry itself is at an end.

The recommendations of the Grand Master were concurred in, and all Masonic intercourse with the Grand Orient of France was discontinued.

JAMES CONNER was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and B. RUSH CAMPBELL was elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

TEXAS.

Communication of 1870, commencing June 13th, and continuing six days. PHILIP C. TUCKER, M. W. Grand Master, and GEORGE H. BRINGHURST, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master is lengthy, showing much labor, but principally devoted to local affairs. Dispensations were issued for opening ten new Lodges. A source of difficulty too common in all jurisdictions, was found in Texas. That Grand Lodge has settled the question that a candidate must not be maimed. A Lodge initiated one in that condition. The Grand Master arrested its charter, and the Grand Lodge approved the act.

The questions connected with the recognition of the Grand Lodge of Quebec are ably stated by the Grand Master, and fully set forth in the report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence. Its recognition was recommended, and it was so ordered. The Grand Lodge refused to recognize the "Grande Oriente della Masoneria, Italia," over which General Garibaldi presides.

The Grand Lodge decided that a dimit may be granted when the Lodge becomes too large; when the brother dimits to join another Lodge; or when he is about to remove, or has removed to the jurisdiction of another Lodge; in all other cases the Lodge shall be judge of the sufficiency of the cause. We suppose it is intended to say the brother has a right to demand a dimit when the specified causes exist, and the Lodge is bound to grant it.

The report of the Committee on Foreign Correspondence is an able and well condensed document, and reading it does not involve the digestion of a mass of irrelevant matter.

CLINTON M. WINKLER was elected M. W. Grand Master, and GEORGE H. BRINGHURST re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

VIRGINIA.

Communication of 1869, commencing December 13th, and continuing four days. WILLIAM TERRY, M. W. Grand Master, and JOHN DOVE, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master in his address grapples with the question of recognition of persons of color, claiming to be Masons. He says: "It is our right to exclude not only individuals but classes or races." He did not feel at liberty to consider the subject in recess, nor in any manner to forestall the action of the Grand Lodge. He closes on the subject by saying: "There is no halfway ground. To grant the right of representation in any form, or on any condition, is a clear recognition of their Masonic existance, and would be the entering wedge to a complete and final breaking down of all distinctions of race or color." The Grand Master recommends nothing.

The committee appointed for that purpose reported that an amicable and truly Masonic adjustment of the difficulty with the Grand Lodge of West Virginia, had been consummated.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of the recognition of colored persons claiming to be Masons, reported that if Masons at all, they were illegally such, as they said they had received the degrees in a Lodge in Virginia which was chartered by a Grand Lodge having no jurisdiction. They could not, therefore, be recognized. A resolution in harmony with the report was adopted. A resolution was also passed sustaining the Grand Lodge of Louisiana in her jurisdiction, as against the Grand Orient of France.

Eighteen dispensations to open new Lodges were granted, fifteen of which received charters at the Grand Communication.

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence made no report, but the Grand Secretary acknowledges the receipt of copies of the proceedings of Grand Lodges, among them being those of Illinois.

T. F. Owens was elected M. W. Grand Master, and John Dove re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

RHODE ISLAND.

Annual Communication of 1869, commencing May 16th. Thomas A. Doyle, M. W. Grand Master, and Charles D. Greene, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The address of the Grand Master is brief and confined to local subjects. A Dispensation to open a new Lodge was issued, and a hall was dedicated by the Grand Master. He recommended that steps be taken to erect a new Masonic Temple, and a committee was raised for that purpose.

The deaths of an uncommonly large number of aged Masons, are announced. Pardon Sayles, aged 84; Jonathan Ballou, 79; John W. Hill, 70; James Coffin, 81; John W. Davis, 70; William Field, 73; Charles Cotton, 82; Remington Arnold, 72; George Taft, 78. We doubt if similar instances of longevity can be found in any other body.

Thomas A. Doyle was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and Edward B. Knight, R. W. Grand Secretary.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Communication of 1869, commencing September 16th, and continuing three days. Benj. E. Lombard, M. W. Grand Master, and Thomas M. Reed, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master reports that he has visited all the chartered Lodges in his jurisdiction, and found harmony and fraternity prevailing. One Dispensation to open a new Lodge was granted. The address closes with the expression of profund regret that the difficulty between the Grand Lodges of Washington and Oregon still remains unadjusted

The Grand Secretary reports that no Committee on Foreign Correspondence was appointed at the last Comunication, and believes the Grand Lodge was not so unfortunate as it was forgetful. We cannot find it in our heart to dissent from the opinion of the Grand Secretary.

No definite action was taken upon the Franco-Louisiana case, it having been referred to a committee, who failed to report.

W. H. Troup was elected M. W. Grand Master, and Thomas M. Reed was re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Communication of 1869, commencing November 9th, and continuing two days. William J. Bates, M. W. Grand Master, and Thomas H. Logan, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master announces a prosperous state of affairs in his jurisdiction; congratulates the Grand Lodge on the happy termination of the dispute with the Grand Lodge of Virginia; reports five Lodges opened by dispensation; pronounces the action of the Grand Orient of France towards Louisiana to be utterly without authority, and announces the deaths of several Brethren well known in Grand Lodge.

A flattering and fraternal notice is given by the Committee on Foreign Correspondence of the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Illinois.

William J. Bates was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and Thomas H. Logan re-elected R W. Grand Secretary.

WISCONSIN.

Communication of 1870, commencing June 14th, and continuing three days. Gabriel Bouck, M. W. Grand Master, and William T. Palmer, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master in his address at once attacks the work before him, and performs it in handsome style. Four Dispensations for new Lodges were granted, and six for the same purpose were refused. Of three opened, the petitioners were required to furnish the necessary funds to put the Lodges in working order, with furniture, etc., with the pledge not to receive payment therefor at any future period.

The Grand Master and the Grand Lecturer are at issue on the subject of instruction in the work, the chief officer adopting the "school system," and the Grand Lecturer favoring the "visiting method."

The Grand Master is evidently in favor of short sessions. He recommended the communication should be closed on the morning of the third day, and the Grand Lodge complied with his suggestion.

The Grand Master decided that a man who enlists in the army of the United States, and serves out of the State, when he returns is not eligible for the degrees of Masonry until he shall have resided in the State for two years thereafter. Is not that rather oppressive? The legal residence of such a person would remain where it was at the time of his enlistment. Should Masonry be more severe than the statute law?

The Committee on Foreign Correspondence give the jurisdiction of Illinois a fair and just notice, though it hints that our "Lodges of Past Masters" were a rather unnecessary excrescence on the body of Masonry. A very full history of the Canada-Quebec difficulty is given.

Gabriel Bouck was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and William T. Palmer re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

LOUISIANA.

Communication of 1870, commencing February 14th, and continuing five days. Samuel M. Todd, M. W. Grand Master, and J. B. Batchelor, R. W. Grand Secretary.

The Grand Master represents Masonry as enjoying a healthful prosperity in his State; that there are evidences of a wise discrimination in the admission of candidates; that there are few instances of defection from the principles of Masonry among the members; speaks feelingly of the demise of some of the old members of the Grand Lodge; reports the appointment of several representatives near other Grand Lodges, and conveys the intelligence that the Grand Orient of France persists in recognizing the clandestine Lodges in that jurisdiction, but hopes that justice will finally be done in that important regard.

The question of physical qualification having arisen, the Grand Master decided that "We want, and want only, men who can, in case of need, be able, physically, to meet all the obligations they may be called upon to take," and that the Lodge is the proper judge of what constitutes that ability. We think the decision is sound and Masonic.

The Grand Master recommends that members in arrears be charged with with-holding money due the Lodge, and duly punished according to Masonic usage instead of being silently dropped. All of the decisions of the Grand Master were approved by the Grand Lodge.

An attempt to produce a complete history of Masonry in Louisiana has thus far proved abortive, though it is yet hoped the project will be successful.

Dispensations for opening six new Lodges were issued. The Grand Lodge of West Virginia having been recognized by the Grand Master, the Grand Lodge approved the decision.

SAMUEL M. TODD was re-elected M. W. Grand Master, and JAMES C. BATCHELOR re-elected R. W. Grand Secretary.

ENGLAND.

The record of proceedings of a single quarterly communication of the "United Grand Lodge of England" was laid before the Committee. It took place on June 1st, 1870. Right Honorable the EARL OF ZETLAND, P. G. M., presiding.

An interesting discussion on the desirableness of a perfect uniformity of work, was had on a motion to create a committee to secure that object. The prevailing opinion seemed to be that entire uniformity was not attainable, and hardly desirable. After a pretty thorough discussion, the appointment of the committee was indefinitely postponed.

The greater portion of the Communication was occupied in the examination of cases presented as proper objects of charity, and in the bestowment upon those which were found to be worthy.

FRANCE.

Though not strictly in our province, yet the doings of one of the most assuming, if not the most powerful Masonic bodies in the world, are of sufficient importance to merit a passing remark. From official sources we learn that there are 314 subordinate Lodges working under the auspices of the Grand Orient, of which twelve are in Algeria, ten in the colonies, and thirty-three in foreign countries. Five of these have recently been established in Hungary.

We find in the report that the Grand Lodge of Hanover has been abolished. Eighteen Lodges working under the clandestine supreme council within the jurisdiction of Louisiana, are reported.

An attempt was made to abolish the office of Grand Master, and to substitute a kind of Directory, but the project has thus far failed. We can scarcely refrain from the belief that there is a political feeling at the foundation of the movement. It may be stated as throwing light on this point, that in the Orient of Paris, a Lodge, by resolution, most emphatically condemns the war raging between France and Germany, saying there is nothing by which the sacrifices of lives and treasure demanded of France can be justified, and that he who dared to sacrifice the ideas of right and liberty to the phantoms of power and glory, has nothing in common with a people's cause. The Lodge invites all French Masons to join in the protest.

August 8th, 1870, the Grand Orient of France issued a circular, under the signature of the Grand Master of France, to all brothers and companions, calling on them to immediately commence an international subscription, in behalf of worthy Masons and their families, whether in the army or navy, without distinction of nationality.

In no paper that has come before your committee is there the slightest hint given of the withdrawal of fraternal intercourse by the American Grand Lodges with the Grand Orient of French Masonry, nor is any action observable indicating an appreciation of the foul wrong perpetrated against a sovereign Grand Lodge in the State of Louisiana. There is but one way for American Masons to proceed, and that is to enforce the edicts of non-intercourse to the letter.

ITALY.

Masonry has progressed greatly since 1859, within the jurisdiction of this Grand Masonic Body, and especially under the United Government. Since that period Masonry has been allowed to appear in public, where before it was compelled to secrete itself from its enemies. From the names of men who are holding positions in the administration of political affairs, and also known to be high in the rank and the confidence of the Fraternity, we conclude that Masonry has had much to do in ameliorating the severity of kingly rule, and that its good results are being seen in the practical affairs of life.

Masonry gave the first powerful impulse to provide for general education in Italy. FRAPOLI, the Grand Master of Masons in that country, was instrumental in procuring the issue of a decree bearing date August 11th, 1868, establishing a National Association for public instruction, thus proving that Masonry is the same everywhere—ready to spread light among those who are in darkness.

It is with pleasure that we are able to report that there is a strong probability that a permanent and fraternal union will be soon effected between the Grand Orient of the symbolic rite at Florence, whose head is that well-known dignitary of the Order, Grand Master FRAPOLI, and that Grand Body which is resident at Palermo, and is presided over by General GARIBALDI.

Under the jurisdiction of the Grand Orient at Florence, there are now 150 working Lodges, spread over both continents, there being some in South America, some in Africa, while the larger number is to be found in Italy. This Grand Orient is in fraternal communication with most, if not all of the Masonic Grand Bodies in Europe, as well as in the Western Hemisphere, and especially with those in the United States. The Grand Lodges of the District of Columbia, of the States of Indiana, Louisana, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Alabama, Iowa and Tennessee have representatives near the Grand Orient at Florence.

It is reported, we are not advised on what authority, that the Grand Orient of Italy has already been established in the Eternal City, and that hereafter its edicts will be issued from the same place, which has so often sent forth anathemas against the order. The world moves.

MASONRY IN GERMANY.

The changes in the condition and prospects of Masonry in Germany since 1866 have scarcely been less great than the changes in the political status of the same country, wrought by the battles of Sadowa and Koeniggratz, and the treaty of Prague, as far as relates to the territories concerned in that war which were annexed to the Prussian Empire, Hanover, Hessen, and other minor principalities, and the hitherto free city of Frankfort-on-the-Main.

All the Lodges that are working under the Grand Orient of Berlin enjoy the protectorate of King William, and are allowed to exist under laws promulgated towards the end of the last century, regulating the affairs of the order.

Since the annexation of Hanover the Grand Lodge of that Kingdom has been abolished, and its subordinate Lodges were directed to place themselves under the direction of one of the three Grand Lodges of Berlin. In a similar condition are the Lodges of the other principalities. It is, however, expected that these affairs will be soon arranged to the satisfaction of all parties.

We observe from documents before us, that the convention of Grand Masters was this year, as heretofore, well attended, and measures pertaining to the good of the order were discussed. The following Grand Bodies were represented:

The National Grand Lodge of the Three Globes was represented by Grand Master MESSERSCHMIDT and Deputy Grand Master BOREMAN.

The Grand Lodge of Prussia, at Berlin, by Grand Master VON DACHRODEN.

The Grand Lodge Royal York Zur Freundschaft, by Grand Master SCHNAKENBURG.

The Grand Lodge of Hamburg, by Grand Master BUCK and his Deputy.

The Eclectic Grand Lodge, of Frankfort-on-the-Main, by Grand Master HOERSTER and Senior Grand Warden PAUL.

The Grand Lodge of Darmsdadt Concordia, by Grand Master PFALZ and Deputy Grand Master SEJEKUN.

The Grand Lodge of Saxony, by Grand Master WARNATZ and Senior Grand Warden SHERBER.

At this convention it was agreed to collect from Masonic documents the landmarks of Masonry, and make them the standard by which all Lodges in Germany should be governed. Another proposition, having in view a more intimate connection with Grand Lodges in foreign countries, was adopted. The question concerning Supreme Councils and the higher orders was postponed.

No Masonic communication is held between the Grand Lodges of Germany and the Grand Orients of France and Belgium, in consequence of the circulars issued by Grand Master MELLINET regarding the refusal to admit candidates on account of their religion, in the German States, and in America on account of their color. With the Grand Orient of Belgium intercourse was severed, because in that country political and religious topics were allowed to be introduced in their Lodges.

From the evidence furnished us, we are led to the belief that Masonry in Germany is in a flourishing condition, and since the Emperor JOSEPH obtained light in Masonry legal restraints have been removed, and the Order is permitted to shine and bless in the dominion of the Hapsburg.

The desire for friendly and fraternal relations on the part of the Orient of Berlin, is shown in the appointment as representative near this Grand Lodge, R. W. Bro. JOHN N. NIGLAS, whose status will be officially announced at the present communication.

There are Lodges springing up in most of the principal towns and cities of Austria. They are known as Clubs, the greater part of these being in Vienna, known as Humanitos. It is to be hoped that since the regeneration of Austria has commenced, the light may be diffused and darkness be forever banished from the land. In Hungary, Masonry has a legal existence and the Brethren meet in Lodges, and among them are the first patriots of the nation.

MASONRY IN SPAIN.

Masonry was introduced into Spain at the beginning of the last century, and met with opposition, despotism and tyranny at once and ever since. The Brethren, under the rule of bigoted Bourbons, were arrested, thrown into dungeons and murdered. But the Order survived, and the blood of the murdered martyrs seemed to be the seed for new members. Since the late revolution, which overthrew the throne of Queen Isabella, the condition of Masonry has changed. Having been compelled before to meet on high hills and in low vales, the Order is now welcomed at the capital, and embraces men of every rank in society, representing intellect, wealth and industry. We learn, also, that in a short time a Grand Lodge of Spain will be formed, and a periodical has already been established called "Colmena," or "The Rock," which is exerting a benificent influence and will do much to establish Masonic principles where bigotry and darkness have reigned sovereign for centuries.

MASONRY IN PORTUGAL.

Until very recently it was not known that Masonry had a strong hold in Portugal, and the Grand Orient of Lusitania, in the city of Lisbon, was supposed to be the sum of Masonic strength. But it has been recently ascertained that there are other Lodges in that city who derive their charters from Grand Lodges of other countries.

By the published transactions of the Grand Orient of Lusitania for 1869, we are certified of the existence, in that kingdom, of another high Masonic power, the Grand Orient of Portugal.

It is exceedingly gratifying to every lover of Masonry to learn that these Grand Bodies have taken the preliminary steps to consummate a satisfactory union, and it is to be hoped that it will soon take place, and that when united, that the Kingdom of Portugal will be a land enlightened, liberalized and blessed by the benign influences of Masonry.

CONCLUSION.

Your committee in concluding their report cannot forego the opportunity presented to congratulate the Fraternity everywhere on the progress and prosperity of Masonry, as universal as humanity, as beneficent as charity; it warms the affections, strengthens the resolutions and beautifies the lives of its members everywhere, bringing joy to the sorrowing, hope to the despairing, and help to all who want. May it exist forever.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. ROUNSEVILLE,
JOHN C. BAGBY,
JOHN C. W. BAILEY,
Committee.

MEMORIAL—RANTOUL LODGE.

R. W. Bro. ASHLEY, D. D. G. M., presented a memorial from sundry members of the late Rantoul Lodge No. 470, praying that the charter of said Lodge might be restored.

Upon motion of R. W. Bro. CUNNINGHAM, D. D. G. M., the memorial was referred to the Committee on Chartered Lodges.

RESOLUTION—DIPLOMAS AND CERTIFICATES.

The Grand Lodge resumed consideration of the resolution, offered by M. W. Bro. BROMWELL, P. G. M., regarding Diplomas and Certificates.

After a lengthy discussion pro and con, the resolution was adopted.

REPORT—KNOXVILLE RESOLUTIONS.

R. W. Bro. BAGBY (9), from the committee to whom had been referred the resolutions offered by Knoxville Lodge No. 66, (Page 118, Proceedings 1869,) submitted the following majority report:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Illinois:

Your committee to whom was referred the Preamble and Resolutions found on page 118 of the published proceedings of this Grand Lodge for 1869, would report:

That they have had the matter under consideration, and after mature deliberation, and in view of the ample provision now made by law for the gratuitous education of all the children of this State under our common school system, your committee feel constrained to recommend that the further consideration of said resolution be indefinitely postponed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN C. BAGBY,
A. T. DARRAH.

Bro. MARTIN, (66) from the same Committee, dissented from the report in words as follows:

"The undersigned cannot concur in the foregoing report, but does not deem it expedient to occupy the time of the Grand Lodge by presenting a minority report."

A. W. MARTIN.

REPORT—COMMITTEE ON MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

R. W. Bro. CUNNINGHAM, D. D. G. M., from the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, to whom had been referred the "Resolutions in Force," submitted the following report:

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons:

Your Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, to whom was referred various resolutions heretofore adopted by this Grand Lodge, and known in the printed proceedings as "Resolutions in Force," would respectfully report that they have carefully considered the same and their origin:

They find that the object of the adoption of Resolution No. One, having been accomplished in the compilation and publication by W. Bro. JOHN C. REYNOLDS, of a creditable "History of Masonry in Illinois," recommend that it be dropped.

They find that while the principle expressed in Resolution No. Five, is good, yet while the issue of Dispensations is a prerogative of the Grand Master, with which the Grand Lodge cannot interfere except by amending the Constitution, recommend that said resolution be rescinded leaving the issue of Dispensations, in the wise discretion of the Grand Master.

Your Committee also find that in their opinion the continued existence of Resolutions Nos. Six, Nine, Ten and Twelve, in relation to the work known as the conservators work, serves only to keep in mind the recollections of an era of ill-feeling now happily passed, and therefore recommend that they be dropped.

The Committee find that Resolutions Nos. Seven, Eight, Fourteen and Fifteen being only the expression of opinion of the law and of policy to be pursued for the time, need not further encumber our printed proceedings, and therefore recommend that they be dropped.

Your Committee have had their attention especially called to Resolutions Nos. Two, Three, Four, Eleven, Thirteen, Sixteen, Seventeen and from Eighteen to Thirty-three inclusive, and find that while the regulations sought to be established thereby are good and wholesome, and they have, so far as the Committee are advised, been obeyed as law, yet owing to the manner of their adoption, have, in the opinion of the Committee, no binding force. Section 86 of the By-Laws of this Grand Lodge wisely provides that no alteration or amendment shall take place in the By-Laws except the amendment be proposed in writing at a regular meeting of the Grand Lodge, spread upon the minutes and printed proceedings; and if a majority of the members at the next regular Communication shall agree to the same, it shall become a part of the By-Laws. In the opinion of this Committee any regulation aiming at the dignity of a By-Law, must take the course here indicated, or be of no force. Therefore deeming the objects arrived at in the resolutions last above named, wholesome and desirable, they have embodied the same in the form of amendments to the By-Laws, appended them hereto, and recommend them for adoption as such.

The Committee believe that the practice of adopting resolutions intended to govern the action of the officers or members of the Grand Lodge, or of subordinate Lodges, and which practically amount to amendments to the Constitution or By-Laws, is subject to great abuse and ought not to be tolerated.

Your Committee have likewise had under consideration the subject of a Board of Examiners, provided for in Resolutions Thirty-two and Thirty-three, and believe the right exists in the Grand Master to call to his aid any Master Mason, and to incur any reasonable expense in maintaining and teaching the work, but that such appointment does not make the persons so appointed members of this Grand Lodge, nor is a provision by the Grand Lodge for their appointment necessary.

Your Committee have likewise considered the recommendation of Grand Master Gorin, made in 1867, and concurred in by the Grand Lodge of that year, that Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts not applying for advancement within one year be dropped from the rolls, said to have the force of a "Resolution in Force," and, believing that the relation of Entered Apprentices and Fellow Crafts to their Lodges cannot be thus summarily severed, recommend that the same be dropped.

Your Committee have likewise had under consideration the subject of non-intercourse with the Grand Orient of France, declared in resolution No. Thirty-four. They believe it is likewise the province of the Grand Master, for what may to him seem good cause, to withdraw official connection from any body of Masons, and in like manner to renew such intercourse; therefore, believing such resolution has served its purpose, recommend that it be dropped, leaving it to the Grand Master to renew official communication with the Grand Orient of France when, in his opinion, such recognition shall be proper.

All of which is fraternally submitted.

AMENDMENTS TO THE BY-LAWS SUBMITTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

The following amendments to the By-Laws are proposed by the Committee:

Amend Section Seven (7) by adding, after the last word, the words "Any Lodge failing to comply with the requirements of this section shall forfeit its claim for mileage and per diem for its representative in the Grand Lodge."

Amend Section Eleven (11) by striking out all in relation to Committees on Appeals and Grievances, Mileage and Per Diem, on Lodges Under Dispensation, and on Chartered Lodges.

Amend Section Eleven (11) further by adding, after the word "referred," in the third (3rd) line of the sixth (6th) clause, the following: "To destroy all paid Grand Lodge orders surrendered to them by the Grand Treasurer, after being satisfied that the same has been paid, cancelled and listed, and their report on the same has been approved by the Grand Lodge."

Amend Section Twelve (12) by adding, after the third (3rd) clause of the same, as "Fourth" (4th), "Fifth" (5th), "Sixth" (6th) and "Seventh" (7th), respectively, the clauses in Section Eleven (11) pertaining to Committees on Lodges Under Dispensation, on Chartered Lodges, on Appeals and Grievances, and on Mileage and Per Diem.

Amend Section Twelve (12) further by adding, after the seventh (7th) clause thus provided for, the following: "All of which committees shall assemble at the call of the Grand Master."

Amend Section Twelve (12) further by striking out the word "three," wherever it appears in the second line, and insert the word "seven."

Amend Section Thirteen (13) by adding, after the last word, the words: "Which petition shall not be acted upon by said Lodges until the same shall have been presented at a regular meeting and laid on the table for one month."

Amend Section Eighteen (18) by adding to the same the words: "And the Secretaries of such Lodges shall record at length with the proceedings, the Dispensation under which the Lodge is convened, and when chartered, the Secretary shall likewise record at length the charter."

Amend Section Thirty-three (33) by adding to it the following words: "When two or more Lodges desire to consolidate their membership into one Lodge, they may do so by taking one of the names and one of the numbers of said Lodges, and officially informing the Grand Master of such action; that upon such consolidation being perfected, the title to the property of the two Lodges shall be vested in said consolidated Lodge, and a new special charter shall be issued by the Grand Master to said Lodge by its new name and number without fee: Provided, that no proposition looking to such consolidation shall be acted upon by any Lodge until the same shall have been presented at a regular meeting and laid on the table for one month; and, Provided further, that such consolidation shall only be effected by the unanimous consent of all members present when such proposition shall be acted upon."

Amend Section Thirty-five (35) by adding, after the word "to," in the first line, the following words: "Receive any petition for membership, or the degrees, unless the petitioner shall in such cases set forth whether he has or has not made application to any other Lodge for initiation or admission."

Amend Section Thirty-five (35) by adding the following paragraph: "When the petition of a non-affiliated Mason for membership in any Lodge in whose jurisdiction he may reside shall be rejected, he may again petition the same or any other Lodge for membership without regard to time. In towns or cities in this jurisdiction where two or more Lodges exist, upon the presentation of any petition to any Lodge in such town or city, either for membership or the degrees, notice shall at once be given to each Lodge in such town or city of the presentation of such petition, and of the time when the same will be acted upon."

Amend Section Thirty-six (36) by adding the words: "Nor shall any petition for membership, or the degrees, be received unless the petitioner shall have signed the same with his full name; and all Lodges are required to preserve in their records the full name of each person hereafter becoming members thereof."

Amend Section Forty (40) by adding the following: "And all Lodges are expressly forbidden to confer either of the degrees, or to transact any other business, save such as pertains to a Lodge of Sorrow, on the Sabbath day."

Amend Section Forty-six (46) by adopting in its stead the following:

SECTION 46. "No candidate shall receive more than one degree on the same day without a dispensation from the Grand Master; and no candidate for the second and third degrees shall be advanced to such degrees unless, upon examination in open Lodge, he shall show a satisfactory knowledge of the lectures of the degree upon which he stands, except upon like dispensation; nor shall any Lodge confer any degree upon more than one candidate at the same time."

Amend Section Forty-nine (49) by adding thereto the following: "That no Lodge may interfere with the right of private ballot; and if a member of a Lodge expresses to the Worshipful Master an objection to conferring a degree upon a petitioner, even after such petitioner shall have been elected to such degree, such candidate shall stand as rejected; and shall be so entered of record and shall so stand, until such objection is withdrawn; nor can the reasons for such objection be demanded. Where a candidate for the second and third degrees has been rejected by the Lodge, such rejection shall not debar him from applying for such degree at the next or any subsequent meeting."

Amend Section Sixty-one (61) by adding after the last word the following; "And will likewise sustain any Lodge in administering any reasonable punishment upon any member who shall attempt to give the aid of Masonry in organized or individual form to any lottery or gift enterprise."

Amend Section Eighty-one (81) by adopting in its place the following:

SECTION 81. "This Grand Lodge hereby interdicts all recognition of all persons claiming to hail from Lodges within the bounds of the United States or of British America, unless such Lodges are directly subordinate to the Grand Lodges in correspondence with this Grand Body, in the State, Territory, Dominion or District from whence they hail."

Add to the By-Laws the following Section:

SECTION — "When for any reason the charter of any Lodge shall be annulled, the Grand Secretary may, upon being satisfied that any member of such Lodge, free of charges and in good standing, has paid all dues against him, issue to such member a dimit under the seal of this Grand Lodge. And the Grand Secretary may in like manner issue dimits to Masons made in Lodges under dispensation, when, for any reason such dispensations have been returned and no charter granted to such Lodge."

Under the operation of Section 86 of the By-Laws, the amendments lie over until the next Annual Grand Communication.

NUMBER 20.

Your Committee have patiently and carefully examined all the evidence in the case of the removal of MECHANICSBURG LODGE No. 299, from Mechanicsburg to Buffalo, and are of the opinion that such removal was unnecessary and detrimental to the interests of the Craft at Mechanicsburg. That Buffalo being within three miles of Dawson Lodge No. 556, the territorial jurisdiction of the latter has been invaded without its consent and against its desire.

We believe that the spirit and intent of the law, if not its letter, require that no Lodge can be removed to a new location without the concurrence of the nearest Lodges, and that the same law governs this class of cases as is prescribed for the organization of new Lodges.

We therefore recommend the adoption of the following, to-wit;

Resolved, That the Grand Secretary notify the Brethren at Buffalo to return the charter, records, and property of every nature belonging to said Lodge, to Mechanicsburg within thirty days from the reception of said notice, and that the M. W. Grand Master see that said notice is complied with.

RECEPTION—GRAND SECRETARY WISCONSIN.

W. Bro. JOHN C. REYNOLDS, D. G. S., introduced to the M. W. Grand Master, and through him to the M. W. Grand Lodge, R. W. Bro. WILLIAM T. PALMER, Grand Secretary of the M. W. Grand Lodge of Wisconsin.

The M. W. Grand Master received him with appropriate remarks, and invited him to a seat in the East.

READING OF MINUTES DISPENSED WITH.

On motion of W. Bro. REYNOLDS, D. G. S., the reading of the minutes of the second day's session was dispensed with.

ORATION.

M. W. Bro. BROMWELL, P. G. M., delivered the Annual Oration as follows:

Justice, Most Worshipful Grand Master, is the glory of kings, the excellence of judges, and the jewel of the Grand Master. To the king it gives the right to command: to the judge to determine; and to the Grand Master to rule and govern.

Kings who are wise strive for its possession, judges seek to acquire it, and the Grand Master if he attain it has attained to more than all beside; but it belongs in its extent and completeness to the Almighty, and to him alone.

Kings may turn back on this glory of the crown; judges despise this honor of the ermine; Grand Masters dishonor this jewel of the East; but he to whom justice belongs in supreme perfection will make sure of its vindication, against the presumption or insolence of any.

Justice is the fourth point in the Masonic circumambulation, being last and most signal of them all; which four stand in this order, Temperance, Fortitude, Prudence, and Justice; and it may be said that he who has arrived at this point in his Masonic progress, is worthy and well qualified to command with kings, sit in counsel with Judges, and vie among Grand Masters as Most Worshipful of all.

Justice is not the first; for how can a man be just except he be first endowed with prudence? The imprudent man cannot be just, for justice requires discernment and supervision of the thoughts. The mind of the just must not be ensnared by mere appearances, nor surprised by the sudden upturning of unlooked for events, nor discomposed by the confusion of disorderly surroundings.

And how can one be prudent who is destitute of fortitude? For he that is without fortitude has not courage to determine, and for want of decision of character is pressed to and fro, and wavers and stumbles, and often falls in the same disaster with the foolish. This is what is meant by the sixty strong men constantly guarding the bed of king Solomon, to protect him from the evil designs of the foolish.

And who has fortitude but he who first has mastered and applied the lesson of temperance? For he who is without temperance is without that government of his own appetites and passions necessary to self-control in the moment of alarm and danger.

Hence temperance goes before fortitude, fortitude before prudence, and prudence before justice.

According to our Masonic system, which is externally perfected according to all the art, order, and connection of the material, or outward and visible universe, that it may properly represent internally the mysteries of the mental universe which is interior, and the moral universe which is inmost; the four cardinal points of virtue are fixed in correspondence with the four cardinal points of the terrestrial sphere, south, west, north and east.

Temperance in the south. Here stands continually the Junior Warden, whose duty is to "look well to the south," that is, to maintain active supervision over all the Craft—that is, over all the appetites and passions—to see that they do not convert the means of refreshment to the purposes of intemperance and excess; for the means of refreshment are of divine appointment, and are a part of the Masonic system. Besides, the whole Craft signify all the powers, faculties, passions and activities of a man in their complex, which have their seasons of exercise, rest and refreshment; so that the whole body of Masons is as one man, of whom the Master is head, and the Wardens are the hands, and the Junior Warden is the left hand, and the Senior Warden is the right; consequently the Junior governs the Craft at refreshment, as the left side signifies the will, appetites and passions; and the Senior governs the Craft at labor, as the right side signifies intelligence, wisdom and power, by which the work is wrought in order.

Fortitude in the west, for the Senior Warden stands in the west, as the pillar of strength; and fortitude is moral strength. He whose charge is to "look well to the west," must stand at the west, acting as the right hand of the Masonic body, to pay the Craft their wages, for wages make plenty, and the west is the sign of plenty, because when the sun is in the west at the close of day mankind receive their wages, whereby is plenty, which is strength.

So also at the sunset of life, those who have wrought well by the level, plumb and square, that is, in humility, uprightness and justice through the hours of their allotted day on earth, receive their wages, in the approbation and blessing of the Grand Architect of the Universe upon their labors.

Prudence in the north, for the north is the place of darkness—that is of secresy or hiding—not the place of ignorance as some suppose and teach, but of darkness signifying concealment; and this is the part of prudence. For it is the first lesson of prudence to keep secrets; and the philosophers of all ages have taught that none need hope to attain to wisdom who lack this hermetic qualification. The Holy Writings also reiterate this doctrine, for it is there expressly said, "he that revealeth secrets shall be sawn asunder;" and again, "It is the glory of God to conceal a thing, but the honor of kings to search out a matter."

Hence prudence is an essential virtue; and only he that is possessed of temperance and fortitude can attain to prudence; and only he who has all these can aspire to be just.

Justice in the east, for in the east rises the Worshipful Master, bearing the supreme jewel, the square—an angle of ninety degrees, or fourth part of a circle—the symbol of justice, which is committed to the Worshipful Master, that rising in the east before the Lodge, as the sun in his course upon the earth to open and govern the day, he may with like order and regularity rule and govern his Lodge in justice.

At such a time the sacred jewel of the square, shines upon the breast of the Master in its complete symbolic Masonic significance. Here in this seat of power and authority, elevated above all and emblazoned by the simplest yet most august symbol known to man, the sacred letter G where the mystic gavel repeats the symbolic strokes by which the walls and parts of the temple are put together; is placed the sublime, supreme, and immovable jewel, showing forth the divine principle of justice.

I speak to you to-day of justice because our Institution sees proper to attribute to this virtue the highest place of honor and distinction known to its system of symbols or government. I speak of justice because if this be wanting no system of whatsoever kind can possibly endure; and because to the absence of this may be attributed almost entirely the cruelties, barbarities, despotisms, wars, conquests and desolations which have scourged, and lacerated and devoured society from the beginning.

It is only where justice reigns that peace can dwell. She is an outcast from every other dominion. She can seek redress at no other throne—she leads her train of benefactions to no other realm. In the temple of justice only she scatters her precious offerings and whispers her beautitudes; and bids her angels wave their odorous censers, and wake the melody of their golden-lipped instruments about its altar.

For where justice is, the virtues gather together from the four quarters of the heavens, beside her evenly-poised scale. Temperance, Fortitude and Prudence stand in order with the pitcher the pillar and the glass—there Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth, pour corn, and wine and oil; friendship presents her tessera, hope plants her anchor, harmony attunes her concords, and religion sheds her golden sunlight over all the hallowed ground.

What picture does the history of the human race present? A shifting scene of treachery, rapine, oppression, vengeance, suffering, despair and death! Ever passing with unabated swiftness on a stage wide as a world with all its continents, and unceasing as the march of years.

The fierce assaults of ambitious rulers who leave trampling on their crushed and wailing subjects to grapple in deadly contest with each other for power and dominion over wasted and unhappy lands—the death struggles of subjugated nations sinking in ruin and despair—the phrenzied uprisings of others against the bloody power of leagued and heartless tyrants—the merciless combats of exasperated factions hastening to destroy what even their tyrants might have spared—armies marching through scorching deserts and icy wastes to tear each other hearts with vengeful missels—chained captives dragged naked and bleeding over stony fields, made bare and sterile by the hand of man. Behold all this and you behold the work of selfishness that universal and continent of all sin and wrong, whose very life is in the overthrow of justice and its extermination in the earth.

Could any of these things have been, had justice been the motive principle of rulers and of men? Had rulers been just to their people and to each other, could the blood-written pages of history have surcharged all the libraries of earth, and outnumbered all others written by man, merely to preserve a glimpse of infinite confusion, conflict and crime?

Who would have seen or heard of the rivers of blood which have run down the furrows of every land, the trampled harvests, the demolished cities, the desolated homes, the perished arts, or the man made deserts wide as kingdoms, which tell the story of inhuman wars?

Had justice prevailed among men from the first, who can conceive a picture of the grand advances made by man in all the domain of government, philosophy, science and the arts? What cultured nations would now dwell in peace and prosperity, where the wild beast and savage contend for possession of desert and jungle? What ancient cities, more magnificent than Babylon or hundred-gated Thebes, would still sit serenely amid their palaces and temples, unmarred as when their capstones were borne aloft in the old and wondrous ages of poesy and fable? What vineyards, which bloomed when Abram was a watcher of the stars in Ur of the Chaldees, would still offer their ripening clusters to dwellers of the same villages in which Zoroaster might have rested in his journeyings? What great bridges, whose builders walked with the founders of Nineveh or Damascus, might to-day throw their lofty arches for the transit of costly wares and busy multitudes over the rivers of now lonely lands?

What works of art multiplied to infinity, would grace the stately scenes of a thousand capitals, now piles of dust and rubbish, the sepulchres of vanished nations? What libraries, more ancient that the pillars of Luxor, still preserving their infinite treasures, would prolong the history of contented generations who knew no rivalry but in the arts of peace? How the long lines of rulers would now sleep in order in their honored sepulchres, amid worthy companions, artists, poets, philosophers, statesmen, and divines, who bore with them the labors of humanity's progress, and shared the plaudits and remembrance of a faithful people.

But alas! it has never been and never can be so. The world will not be just. From the ruler on his throne, to the servant with his burden, who of all can speak of justice save as of the unseen and unattainable? Yet always the good and bad alike speak for justice. All testify to its divinity and against the race. Kings and emperors proclaim it as the object of their ambition. Law givers declare it the aim of their promulgations. Statesmen profess to act for no other end. The warrior challenges his foe in an appeal for this. The poet chants and the orator discourses to manifest its excellency. Judges sit in council to pronounce its vindication, while priest and mufti, rabbi and evangelist enjoin its supremacy under all the sanctions which religion or superstition can impose. From palace and cathedral, mosque and synagogue, chapel and pagoda, senate-house and forum, one voice rises in witness for justice throughout the earth.

What do we see to be the grand results in action? Behold Europe this very day; see the baptism of blood and fire which sweeps from the Rhine to the sea. What speaks this doleful spectacle of woe? These trampled harvests, consuming cities and devastated homes; these countless burials; these unending trains of mangled beings; these shrieks of pain; these cries of famine; these wailings of broken households; all this aggregated volume of distress, astounds the eye, distracts the ear, and shocks the heart to tell that vanity and pride and lust of power have put in motion the energies of mighty nations; and where justice would have wrought the holy alliance of peace and concord among dwellers in lands fair as the garden of the Lord; war with her hosts of phrenzied passions makes the portals of fair cities as the gates of hell.

Such, Most Worshipful Grand Master, are a few of the reflections which might serve to show the sublime and holy qualities of justice. Truly our ancient brethren did well when they installed this virtue in the very throne of honor, and dedicated to its illustration the second great light of Masonry.

Verily it is possible that one may even pass all points but this, and possess himself of the jewels of temperance, fortitude and prudence, and still be and remain a man; but he who is master of justice must needs be first a God, for where can justice be found save in the counsels of his supreme wisdom and supreme providence. "Who exerciseth loving kindness, judgment and justice in the earth."

Justice without its consort, judgment, is but an abstraction and disappears; therefore, he who is master of the one is clothed with the other; and with both has loving kindness or charity. Hence the Worshipful Master, while he bears the square of justice also holds the gavel of judgment, and at the same time is furnished with the trowel which spreads the cement of brotherly love, and thus his symbolic character is made complete.

Justice and judgment are not to be separated—they are two, but indivisible, as the two great pillars of the porch, the two parallel lines, the two Saints John, the two Wardens of the Lodge or the two great primaries, love and wisdom, from which they proceed in order.

All these are in conformity with the dual principle which pervades the universe in all its degrees, and is set forth and demonstrated throughout the body of Masonry.

Thus in the written part of Masonry—the Holy Writings—we read concerning justice and judgment: "Thy justice, O, Jehovah, is like the great mountains, and thy judgment are a great deep. Jehovah shall bring forth thy justice as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday." "He shall judge thy people with justice and thy poor with judgment." "Keep ye judgment and do justice." "Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne," and so in many other passages.

Among the many thousands of rulers in all lands and ages, how few have prized the attainment of justice as much as the accomplishment of selfish ends? Yet by far the greater number of them all have exercised such unlimited power as to invest them with the ordaining of laws, the determination of causes, and the execution of decrees. Nay, in most cases the will or mere caprice of the monarch has been the law for the time being, so that no obstacle has prevented them administering justice in every variety of dispute before them had they been so inclined; yet how few have gone to their tombs without the curses of an injured people ringing in their dying ears the charges of cruelty, extortion, deception and oppression.

As with rulers so with judges; as with judges so with priests: among the thousands who have been honored with the title great or grand or saint which one has received the surname of the just?

The story of the grand caliph who refused to destroy the beggar's hovel before his palace window, has sounded through the world as sufficient cause of continuous wonder at the magnanimity of a monarch; while at best it merely shows that one despot refrained from robbery of the poor to gratify himself. That this act has been celebrated by orator and poet is evidence of the lamentable use of power in human hands.

But why these reflections often made before on the weakness and culpability of man? I offer them here to show in some measure the exceeding importance to mankind of this chief of virtues; and further to show the admirable system and order of our Institution; and to impress upon the minds of all present the absolute necessity of making the great lessons of the Lodge operative and effectual in the conduct of affairs; and further to show forth more fully the excellency involved in our symbolic rites; and invite the Craft to more complete exploration of the magazines of philosophy and truth concealed in the treasure house of Masonry.

For I maintain that the true theism, the order of creation and providence in general and particular, the whole phylosophy of government and of life, the principles of all equity and the rationale of mental and moral advancement are embodied in the simple and silent, but sublime lessons of the Lodge.

It is in this that Masonry excels all other societies; and as to length of days, harmony and contentment of its members, and stability of existence, puts out of comparison all institutions of church or state—reckons its existence by centuries where others count by years or generations—counts its Lodges and Grand Lodges till they reach the numbers of the stars and constellations visible to the human eye, and hears the voice of harmony from its ten thousand councils swelling to greet the hosts of heaven wheresoever they ascend in endless march around the revolving earth.

Let us for a moment consider the form and beauty of that Lodge which makes the jewel of justice the jewel of authority and rule. In many writings this is attempted to be shown and is shown to some extent. But as most of the writers on Masonry have fallen into the error that Masonry owes its origin to a society of operative mechanics, and as this mistake affects matters primary and fundamental, of course it follows through all their ideas of the whole system; and so a certain confusion pervades all their attempts to set out our institution in its true light before the Craft and the world.

Every one who understands Masonry should combat this short-sighted notion; for as long as it prevails it must be impossible to bring the minds of the Craft to any adequate appreciation of the dignity of the institution, or incite the necessary zeal in exploring its mysteries.

Any one may know that a system like symbolic Masonry, or, as our writers persist in calling it, speculative Masonry, which treats altogether of abstract and recondite truths concerning the Deity, the philosophy of life, the excellency of virtue, the course of providence, the nature of man, and the like, all taught by symbols and veiled in allegory, has nothing in common with an association of mechanics to regulate work and wages, and for mutual benefit, unless one of these institutions should be used as a covering or mask of the other.

If any one looks on the Master's carpet, he sees indeed many things which appear to be implements of architecture, but in fact are mostly implements of geometry; and beside these a much larger number, and many of them the most important, which have no relation to architecture at all. For instance, a ladder, constantly alleged to have been seen at Bethel, two parallel lines perpendicular, with the Holy Writings on them, three burning tapers, an anchor, an ark, a pot of incense, the letter G, the sword pointing at the naked heart, the acacia, the sun, moon and stars, the hour-glass and scythe, the tabernacle of Moses, the cloudy canopy, the blazing star, a sheaf of wheat at a waterfall, the lamb, the cherubim, &c.

Now, what is the special connection between all these and architecture? Bear in mind that the lambskin, not the apron, is the only badge of a Mason; that the letter G is the highest symbol in the Lodge; that the cherubim, alone, constitute the banner of the Lodge, to the exclusion of all else, and beside all these, three great lights, the chief of which is the Holy Writings.

Does all this look like the work of a society of mechanics for co-operation in their art, and for mutual protection? Why should they make the lambskin a sine qua non, a badge which no member may dispense with, while he may dispense with anything else, jewel, working tools, or clothing? Why should his Masonic progress begin with the lambskin and end with the lion—the lion of the tribe of Judah? Why should the cherubim, the guards of the Ineffable Word, be the banner of the Lodge? The Holy Writings, the first great light, and absolutely indispensable, and all this in a Lodge erected to God, and opened and closed in his name alone?

But especially consider the three great lights. A moment's reflection will show that whatever the great lights are now, such they were at the beginning; that there has been no addition to the number, or substitution of one for another by way of reconstruction.

Every one can see that the system is complete and in harmony from beginning to end; so that whatever is in one part is contemplated in the adjustment of all other parts. Now it is impossible that the system, such as it is, was started with less or more than three great lights. We might as well suppose that the Lodge begun with two burning tapers, with one Warden, with two supports, with two ornaments, and so on.

For in all the work, from beginning to end, is represented the universal duality and the universal trinity, which exist and are co-ordinated throughout all things whatsoever. Thus we see the two great pillars, but at the same time the three great pillars in which the two are repeated. So the two Wardens, who are, as it were, conjoined and merged in the Master. So the two immovable jewels, the level and the plumb of the Wardens, which form a right-angle, are merged in the square of the Master. So the two degrees of Apprentice and Fellow-Craft, the one representing the left side and the other the right, are involved and made perfect in the third, which represents man entire. So the corn and wine of consecration, one of which is food and the other drink, are mingled with the oil of olives, which is both food and drink, and so on throughout.

Apply these principles to the great lights, and we see that there should be two co-ordinated according to the dual principal; that is, positive and negative, masculine and feminine; and that these two should be conjoined in order with the third and greater, and at the same time the complement of the two.

He who understands rightly to place the compasses upon the square, according to ancient form, so as to show the relation between the square and the four cardinal points, will see the square and the triangle formed and conjoined in order, exhibiting the two geometric figures which cause these implements to be called lights: the one representing matter, the other intelligence or life, that is, the all-producing cause. This signification we know was understood three thousand five hundred years ago; hence these two are great lights, because they stand for the whole body of Masonry or light, the mystery of the Deity and his works.

Now this being so, as the dual symbols and representations in the work, in their final manifestation, conjoin themselves with a third of higher a degree, involving both and making the complement, and so forming the trine, it is clear that the same must especially be the case with the great lights, which must be two forming the dual conjoined and involved in a third or higher degree, the complement of both, and perfecting the sublime trine or trinity, and must have been so disposed at the beginning. Accordingly we find that in the case of the great lights the most important and sublime of all the symbols of the Lodge; there is no failure or discrepancy; but that the only object competent to fill the chief place and form the complement, is and always was the revealed word itself, for the protection of which the cherubim exist: and which involves in perfection all which is intended by the other two, and transcends in character both them and all other things of the Institution, and is therefore alone worthy to take the central place in the Lodge and in the system, between the burning tapers, which place it holds.

The Holy Writings not only are, but must be, the first great light; not merely on account of dignity, but because many of the most important symbols and ceremonies have no other interpretation than is given by the Holy Writings, wherefore the latter enlightens them, and through them the entire Lodge. For example, what force would be in the symbol of the lambskin as a badge, or what Masonic signification in the lion apart from the first great light or what sense in the cherubim, the guards of the word being the ensign of the lodge, if the true word were not found in it as the principal thing?

Indeed, without this connection, how would we see that a shoe signifies possession, and the bare foot renunciation? That the knee made bare signifies subordination and duty? That the ear being opened signifies obedience? That the left hand signifies charity, and the right hand faith? That the knock thrice signifies in the name of God? to say nothing of other particulars.

Who that considers these things can consent to the notion that all this wonderful system came together by chance, as some men imagine the universe came into being, or that it grew up from a mechanics' society, organized for mutual benefit? As well attribute the light of the sun to reflection from the moon.

If any one asks why has Masonry made use of architectural terms, and why do our Grand Masters still officiate at the laying of corner stones, what is then the art of architecture to Masonry? The answer is, first, that our Grand Masters do so because they always did so: we are expressly taught that our ancient brethren wrought both in operative and speculative Masonry; and, secondly, the art of architecture is the same to the science of Masonry that the goat skin was to the tabernacle of Moses, or the enclosing walls and roof to the enclosed House of the Lord in the temple. It is the covering. Without this covering Masonry would not be Masonry. All the works of the Divine are covered both in the whole and in every part. The tabernacle would not have been the "pattern of the things which are in the Heavens," as St. Paul declares it was; nor would the designs of the temple have been furnished from heaven to King David, unless such had been a perfect symbol of the divine order: and so with the Lodge. In the language of Holy Writ, "on all the glory there shall be a covering."

It is to the interior we must look for the life and motion and quality of anything whatsoever, even to our own actions of every kind. Interior to the act is the thought: and inmost of all is the motive of the heart. The sword of divine justice points not at the hand nor yet at the head, but at the naked heart. Let each one take due notice and govern himself accordingly.

It is to the interior of the Lodge that we must look, even to its inmost, if we would discover its real excellencies.

The multitude, in eager curiosity, may throng the great courts of the temple, examine its walls and gates, ascend its pillared galleries, and even climb to the summit of its highest pinnacle; and then suppose they have explored its wonders, but only he who has permission to pass its gates by the words of wisdom can know what lies upon its tables or is hidden in its golden coffers.

The veils of the inner chambers are not lifted to gratify the inquisitive and vain; the triad of faces is not to be broken to satisfy the greed of the importunate and perverse; the light of the golden candlesticks is not for the gaze of the idle and profane.

The world will not be wise, but the blaze of the Shekinah will shine on as a light which ariseth out of darkness for the upright in heart.

The world will not be just, but the sword of divine justice will point at the naked heart of nations, and execute continually in the earth the judgment they imprecate upon each other, and as epochs rise and ages open and close, judgment will run to and fro in the earth from the rising of the sun to the place of its going down, to vindicate the truth of the divine enunciation, "with what judgment ye judge ye shall be judged, and with what measure ye meet it shall be measured to you again."

Masters, Wardens and Brethren, great is justice and shall prevail. Let us honor the lessons of the Lodge, meeting upon the level and parting upon the square. If we have aught to complain of against the world, time patience and perseverance accomplish all things, and among them, if we are faithful, will be the vindication of our cause.

Already we have seen much which may endanger us with pride over the discomfiture of those who have been encamped against us.

For ages the unholy spirit of spiritual domination coupled with royal power was able to forbid our existence in many parts of the earth. Where no longer supported by the secular arm of coercion this spiritual power sitting spider-like at the center of its ecclesiastical web, has not failed to put in motion every means which subservient monarchs might lend or superstition make available to scatter our assemblies, disgrace our ceremonies, scandalize our principles and trample on our rights.

But as "pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall," we have of late seen the last and highest offence of human arrogance put in form by the devotees of clerical dominion, in summoning the world to fall down and worship the embodiment of infallability set up at Rome, and before the moon could change her horns, we have seen this same vicegerant of God surrendering to the secular power, the hired mercenaries paid from the gains in the traffic in holy things, to defend the triple carnal crown and scepter of mammon against his own people, amid the shouts of an enfranchised community and the plaudits of the world, so that nothing now remains of that draconic power which so long brought against Masonry and freedom the dungeon, the rack, and the scaffold, but a hoary effigy of spiritual despotism inscribed with malediction and anathema against the bearers of the open Bible.

As to minor and imitative sects and societies who neglect the salvation of men to put up new bars to the gate of the Kingdom of Heaven; who leave off the work of proclaiming the Gospel to rouse the church by loud and unseemly combats with their own sectaries detected in the act of minding their own business; their works are neither novel nor important. The cemetery of human enterprise has been long enriched by the remains of such. As to the men who clothe themselves in the livery of evangelists to go about the world seeking the notoriety to be obtained by holding conventions of the people with display of piety and zeal, let them go on exercising their faculties as they may choose. We should not envy them their fame; nor covet the few nickles occasionaly secured by timely collections after pious and protracted appeals. Let them have raiment and wherewith to be filled.

As to ourselves let all these things but serve to incite us to that noble contention, or rather emulation, "who can best work and best agree," until the fire of charity and the light of wisdom shall so vivify and illuminate all hearts and minds, that we may give glory to the God of justice by imitation of his benevolence and illustration in life of his adorable attributes set forth in the lessons of the square.

REPORT—COMMITTEE ON CHARTERED LODGES.

R. W. Bro. Luckey, J. G. W., from the Committee on Chartered Lodges, submitted the following report:

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, A., F. & A. M.:

The Committee on Chartered Lodges would fraternally report: That they have carefully examined the returns of the several Lodges so far as the same have been received by them.

Many of the returns bear evidence of great skill and accuracy on the part of the Secretaries of their several Lodges, but your Committee are forced to the opinion that there are some Secretaries who either lack brain power for the duties of their positions, or else are wilfully and inexcusably neglectful of the requirements of the laws of this Grand Lodge.

Your Committee have no reasons assigned them for the transmission of returns unsealed and uncertified save forgetfulness and neglect, save in a few instances where it was claimed that the Lodge had no seal.

It is true, our laws require these things as requisite to the returns, but as the law imposes no penalty, it seems rapidly to be becoming, in effect, a dead letter.

The following Lodges have failed to affix seals to their returns, viz:

The following Lodges have sent returns wholly uncertified by either Master or Secretary, viz: 85 232 442 621.

Returns uncertified to by the Secretary: 291 383.

Returns uncertified by the Master: 84 133 146 191 192 240 208 356 367 444 465 550.

No returns have been received from the following Lodges, viz: 28 116 376 506 507.

For want of returns for 1869, your Committee have been unable to determine the correctness or incorrectness of the returns of the following Lodges, viz: 135 590 602.

The labors of your Committee have been greatly enhanced by the practice of Secretaries of giving initials only, and recommend that it be made imperative, in all cases, that all names be written out in full in the return. Many of the Representatives have been before the Committee and wherever practicable the returns have been corrected, but many cases require reference to the Lodge records. We recommend that the notes made by the Committee be referred to the Grand Secretary with instructions to call upon the Lodges whose returns remain uncorrected and unexplained: that they be required to report immediately the necessary information to make their returns complete, and that he also call upon the Lodges not having reported in 1869, for returns, and that he report to this Grand Lodge at its next annual session all Lodges failing to comply therewith.

Your Committee notice several cases of expulsion for non-payment of dues. Believing that such expulsions are improper we recommend that the subject be referred to the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence for consideration and report at the next annual session.

Your Committee also notice a few cases of "striking from the roll," and as we know of no law permitting such action, suggest that the Lodges having done so be required to reverse their action. We recommend that in all cases where Dispensations are granted for balloting and conferring degrees in less than legal time, it be made imperative that such Dispensation be stated in the return.

The usual table of statistics showing the detail of work and the present condition of the Fraternity your committee have been unable to prepare, owing to the failure of many Lodges to forward their returns, and the great number of unexplained errors in the returns, and we recommend that the subject be referred to the Grand Secretary for preparation and publication so soon as the requisite information be obtained.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES C. LUCKEY,
JOHN PORTER,
ROBERT B. SMITH,
EDWARD K. CONKLING,
B. F. THOMPSON,
JOHN McLAREN,
JAS. ROSS,
G. P. RANDALL,

REPORT—TEMPLE COMMITTEE.

The report of the Temple Committee was taken from the table, reread and adopted.

TEMPLE COMMITTEE DISCHARGED.

On motion of R. W. Bro. EGAN, P. S. G. D., the Temple Committee were discharged from further consideration of the subject.

REPORT—APPEALS AND GRIEVANCES.

W. Bro. HUDSON, (178) from the Committee on Appeals and Grievances, submitted the following report:

Ordered, That the cases be read and considered seriatim.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, A. F. and A. M.:

Your Committee to whom was referred the following cases of Appeals and Grievances beg leave most respectfully to report that they have duly considered all the within cases, have given a patient, fair and impartial hearing to all persons who have come before them, and to the best of their abilities rendered such decisions according to the testimony before them as in their judgment seems just and right, and which we trust will meet the approval of this Grand Lodge:

NUMBER 1.

URBANA LODGE No. 157, vs. FRANCIS TIERNAN. } Appeal from action of Lodge by Bro. JOS. O. CUNNINGHAM.

In this case your Committee are of the opinion that no intentional wrong was committed on the part of Bro. TIERNAN in removing certain papers from the office of Bro. CUNNINGHAM, and it is admitted by Bro. CUNNINGHAM, the appellant, that no financial or personal injury resulted from the removal of said papers, but your committee cannot but think that as the papers were removed without the knowledge of Bro. CUNNINGHAM, in whose custody they were placed, an apology for the act is due from Bro. TIERNAN.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the appeal be dismissed upon Bro. TIERNAN making a suitable apology to Bro. CUNNINGHAM.

NUMBER 2.

ALPHA LODGE No. 155. vs. OQUAWKA LODGE No. 123. } Appeal by Alpha Lodge from the decision of Oquawka Lodge No. 123, in dismissing charges preferred against Bro. D. HEDGES.

Your Committee believe from the record of the proceedings in this case that there has been, to say the least, the most culpable neglect of duty on the part of the Lodge (No. 123) generally.

The Investigating Committee certainly could not have been faithful to their trust, for if ordinary diligence had been used they must have discovered that the applicant had made previous application. It further appears that the Secretary failed to propound the usual questions to the candidate. Your Committee believe the excuse of the defendant on the score of ignorance, should not have been permitted, and as the case presents one of decided neglect and carelessness, it clearly presents an invasion of jurisdiction for which Oquawka Lodge No. 123 should be severely censured.

Your Committee recommend accordingly.

NUMBER 3.

SAMUEL R. ALLEN, vs. HENRY W. GUEST. } Appeal by GUEST from action of Philo Lodge No. 436 in expelling him.

The papers in this case being so very incomplete, the whole amount of the testimony being taken after the trial upon the recollection of the witnesses, and does not give the time at which the trial took place.

Your Committee would recommend that the case be referred back to the Lodge for a new trial, with instructions to said Lodge to take the testimony of the witnesses in writing at the time of the trial, and to preserve dates.

NUMBER 4.

HAZEL DELL LODGE No. 580, vs. WILLIAM LYON, } Appeal by LYON from sentence of expulsion.

There being no proceedings of the Lodge before the Committee, we would recommend that the case be laid over until the next Grand Communication, and that Hazel Dell Lodge be ordered to produce a transcript of the proceedings on said trial.

NUMBER 5.

YORK LODGE No. 313, vs. CHARLES C. GORHAM. }

In this case there are no papers presented on the part of the appellant, and we would therefore recommend that the case be dismissed.

NUMBER 6.

CHARLES TROWBRIDGE, (Wethersfield Lodge No. 159.) vs. NEW RUTLAND LODGE No. 477. } Appeal by TROWBRIDGE from action of No. 477 in acquitting JNO. E. GRAY of certain charges preferred by TROWBRIDGE.

In this case your Committee recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the action of the Lodge confirmed.

NUMBER 7.

JOSEPH MICKEY, vs. JOSEPH DAVIS. } Appeal by MICKEY from action of S. D. Monroe Lodge No. 447, in acquitting DAVIS.

In this case your Committee recommend that the matter be referred back to the Lodge for a new trial.

NUMBER 8.

GEORGE VAN HOUTEN,
vs,
H. W. BIGELOW LODGE No. 438.
} Appeal by VANHOUTEN from sentence of expulsion.

In presenting this case for the consideration of this Grand Lodge, your Committee, owing to the peculiar circumstances surrounding it, have felt it their duty to enter rather more into detail than is usually the custom with cases coming before this Committee, and while we feel a delicacy in trespassing upon your time and patience, we confidently hope the importance and gravity of the points presented will lead you to acquit us of intentional and unnecessary prolixity.

In the opinion of your Committee there are in this case questions involved of the most vital importance to the subordinate Lodges in this Grand Jurisdiction, questions that must be forever set at rest, and in such plain, explicit and emphatic language as to render it next to impossible for any Lodge in the future to mistake her duty, or fail to comprehend her just rights, and the rights of other jurisdictions.

If this had been an ordinary case of charges, trial, punishment and appeal, affecting directly our own jurisdiction only, your Committee would have taken the responsibility of deciding the case upon its merits, and submitted their decision for your approval. But this case presents some complications which may require separate action and could not be well and properly considered except in the connection which each part bears to the other as a whole.

Your Committee are fully sensible that it is not their province to make legal deductions, and therefore do not feel warranted in taking upon themselves the responsibility of deciding and offering a recommendation for your action, without laying the subject before this Grand Lodge for its deliberations, lest we should establish a precedent that might at some future day be productive of unpleasant results; and as it is not only possible, but highly probable, that some discussion may grow out of the subjects presented for your consideration, your Committee confidently hope that the Craft in general will realize that in a multiplicity of counsel there is wisdom, and that your action in this matter will be worth to the Fraternity all it shall cost.

The case is as follows: Sometime in the month of December, 1868, a Mr. GEORGE VANHOUTEN presented a petition to H. W. Bigelow Lodge No. 438, praying to be initiated into the mysteries of Masonry, and on or about the 4th day of January, 1869, he was initiated, and in due time passed and raised; and there does not appear to have been anything the matter until sometime in July, 1869, when our M. W. Grand Master receives a communication from the M. W. Grand Master of New York complaining that H. W. Bigelow Lodge had initiated, passed and raised said VAN HOUTEN, who was a rejected candidate from Gennesse Falls Lodge No. 557, and asks for redress in the premises. And from the correspondence it seems that an apology was proposed to be offered by H. W. Bigelow Lodge, which appears to have been rejected by the M. W. Grand Master of New York and Gennessee Falls Lodge, on the ground that an apology was not sufficient reparation for the supposed wrong.

Several letters seem to have passed between the M. W. Grand Master of New York and the W. Master of Gennessee Falls Lodge, on the one side, and our Grand Master and the W. Master of H. W. Bigelow Lodge, on the other, running up to January 18th, 1870.

H. W. Bigelow Lodge, being in fear that they would lose their charter unless some decided action was taken to ward off the danger, had charges and specifications preferred against said VAN HOUTEN, setting forth that he, the said VAN HOUTEN, had knowingly and purposely concealed the fact that he had been rejected by Gennessee Falls Lodge, in the State of New York, and upon the 23d day of March, 1870, he was put upon his trial upon said charges and specifications, and found guilty, by a vote of 44 to 10, on the first charge and specification.

And this brings us to the first important point submitted for your consideration.

And your Committee respectfully submit that if the statement were true, that the candidate had knowingly and purposely concealed the fact of his rejection by Gennessee Falls Lodge, that it cuts no figure in the case at all: for your Committee believe that if a man who may have been rejected in one country or State should emigrate to another, and after residing the specified time required by the Grand Lodge in his adopted country or State, that he, so far as citizenship and the right of jurisdiction is concerned, is eligible to admission to the Masonic Fraternity with or without the consent of the Lodge in the country or State from which he emigrated and ceased to become a citizen.

The law of this Grand Jurisdiction which requires that a rejected candidate shall wait one year from the time of his rejection before he can make a second application, or ask and obtain the consent of the rejecting Lodge, is a strictly local law, enacted expressly for the government of the subordinate Lodges in this particular Grand Jurisdiction, and can have no binding effect whatever in any foreign jurisdiction. Upon this point your Committee feel particularly anxious that you should decide how far, in your judgment, we, your committee, are correct.

But it appears to your Committee, from what we consider good and sufficient testimony, that H. W. Bigelow Lodge did know, prior to his initiation, that he had been rejected by Gennessee Falls Lodge, and that five years had elapsed since said rejection took place, as shown in the testimony of Breth. Lock, Lee and Reinhart, and in addition to which Bro. Lapham, W. Master of H. W. Bigelow Lodge, in a letter addressed to Bro. Shelp, W. Master of Gennessee Falls Lodge, admits that said Van Houten did inform the Secretary of H. W. Bigelow Lodge that he had been rejected five years previous, or thereabouts, by said Gennessee Falls Lodge; or in other words, that he had made application to said Lodge and his money had been returned. In addition, Bro. Lapham further states, according to the letter of the Grand Master of New York, that the Secretary of H. W. Bigelow Lodge was sent out to ask the usual questions, and that he returned and reported that the usual questions had been asked and satisfactory answers returned.

Under these circumstances your Committee are of the opinion that said Van Houten was unfairly dealt with and should not have been expelled upon this charge and specification.

But your Committee, from a careful study of the papers, feel satisfied that H. W. Bigelow Lodge has committed a grave offence by invading the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of New York, in conferring the degrees upon said Van Houten, he being at the time a resident of that State: and it appears to your Committee that said Lodge ought and must have known, through the investigating committee, the residence of the applicant, and if the investigating committee failed in the discharge of their duty, the Lodge is none the less responsible, the committee acting as the agents of said Lodge; and the Lodge, acting upon the report of said committee, assumes at once and is responsible for the action had upon said report. That the offence against Gennessee Falls Lodge was not in conferring the degrees upon said Van Houten as a rejected candidate of said Lodge, but in conferring the degrees upon Van Houten, a resident of the city of Rochester, and State of New York, it being clearly shown by the letter of the Grand Master of New York that the family of said Van Houten had resided in said city for a number of years, and was residing there at the time of his initiation and until sometime in July, 1869. Your Committee therefore recommend that this Grand Lodge will, in their wisdom, inflict such punishment upon said H. W. Bigelow Lodge No. 438 as the circumstance of the case demands, in justice to our sister Grand Lodge and in vindication of the honor of our own.

The second charge and specification against Van Houten shows that the defendant had been engaged in receiving and disposing of stolen goods. The circumstances are briefly these: A clerk in the employ of a wholesale drug establishment had, during a period of six or seven months from June, 1869, to January, 1870, stolen at various times from his employers drugs to the amount of $1,350, which he, the said clerk, confessed to have given to Van Houten to dispose of, and who sold said drugs to various parties on account of said clerk, and to whom he paid the proceeds of said sales, receiving a compensation for so doing. And although there is not before your Committee such absolute and positive evidence that the said Van Houten knew that said goods were stolen as would lead to a conviction in a criminal prosecution, yet there is very strong presumptive evidence that he must have known they were stolen and from whom.

Your Committee are therefore of the opinion that the sentence of the Lodge, expelling him from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, was just.

We recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the action of the Lodge sustained upon the second charge and specification.

NUMBER 9.

JAMES PETERSON, W. M. No. 123, vs. FORTITUDE LODGE No. 638. — Appeal by PETERSON from action of Fortitude Lodge in acquitting Bro. D. P. TRIMBLE of certain charges brought against him.

In consequence of the expulsion of D. P. TRIMBLE since the filing of the appeal in this case, your Committee recommend that the appeal be dismissed and action confirmed.

NUMBER 10.

SAMUEL TART, vs. PEORIA LODGE No. 15.

Case withdrawn.

NUMBER 11.

MILBURN MCCARTY, vs. GEORGE W. CORNWELL, — Appeal by MCCARTY from action of Mason Lodge No. 217 in acquitting GEORGE W. CORNWELL of certain charges preferred against him.

In this case your Committee recommend that the appeal be dismissed and action of the Lodge confirmed.

NUMBER 12.

FRED WINTER, vs. JOHN S. FERGUSON. — Appeal by FERGUSON from sentence of indefinite suspension assessed by Summit Lodge No. 431.

On account of some informality in the proceedings on the part of the Lodge, the accused not having been notified of the time of trial, your Committee recommend that the case be referred back to the Lodge for a new trial.

NUMBER 13.

ISAAC H. HAMILTON, vs. SHEBA LODGE No. 200. — Appeal by HAMILTON from action of Lodge in acquitting W. WIRT GRAY of certain charges alleged against him.

After a careful examination of the papers in this case, it appears to your Committee that the principal parties had accepted a compromise and were in no sense the complainants in this case, but had only been used by the appellant as witness, and at the expiration of two years after the commission of the act it being clearly shown by the testimony that the terms of the compromise had been faithfully discharged by the defendant.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the action of the Lodge sustained.

NUMBER 14.

E. C. A. CUSHMAN, vs. BLACK HAWK LODGE No. 238. — Appeal by CUSHMAN from action of Lodge in reinstating J. F. MCDOEL.

In this case your Committee recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the action of the Lodge be confirmed.

NUMBER 15.

HENRY STOFFREGEN, (No. 428) vs. IRUS COY, (No. 471.) } Appeal by STOFFREGEN from action of Kendall Lodge No. 471.

Your Committee recommend in this case that it be referred back for a new trial, and that Kendall Lodge is hereby ordered to try the case in open Lodge, and that said Lodge be summoned, and further that said Kendall Lodge shall give the case a fair and impartial hearing and a full expression of the Lodge obtained.

NUMBER 16.

G. W. ALBIN, vs. NEOGA LODGE No. 279. } Appeal by ALBIN from sentence of indefinite suspension.

In this case your Committee recommend that the appeal be dismissed and the action of the Lodge confirmed.

NUMBER 17.

JAMES P. CUMMINGS, vs. BETHALTO LODGE No. 406 } Appeal from action of Lodge in granting demit to Bro. JAMES R. SIMPSON.

In this case there are no papers except the application for the appeal, consequently no action on the part of your Committee.

NUMBER 18.

WALKER SNODGRASS, vs. TUSCOLA LODGE No. 332. } Appeal from action of Lodge in matter of SNODGRASS vs. BAKER.

In the opinion of your Committee the Lodge in this case acted very inconsistently, having found the defendant guilty and failing to inflict any punishment whatever. Your Committee are further of the opinion that the testimony coupled with defendant's admission was sufficient and the said defendant guilty, justly merited a severe punishment.

Your Committee therefore recommended that the case be referred back for reconsideration, and the award of a suitable punishment.

NUMBER 19.

JOHN H. LOW, vs. SUNBEAM LODGE No. 428. } Appeal from action of Lodge in expelling H. C. SMITH,

Your committee recommend that this case be referred back for a new trial, and that the W. Master be ordered to summon his Lodge for the purpose.

NUMBER 20.

T. W. FLOYD, vs. GILLESPIE LODGE No. 249. } Appeal from sentence of suspension.

The papers in this case are very incomplete, and although the defendant admitted the charge to a certain extent, your Committee believe the defendant was only guilty under a business mistake on the part of his clerk, who it appears committed the error, and that defendant did endeavor to make a correction, and your committee are of the opinion that the appellant, under the circumstances, should be reinstated, and therefore recommend accordingly. Since the above was written three papers have been received that go to confirm the action of this Committee.

NUMBER 21.

MITHRA LODGE No. 410, vs. F. C. WEBER. } Appeal from sentence of expulsion.

In this case Bro. WEBER is charged with defrauding Mithra Lodge No. 410 of five dollars, appropriating the same to his own use.

It appears from the papers that Bro. WEBER received a petition from a candidate for Masonry, with five dollars, to present to Mithra Lodge No. 410, but in the course of conversation with the W. Master and other Brethren of Mithra Lodge, Bro. WEBER was told that the candidate would be rejected if his petition was offered, and which the Master of said Lodge admitted before your Committee. In consequence of these statements Bro. WEBER did not present said petition, and as the candidate was at that time justly indebted to Bro. WEBER, he having become his security for the payment of an amount of money, which said WEBER had to pay, and did pay, as proven by a receipt for the amount, Bro. WEBER did not return the five dollars to said applicant, but kept it in part payment of the money which WEBER had paid on his account.

It further appears that said applicant demanded the five dollars of Mithra Lodge, and to get rid of his importunities the Lodge paid the amount and preferred charges against WEBER and expelled him.

In the opinion of your Committee, that as the petition and money had never been the property of Mithra Lodge, they having in effect refused it, said Lodge had no cause of action against Bro. WEBER.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the action of the Lodge be set aside and that Bro. WEBER be restored to all the rights and privileges of Masonry.

NUMBER 23.

ROBERT BURNS LODGE No. 113, vs. W. WOLF. } Appeal by THOS. B. CABEEN from action of Lodge in acquitting WOLF.

In this case your Committee recommend that the appeal be dismissed, and the action of the Lodge confirmed.

NUMBER 22.

ERASTUS DEWOLF, vs. WILMINGTON LODGE No. 208. } Error.

Your Committee recommend that this case be referred back to Wilmington Lodge for a new trial, in compliance with the request of both parties.

NUMBER 24.

ARK AND ANCHOR LODGE No. 354, vs. J. G. SPENCER. }

No proceedings on trial, and no appeal, consequently no action by your Committee.

NUMBER 25.

EDWARD DOBBINS LODGE No. 164, vs. C. M. BOSLEY. }

The papers in this case are so incomplete, (almost incomprehensible) no final action of the Lodge being reported, and no appeal sent up.

Your Committee recommend that the case be sent back for a new trial.

NUMBER 26.

MICHAEL LANGSTON,
vs.
HUTSONVILLE LODGE No. 136.

Your Committee recommend that this case be referred back to the Lodge for correction, there being no final action of the Lodge reported.

NUMBER 27.

Recommendation of Temple Lodge No. 46, for the reinstatement of Bro. J. A. LADD.

Your Committee recommend that the prayer of the petition be granted.

NUMBER 28.

LEWISTOWN LODGE No. 104.

Petition for the reinstatement of Bro. JOHN HAIR, expelled by said Lodge.

Your Committee recommend that said JOHN HAIR be restored to all the rights and benefits of Masonry and to membership in said Lodge, the recommendation being unanimous.

NUMBER 29.

PANA LODGE No. 226.

Petition for the reinstatement of Bro. GAD. M. ADAMS and Bro. B. F. DENNIS, both expelled by said Lodge.

NUMBER 30.

Petition of CHRISTOPHER C. FLY, expelled by Mt. Erie Lodge No. 331, for reinstatement.

Your Committee recommend that this petition be referred back to petitioner for the action of the Lodge, and recommend that the R. W. Grand Secretary instruct the petitioner how to proceed.

NUMBER 31.

FRANKLIN LODGE No. 25.

It appears from the statement of the W. Master of said Lodge, that Franklin Lodge passed a unanimous vote to petition this Grand Lodge to restore Bro. STEPHEN A. ALBRO (who had been expelled from said Lodge) to all the rights and privileges of Masonry, and that said petition was duly made out and entrusted to the Worshipful Master, who by accident left the papers behind.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the M. W. Grand Master be authorized to reinstate said Brother on receipt of said petition.

NUMBER 32.

JAMES H. KEELER,
vs.
WAUBANSIA LODGE No. 160.

In this case your Committee find it impossible to take any action from the fact they have nothing to act upon, there being no papers except the memorial of the appellant; no testimony, no action of the Lodge, in fact nothing for our guidance.

It appears to your Committee that there has been culpable negligence somewhere, for it will be remembered that the case came up last year and your Committee offered a recommendation as per proceedings, page 312, case No. 24, which recommendation was not adopted, but on motion of Bro. LAW, was postponed until this Communication (page 313) and now the case is in exactly the same position as last year.

Your Committee therefore have no other recourse than to leave the matter in the hands of the Grand Lodge to be disposed of in such a manner as in its wisdom shall seem just in the premises.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

F. HUDSON,
JAS. B. SAMUEL,
GEORGE MASON,

REPORT—MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

R. W. Bro. CUNNINGHAM, D. D. G. M., from the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, submitted the following report:

To the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Illinois:

Your Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, to whom was referred the decisions of the M. W. Grand Master, reported to the Grand Lodge in his address, would fraternally report that they have considered the same and approve of all except those numbered "2" and "13."

No. 2 reads as follows: "An objection before balloting, made to the Master, is equivalent to a rejection, and the ballot should be stayed until such objection is withdrawn."

Your Committee are of the opinion that a ballot on every application to a Lodge for membership or a degree is according to the landmarks of Masonry, and the By-Laws of this Grand Lodge imperative, and know of no authority in the Master to dispense with or needlessly postpone such ballot in any case.

The decision of the Grand Master numbered 13 reads as follows: "It is unlawful to give a suicide a Masonic burial, unless evidence of insanity is clear."

Your Committee are of the opinion that the right of Masonic burial is the right of every affiliated Master Mason, in good standing at the time of his death, without regard to the cause of his death, or condition of his mind at the time of death.

Fraternally submitted,

WM. LAVELY,
WM. McMURTRY,
JNO. BENNETT,
J. O. CUNNINGHAM,
IRA A. W. BUCK,

REPORT—MASONIC JURISPRUDENCE.

R. W. Bro. CUNNINGHAM, D. D. G. M., from the Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence, to whom had been referred the proposed amendments to the Constitution, reported as follows:

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois:

Your Committee on Masonic Jurisprudence to whom was referred the amendments to the Constitution of this body, prepared by Bro. GEO. C. LANPHERE at the last Annual Communication, proposing the division of the State into District Grand Lodges, would respectfully report that they have had such amendments under consideration, and have endeavored to give the same that careful attention which their great importance demands.

Your Committee are of the opinion that the adoption of the amendments, while it might cure some evils which are now embarrasing this Grand Lodge, might, and they fear would be productive of much greater evils.

The coming together in Annual Communication of the great body of Masters and Wardens of the State, and the comingling together of brethren from the north, the south, the east and the west of our noble jurisdiction, while it has been hurried to some extent, undignified perhaps, has, in the opinion of the Committee, been more than compensated in the uniformity of work, and the healthy emulation it has produced, and the fraternal feeling which has for so many years bound together as noble a body of Masons as the world ever saw in bonds of iron strength, which have successfully resisted alike the attacks of foes and the defection of friends.

The family of Masons, as its exists in Illinois is invincible—separate it into principalities and its strength would easily be broken.

Your Committee are of opinion that by repealing Section 5 of the By-Laws of the Grand Lodge, permitting Masters and Wardens to appear by proxy, the number attending the Grand Lodge would be greatly lessened and at the same time no injustice would be done any Lodge. At the last Annual Communication about twenty-three per cent. of the representatives were the proxies of the constitutional members of the Grand Lodge.

Without raising the question of the constitutionality of Section 5, your Committee recommend its repeal, and believe that with the smaller representation at the Grand Lodge, which would follow, and the exercise of more patience on the part of the members of the Grand Lodge, in view of the importance of the annual meetings, the evils now complained of, would, to a great measure be remedied.

We offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That Section 5 of the By-Laws be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Fraternally submitted,

J. R. GORIN,
WM. LAVELY,
WM. McMURTRY,
JNO. BENNETT,
J. O. CUNNINGHAM,
JNO. M. PEARSON,
O. H. MINER,
Committee.

The report was adopted, and the proposed amendment to the By-Laws contained therein, laid over until the "next regular communication."

The proposed amendments to the Constitution were taken up and laid on the table.

The resolution was adopted.

REPORT.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons:

In compliance with a resolution adopted at the last Annual Grand Communication, instructing the Grand Secretary "to prepare for the use of this Grand Lodge, at its next regular Grand Communication, a statement showing the difference in the amount of mileage to be paid by this Grand Lodge, from each working subordinate Lodge to the Cities of Chicago and Springfield, or any city to which it may be proposed to change the place of meeting." REPORT—COMMITTEE ON OBITUARIES.

To the M. W. Grand Lodge of Illinois:

One short year ago the choice of this Grand Lodge fell upon JAMES I. DAVIDSON as one whose voice might fitly shape our prayers and bear them aloft to the Throne of the Most High. To-day the vacant chair of the Grand Chaplain, its mute eloquence more touching than ever fell from our Brother's tongue of fire, reminds us that he has passed away; admonishes us of the uncertainty of life, and points the necessity of doing to-day the duty which lies nearest our hands.

Reckoned by the years that had passed over his head, Bro. DAVIDSON was still a young man. Reckoned by what he was; by his deeds; the amount and varied nature of his labors in behalf of his fellows, he had better earned the right than many of maturer years to put off the harness of earthly labor and pass on to his Heavenly rest. Through all the checkered web of his life's varied experience, flecked here with sunshine, there with shadow; here with hardship, there with golden threads of comparative leisure—not incompatible even with such industry as his—there ran one undeviating line of devotion to duty. Early thrown upon his own resources, he graduated in that school whose diploma is the calloused hand and self-reliant heart, fitted for contact with men, ready to give and take in the battle of life. Though after he had entered the ministry and the graces of culture grew upon him, he doubtless felt the limitations of his early life bear heavily, yet it may well be doubted whether without them, and that appreciation of the needs of the humble which was born of them, he could have been brought so near to his fellows, or would have developed those qualities which in so rare a degree bound men to him, making all who knew him his friends. Combining with this rare manliness a tenderness almost feminine; convictions so strong that he was ready to die for them if need be; a fluent diction, and an enthusiastic love for his calling, he naturally became a leader in the religious body with which he was affiliated. In this ever-widening sphere of usefulness he labored until his constitution, already weakened by the effects of wounds received in the service of his adopted country, gave way to the illness from which he never recovered.

How he valued Masonry may be seen by referring to his oration, published and preserved in our archives, wherein he views it from the standpoint of the religious teacher, regarding it as the handmaid of Religion in the promotion of pure Morality. In this oration we find a fit monument to the memory of our departed brother. Its truths shall live when memorial marble will have crumbled away.

The death of Bro. PHARES A. DORWIN was not unlooked for, the announcement made at the last Communication of the Grand Lodge having prepared us for the sad event. In the prime of manhood he fell a victim to that insidious disease which beneath a glove of velvet conceals a hand of mail, and flatters those whom it has given a mortal hurt with visions of returning health.

When Bro. DORWIN relinquished the working tools of the institution he loved so well, they literally dropped from a dying hand. Skilled in the traditions of the fathers of Masonry in Illinois—his Masonic life reaching back to the time when they were still active—his departure breaks another link in the chain which connects the present with the preceding generations. Honorable in all the relations of life; of strict integrity; self-poised and steadfast, yet unobtrusive, he commanded the respect of all who knew him. Though connected with other branches of the institution, the three degrees of Symbolic Masonry, whose severe simplicity accorded so well with his character, always commanded his truest devotion. Let us all profit by his steadfast example, that when we enter the Valley of the Shadow we shall be sustained by the consciousness that we have been true to that which is best, broadest and most ennobling in Masonry.

In the persons of ROBERT D. HOLMES, of New York, and BENJAMIN B. FRENCH, of the District of Columbia, there have passed away two Grand Masters whose names are inseparably connected with the history of Masonry in this country: men whose reputations overstep all territorial bounds and are the heritage of the Masonic family universal. In the loss of Bro. FRENCH death comes near to us in an especial sense, he being the Representative of this Grand Lodge near the Grand Lodge of the District of Columbia. Full of years, and bearing all the honors which the various branches of Masonry in this country could bestow, he has gone to his well-earned rest, while from every portion of this broad land come benedictions from thousands of loving hearts, to rest upon the hallowed spot where, beneath the memorial acacia, he sleeps forever. Peace to his ashes!

Among the lamented dead of the year that is past there are many on whose noble qualities we fain would dwell, but the Deputy Grand Secretary promises a compilation from the obituary remarks entered upon the records of their Lodges; and we feel that such words, coming fresh from the stricken hearts of those who were nearest to them in life and in death, will be more appropriate and acceptable than any offerings of ours.

SEC. 58. SEC. 59. Whenever the charter of any Lodge shall become so defaced or illegible as to be unfit for use, it shall be lawful for the Grand Master to grant them another charter, bearing the same name and number, setting forth the names of the members and officers named in the first charter, the date thereof, the names of the grand officers attached thereto, and the reason for granting another charter, which shall be signed by the Grand Master and attested by the Grand Secretary, under his hand and the seal of the Grand Lodge, and who shall be entitled to the usual fee therefor.

SEC. 63. All Masonic trials shall be in the Lodge of the highest degree to which the accused has attained, in which the examination of witnesses shall take place in the presence of both the accused and the accuser, who shall have the right to be present at all examinations of witnesses, in or out of the Lodge, and to propose such relevant questions as they may desire.

SEC. 64. After the trial is concluded, the accused and the accuser shall be requested to retire, and in case the trial has been in a Lodge of Entered Apprentices or Fellow Crafts, the Lodge shall then be opened on the third degree; for no decision shall be made for or against a brother, after regular trial, except in a Master Mason's Lodge, in which the question of "Guilty" or "Not Guilty," shall be put by the Master, in which all the members present shall be required to vote, and of which two-thirds shall be in the affirmative or the accused shall be declared "Not Guilty."

SEC. 65. If the verdict is "Guilty," the Master or presiding officer shall put the question as to the amount of punishment, beginning with the highest and ending with the lowest Masonic punishment herein provided. The vote on the nature of the punishment may be taken by a show of hands, and decided by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

SEC. 66. If the residence of the accused is not known, or if, upon due summons, he refuses or neglects or attend, a Lodge may proceed to trial without his presence.

SEC. 67. The witnesses in all Masonic trials, whether Masons or not, shall be persons who have the use of their reason, and such religious belief as to feel the obligations of an oath, and who have not been convicted of any infamous crime.

SEC. 68. The testimony of Masons shall be taken in Lodge or in committee; that of competent persons, not Masons, by committee, on oath, administered by a competent legal officer, and may be by affidavit.

SEC. 69. A Subordinate Lodge shall not suspend a member for non-payment of dues without written notice and a fair trial.

PUNISHMENTS.

SEC. 70. The Masonic punishment which may and shall be inflicted by the Grand Lodge and its subordinates for unmasonic conduct, shall be either reprimand, definite or indefinite suspension, or expulsion from all the rights and privileges of Masonry.

SEC. 78. Any summons issued as aforesaid need not contain any other matter except the requisition to attend the Lodge issuing the same, or the Master thereof when required.

SEC. 79. Every Master Mason is bound to attend before the Lodge, at the meeting of the Lodge so requiring him, on being summoned or notified.

REPORTS OF DISTRICT DEPUTY GRAND MASTERS.

FIRST DISTRICT.

All that part of Cook county not embraced in Chicago and Hyde Park, together with the county of Lake.

H. G. Reynolds, M. W. Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois:

I have endeavored during the past year to keep you fully advised of every event of importance (coming to my knowledge) occurring in the First District, and I do not think it necessary to repeat my communications to you.

The only matter of grave importance which has occurred, was the expulsion, by Keystone Lodge No. 639, of MOSES SHIELDS, its Past Master, from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, the details of which trial and conviction you are familiar with.

Another fact which you will be pleased to know is, that throughout my district there is a cheerful conformity to the work as settled by the Grand Lodge.

Yours fraternally,

JOHN W. CLYDE,
D. D. Grand Master First District.

SECOND DISTRICT.

All that part of Cook county known as South Chicago and Hyde Park, together with the county of Du Page.

OFFICE OF THE D. D. G. M. SECOND DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS,
CHICAGO, September 8th, 1870.

Harman G. Reynolds, Esq., Grand Master of Masons of Illinois:

M. W. SIR AND BROTHER:—Having previously made detailed reports of my official action as to notifying the Lodges, and, when called upon, to install officers and confer the Past Master's Degree, etc., I have but little to add.

I have, in response to cordial invitations, visited all the Lodges in this district except two, and hope to reach them before the next annual communication of the Grand Lodge.

I have been called upon but once in this district to use my official exertions to preserve peace and harmony, and then my efforts were crowned with the greatest success, thereby giving a strong proof of the beneficial effect of the system of District Deputy Grand Masters, for by "nipping the evil in the bud," I was enabled to stop what threatened to be a serious difficulty.

The general enforcement of the law of the Grand Lodge in regard to sending notices to sister Lodges of the reception of petitions, has proved of great benefit to the Fraternity in this district, and I hope that it may be thoroughly carried out in towns where two or more Lodges exist.

In my official capacity as Grand Examiner, I have inspected the work of about forty Lodges in this vicinity, beside those visited in company with other members of the Board of Examiners in more distant parts of the State. In the Lodges here I have met with a very general disposition to obtain the correct lectures and work, and a large number have done so already, while others are perfecting themselves as fast as circumstances will permit.

Of the condition of the Order in this district, nothing could be more satisfactory. Peace, harmony and good feeling prevail in every Lodge so far as I can learn, and this should be very gratifying to the officers and members of the (I believe) largest district in the State in membership; it certainly is very pleasant to me to be able to thus report.

Finally, Most Worshipful, in returning to your hands the authority conferred on me by appointment as your Deputy, allow me to thank you for this mark of confidence and esteem, trusting that my action under it may have your approval.

In conclusion, to yourself, personally and officially, I beg leave to tender the assurance of my continued respect and fraternal regard; may you long continue with us to assist in guiding the Fraternity of Illinois with the skill and wisdom of the past.

I have the honor to be always and fraternally yours,

G. W. BARNARD,
D. D. G. M. Second Dist. Ill.

THIRD DISTRICT.

The counties of Kane, DeKalb, Boone and McHenry.

RICHMOND, ILL., September 19, 1870.

To M. W. Harman G. Reynolds, Grand Master Grand Lodge of Illinois:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—In compliance with your instructions, I herewith submit my report as D. D. G. Master for the Third Masonic District:

Soon after receiving notice of my appointment, I notified all the Lodges within this district of my appointment and my willingness to respond to all invitations to visit Lodges, or to attend to any official duty, upon receiving notice that they desired it. I regret that during the year sickness has prevented me from visiting each Lodge in this district.

Several inquiries have been propounded to me, all of which I have been enabled to answer without referring them to the Grand Master.

About the 27th of December last, I received invitations to visit and install the officers of the following Lodges, viz: Nunda, No. 169; Algonquin, No. 256, and Hebron, No. 604, to all of which I responded and installed their officers in due form.

In the month of January I received a communication from the M. W. Grand Master, requesting me to visit Harvard Lodge No. 309 and investigate certain irregular work. Accordingly, on the fourth of April, I visited the Lodge, mingled with its officers and members, and to the best of my ability investigated the matter complained of, and made report thereof to you. I deem it unnecessary to repeat any part of said report at this time.

I am prepared to report that, with one exception (Monitor Lodge No. 522), the Lodges in the Third District are trying to acquire the work re-affirmed by the Grand Lodge of Illinois at its last Grand Communication.

I visited by invitation, as Grand Lecturer, and instructed in the work and lectures, Nunda Lodge No. 169 and Elgin Lodge No. 117.

I have received no other invitations to visit, yet have had the pleasure of meeting with several Lodges, and conferring with Brethren from most of the Lodges in the district, and so far as I have been able to learn, there is no element of discord or confusion in any of the Lodges, but all are harmonious and prosperous.

Permit me, Most Worshipful, to tender to you my sincere thanks for your confidence in appointing me D. D. Grand Master.

In conclusion, M. W. Grand Master, I congratulate you on the Peace and good fellowship that now prevail throughout this Grand Jurisdiction.

Very respectfully and fraternally yours,

ALONZO RANSOM,
D. D. Grand Master Third District.

FOURTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Winnebago, Stephenson, Jo. Daviess and Carroll.

ROCKFORD, ILLINOIS, September 15, 1870.

Harman G. Reynolds, M. W. Grand Master:

SIR:—Upon receiving from your hands the appointment of Deputy for this district, I immediately issued to the several Lodges a notice of my appointment, and such instructions and directions as had been suggested by you.

On October 20, 1869, as your proxy, and by special order, I constituted E. F. W. Ellis Lodge No. 633, under its charter, and installed its officers. The occasion was a good beginning for the expected permanence and usefulness of this splendid Lodge.

On October 21, 1869, I dedicated the new Hall of Cherry Valley Lodge No. 173, under circumstances of much interest and promise to the Brethren and people of that place. The destruction of their former Hall by fire, gave opportunity for their well known enterprise and liberality to provide for their use, in a very short time, a convenient and commodious new Hall, which is a great credit to them, and a permanent benefit to the Craft and the place.

On the twenty-second day of December, 1869, I dedicated the new Hall of Jo. Daviess Lodge No. 278, at Warren, and installed their officers. It is with pride and pleasure I report this evidence of permanent growth and of enduring usefulness of the Order in this district. The Brethren of Warren are excelled by few in their liberal and tasteful provision for their Lodge. Their new Hall is large enough for their present and prospective needs, of excellent form and proportions, and a creditable addition to the growth and improvement of the Order and the place. The Brethren and citizens in large numbers testified their interest and pleasure in the Masonic services, and the sumptuous repast which closed the evening was a happy time—long to be remembered. In Rev. Bro. Woodward's oration on this occasion, was strongly and beautifully presented the religion and principles of Masonry in their harmony and adaptness to all true theories and religion.

On the twenty-third day of December, 1869, at the special request of the Brethren, and also by request of R. W. Bro. LEVANWAY, Deputy of that district, who was unable to attend, I dedicated the Hall of Byron Lodge No. 274, and installed its officers. This Lodge, some few years ago, purchased a large lot and a building formerly used for school purposes, and added a second story and something in length to the structure, making as complete, convenient and commodious a Lodge Hall, for the uses required, as any within my observation. The Lodge room above is safe and pleasant, and the social Hall below was successfully tested in ample form by the bounteous and tasteful supper prepared for the occasion.

In all our boundaries, and often, too, the hour of festivity draws close to that of sorrow, and leaving, at midnight, the joys and comforts of this festival for a cold, dark ride of fourteen miles, was to discharge a higher and more sacred duty, in attending and conducting, on the next day (24th), the funeral of Bro. James E. L. SOUTHGATE, former Secretary of Rockford Lodge No. 102. Although holding no high Masonic or civil station, his life of diligence and fidelity in business; sincerity and kindness in faith and practice; modesty and true charity in all, won respect while he lived and kind remembrance now that he is gone. This service, the last of my duties as Worshipful Master of Rockford Lodge No. 102, after fourteen years of work in that position, the last ten of which were consecutive, peculiarly refreshed the memories and attachments of Masonic life, which are so much the strength and beauty of our institution.

On January 13, 1870, I installed the officers of E. F. W. Ellis Lodge No. 633, and found them doing good work for themselves and the Craft at large.

In personal visitation of Lodges I have been restricted by want of time and means, yet have neglected no special call for my official services.

In correspondence I have been able, I think, to materially aid in the duties of your arduous office, having in most cases had precedents and law to which I could refer.

In general I can report Peace and Prosperity in this district during the past year. If numerical increase is less than at some other years, it is more than compensated by greater care in admitting members, better attention to the financial, social and moral standing of the Lodges, and in new Halls, new furniture, and new zeal and love for the grand old institution.

In this district are some few open, active, aggressive anti-Masons. If their opposition is sincere and shall keep them outside our walls, it is well. We need not to wage war upon them, for, if true to our Order, their efforts shall not shorten by a single line the measure of its glories or its years.

Respectfully and fraternally,

E. H. BAKER,
Dist. Deputy Fourth District.

FIFTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Ogle, Lee, Whiteside and LaSalle.

DIXON, September 16, 1870.

M. W. H. G. Reynolds, G. M.:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—Agreeably to your request, I herewith beg leave to report that I have not been called upon to perform any official act, except to answer a few letters of inquiry, during this Masonic year.

So far as I have been able to ascertain, Peace, Harmony and a healthy prosperity of the Order reigns throughout my jurisdiction, for which allow me to congratulate you.

With my best wishes for your future prosperity and happiness,

I am, yours fraternally,

WM. A. LEVANWAY,
D. D. G. M. Fifth District.

SIXTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Kendall, Grundy, Will, Kankakee and Iroquois.

OFFICE OF D. D. G. M. SIXTH MASONIC DISTRICT, ILLINOIS,
KANKAKEE, September 9, 1870.

M. W. Harman G. Reynolds, Grand Master:

The undersigned, D. D. G. Master of the Sixth Masonic District, would respectfully report:

That during this Masonic year I have received no calls to visit officially any of the Lodges in my jurisdiction, and I must therefore conclude that general peace and good fellowship have prevailed throughout my district.

I have occasionally received communications making inquiries upon points of Masonic jurisprudence and usage, all of which I have answered to the best of my ability and understanding.

So far as my knowledge extends the Lodges are working harmoniously, and I believe doing good work.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

RODNEY ASHLEY,
D. D. G. Master.

SEVENTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Livingston, Woodford Marshall, Stark and Putnam.

Harman G. Reynolds, Esq., M. W. G. M. A. F. & A. M. of Illinois:

SIR AND BROTHER:—Upon receipt of my commission as District Deputy Grand Master, I immediately drew up and sent out a circular notifying the Lodges in the district of my appointment, setting forth briefly the duties to be performed and objects to be accomplished, and also signifying my readiness to serve them upon due notice.

From Bradford Lodge No. 514, I received an invitation to visit it, and officiate at a public installation of its officers elect; which request I obeyed, and after the installation was over I made an address, with what effect, of course, it becomes not me to say. I remained with them several days, imparting such instruction as came within the range of my position.

I found their records to be well and neatly kept, their by-laws to be well studied and observed; their work good, much better than I had expected to meet with in so new a locality. The brethren I found to be just what Masons should be, courteous, candid and kind, free from vain assumption, or pretentious airs, ready and anxious to comprehend anything to subserve the interest and promote the unity of the Craft. In a word I found them to be of such mould and cast that to compliment one would be to inflict an injury upon the whole. Long may they so act, and Peace, Harmony and Prosperity will be theirs.

My next invitation was from Sparland Lodge No. 441, to deliver an address before a public assemblage. I complied with the summons and was well received by the brethren and others. My lecture was made in their largest church, which was well filled. My visit on this occasion being special, my stay with them was short, and I had no opportunity to examine their records or their work, but trust that the inner chamber with them may be as fair and bright as external appearances would lead one to expect.

From the rest of the Lodges in the district I have heard nothing, which I understand to mean that all is well. So far as I am advised Peace and Harmony prevail in District No. 7.

Very respectfully and fraternally,

JO. HOLLAND,
D. D. G. M. District No. 7.

HENNEPIN, ILL., Sep. 5, 1870.

EIGHTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Bureau, Henry, Rock Island and Mercer.

ROCK ISLAND, ILLINOIS, Sep. 19, 1870.

M. W. Grand Master:

The past Masonic year in this district has been characterized by the same order and quiet which has so happily prevailed throughout the State. No case of discord or contention has been referred to me, nor have my services been required in any manner excepting in installation of officers, which was done in public and private, and a pleasant time was had on all occasions.

From much information from different parts of this district I am fully satisfied that the condition of the Craft is increasing and improving, and that PEACE AND HARMONY PREVAIL.

Although the question of work does not come within the scope of my office, I would congratulate my brethren on the interest they are taking in the work established by our Grand Lodge, and adopted as the true work.

I return to your hands the authority conferred upon me by your appointment, thanking you for this mark of your confidence and esteem, and trust that my successor may have the time and ability to do more for his charge than I have been able to accomplish.

I remain fraternally yours,

PETER BOGUE,
D. D. G. M. Eighth District.

NINTH DISTRICT.

The Counties of Peoria, Knox and Warren.

KNOXVILLE, ILLINOIS, Sep. 7, 1870.

M. W. H. G. Reynolds, Grand Master of Masons:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—In obedience to instructions I respectfully submit the following report:

On the 18th day of January last, complaint having been made against the W. Master of Kingston Mine's Lodge No. 357, for drunkenness, by your direction, and invested with full power from you to investigate and deal with the case as I deemed for the best good of Masonry, I visited said Lodge and investigated the cause of complaint and found the charges fully sustained by facts. I deposed the W. M., THOMAS BURNS, and finding the Lodge in a state of disorganization, and too much demoralized to discipline its unworthy members. I arrested its charter and placed its property in the hands of a responsible custodian, and made full report to you of all my acts in the case.

Sometime in March last complaint having been made against Trinity Lodge No. 561, for irregular use of the ballot, I, by your direction, visited said Lodge and made a careful investigation of the case, and found the main features of the complaint without foundation in truth, but that the W. M. had inadvertently erred in not announcing the ballot at the time it was taken.

On the 8th of June last, complaint having been made against Kendrick Lodge No. 430, for having invaded the jurisdiction of Hardin Lodge No. 44, and R. W. Bro. GLENN, D. D. G. Master of that district, being a member of Hardin Lodge, and consequently a party to the complaint, I, by your direction visited Kendrick Lodge in company with R. W. Bro. GLENN, and settled the matter to the mutual satisfaction of both parties.

About the 1st of August last, complaint having been made against Valley Lodge, Mo. 547, for having invaded the jurisdiction of Sherman Lodge No. 535, I, by your direction visted Valley Lodge in company with the W. M. of Sherman Lodge, when all cause of complaint was adjusted to the satisfaction of both Lodges.

In consequence of the general peace and harmony which pervades the Lodges of this district, I have had no other calls to visit Lodges officially, yet I have made it convenient to visit many of the Lodges in my district, and have made diligent inquiry concerning those I have not visited, and from all that I have seen and have been able to learn, I feel justified in reporting the Lodges (with very a few exceptions) prosperous and harmonious.

Respectfully submitted,
SYLVESTER STEVENS,
D. D. G. M. Ninth District.

TENTH DISTRICT.

The Counties of Henderson, Hancock and McDonough.

To Harman G. Reynolds, Esq., Grand Master of Masons in Illinois:

M. W. Sir and Bro.:—In accordance with instructions I would respectfully submit this as my report as D. D. G. M. for 10th District:

Our Order within the limits of my district is in a flourishing condition; not as regards increase of membership, although there appears to be a healthy growth, not stimulated by a desire of the Lodges for work, nor by an abundance of money making Masonry cheap, but in a desire to do good work, using none but good material, to live harmoniously and act charitably, to keep a tongue of good report, and adorn their profession, the condition of the fraternity is truly flourishing. Hence but few cases of discipline have occurred, and as these will appear in the reports to the Grand Lodge, it will not be necessary to refer to them here.

I am respectfully and fraternally yours,

RICHARD. D. HAMMOND,
D. D. G. M. 10th District.

ELEVENTH DISTRICT.

The Counties of Adams, Pike and Calhoun.

Quincy, Ill., Sep. 15, 1870.

H. G. Reynolds, M. W. Grand Master:

In compliance with the regulations governing District Deputy Grand Masters I herewith submit my annual report:

During the past year I have been called to visit officially Lodges Nos. 1, 39, 135, 147, 227, 296, 297, 379, 439 and 599.

All the Lodges visited are in good condition and working in the manner prescribed by the Grand Lodge.

The four Lodges at Quincy are working nearer in uniformity than at any time during the past ten years. "Lambert" Lodge, U. D., at Quincy, has been doing good work, and is in no respect behind the Chartered Lodges in that city.

In accordance with instructions received in February last, I attended Columbus Lodge No. 227, at their stated communication, March 18th, at which time officers were elected under special dispensation, and duly installed. Columbus Lodge having, by unanimous vote, asked for a dispensation to remove their location to Coatsburg, and the dispensation having been placed in my hands, after the transaction of the business of the evening at the meeting referred to, the Lodge was closed at Columbus and the next stated communication ordered to be held at Coatsburg, since which time Columbus Lodge No. 227 has been held at Coatsburg.

The Lodge has revived and is now doing well and prospering in their new location, and bids fair to become one of the best Lodges in this part of the State. I would especially recommend that the location of Columbus Lodge No. 227 be made permanent at Coatsburg.

So far as heard from all the other Lodges in the Eleventh District are doing well.

All of which is fraternally submitted,

ASA W. BLAKESLEY,
D. D. G. M. 11th District.

Harman G. Reynolds, M. W. Grand Master of Illinois:

Having been commissioned by you D. D. G. Master for the Twelfth District, I, in compliance with your instructions, send you my report as such:

I have held myself in readiness to the call of any Lodge in my district, during the year, but have had but one call, and that was on your order to visit Bath Lodge No. 494, and investigate the charges preferred by Bro. G. H. HAVIGHORST against Bro. H. H. MOOSE, W. M. of said Lodge. Bro. MOOSE had some time previous removed to Havana, but came down to attend the investigation. Bro. MOOSE, under a mistaken idea of the powers of the Master of a Lodge, had done irregular work, but he disavowed any intention to violate Masonic law, or to show disrespect to any member of the Lodge, and no particular wrong having been done, the matter was amicably settled. I have heard of no further disagreement in any other Lodge, and presume that Peace and Harmony prevail throughout the district.

Fraternally yours,

H. S. JACOB,
D. D. G. Master 12th District.

MT. STERLING, ILL., September 1, 1870.

M. W. Harman G. Reynolds, Grand Master Grand Lodge of Illinois:

M. W. SIR AND BROTHER:—Another year has passed away, and in accordance with your instruction, I send you my fourth annual report as one of the District Deputy Grand Masters of this jurisdiction. I am happy to be able to report that all the Lodges in my district, so far as I know, are in a peaceful and prosperous condition. I have had no special invitations to visit any of my Lodges during the current year. A trifling misunderstanding between Hardin Lodge No. 44 and Kendrick Lodge No. 430, upon a question of jurisdiction, was referred by yourself to R. W. Bro. STEVENS, of the Eleventh District, for adjustment, and by him amicably arranged, to the full and entire satisfaction of all concerned. I presume he has made a full report of his doings in the premises.

In conclusion, allow me to congratulate you, as the head of our time honored institution in this State, upon the general prosperity that pervades the Craft in this grand jurisdiction.

Fraternally yours,

A. A. GLENN,
D. D. G. Master Thirteenth District.

FOURTEENTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Tazewell, McLean, Menard, Logan and DeWitt.

To the M. W. Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, A. F. & A. M.:

The undersigned, D. D. G. M. for the Fourteenth District, would make the following report:

December 15, 1869, I installed the officers of Allin Lodge.

January 3d, 1870, I installed the officers of Towanda Lodge.

January 6, 1870, at a public installation, I installed the officers of Pekin and Empire Lodges.

January 12, 1870, at a public installation, I installed the officers of Chenoa Lodge, and January 14, 1870, at a public installation, I installed the officers of Heyworth Lodge.

Several of the above Lodges I have visited during the past year, and they are all doing well; and I would here say that the Lodges in my jurisdiction, with very few exceptions, are good working Lodges. The Lodge at Hudson, after having a great deal of trouble in procuring a charter, is now doing well. The members of said Lodge have built themselves a very comfortable Lodge room and are now the owners of the same.

About the first of August, by order of the Grand Master, I closed Potosi (Bethesda) Lodge, U. D., for the reason that they had not a suitable place in which to meet. The Lodge having no funds on hand, and the furniture belonging to the same being of but little value, and having full confidence in the integrity of the Master, I permitted him to retain the furniture of the Lodge, subject to the order of the Grand Master.

And in regard to this Lodge, I will say that I think its members are good men and true, and as soon as they can get a suitable place for their meetings, would recommend that their dispensation be renewed.

Fraternally yours,

JOHN M. STILWILL,
D. D. G. M.

DECATUR, September 30, 1870.

Harman G. Reynolds, Esq., M. W. Grand Master:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—In reply to yours of the 29th inst., will say that absence from the State the first half of the month, and since returning, the preparations for the State Fair, now being held here, so occupied my time, and not having any important matter to report, I delayed making any.

I can only say that in the Fifteenth District harmony universal has prevailed, with the exception of the matter of Summit Lodge vs. Bro. FERGUSON, which will be laid before the Grand Lodge upon its convening. I have no official action to report.

Yours fraternally,

A. A. MURRAY,

OFFICE D. D. G. M. SIXTEENTH DISTRICT,
URBANA, ILL., September 10, 1870.

Hon. H. G. Reynolds, M. W. G. M.:

MY DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—It gives me pleasure, at the close of another Masonic year, to report to you that the progress and prosperity of our Craft in the Sixteenth District of Illinois has, so far as I have been able to learn, been eminently harmonious and satisfactory. Not a single case of discipline requiring attention from me has fallen under my notice.

During this year the enemies of Masonry have not been idle, however. At one point in this district a number of the rejected candidates of one of our Lodges, with other unprincipled and meddlesome persons, formed themselves into an association under the various aliases of "Haworth Association" and "United Brotherhood," and professed to teach the secrets of our Order to their candidates; and to others, at a distance, to impart them through circulars for the low price of one dollar. In this latter swindle, the local postoffice authorities, whose duty it is to detect and punish frauds sought to be perpetrated through its means, became a party and encouraged the scheme. How many were roped in is not known. The whole scheme was, through the vigilance of Masons, detected, and its perpetrators exposed through the public prints. This, like all similar efforts of our enemies against us, has only driven our members to greater caution and circumspection.

On the night of the 28th of December last, acting as your proxy, I dedicated a very beautiful and capacious Hall, erected for and fitted up by Paxton Lodge No. 416, at Paxton, in Ford county. The structure reflects great credit upon our brethren there.

At the same time I installed, as Master of Paxton Lodge, our venerable brother R. W. WILSON HOAG, it being the seventeenth installation ceremony through which he has passed as Master at Paxton and other Lodges with which he has been connected. May he live to be the recipient of many more honors from the brethren he serves so faithfully.

The brethren of Pera Lodge No. 574, at Ludlow, Champaign county, have likewise erected a creditable Hall, which I was prevented from dedicating by unfavorable circumstances, on the 24th of June.

Fraternally submitted.

SEVENTEENTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Edgar, Clark, Crawford and Jasper.

PARIS, ILL., Sep. 1, 1870.

Hon. Harman G. Reynolds, M. W. Grand Master:

DEAR BROTHER:—After returning thanks for the honor conferred upon me in my appointment as District Deputy Grand Master for the Seventeenth District, I desire to submit the following report:

In accordance with your order, on the 3d day of December, 1869, I constitnted Melrose Lodge No. 625, and installed the officers thereof.

I have visited but one Lodge officially. That was in obedience to your order to visit Westfield Lodge No. 163, where a difficulty had arisen. I ordered the Lodge to be summoned, and after due examination of the matter I made a decision which I believe has proven satisfactory and the Lodge is now working quietly, as I am informed by the W. M. At the same meeting I installed the officers of the Lodge.

On my way to Newton, Jasper county, I passed through the flourishing town of Casey. Bro. McLARY, P. M., insisted that I should call on my return and visit their Lodge. Accordingly, on the 18th day of August last, I visited Casey Lodge No. 412, and was met and received by the brethren with that warm, genial, genuine, true hospitality and kindness to be found only among the brotherhood. I gave them some instrnction in opening and closing their Lodge. I have seen the most of the Worshipful Masters of Lodges in my jurisdiction, and all seem to move harmoniously. Occasionally a Lodge is found a little deficient in the work, which they say will be obviated as soon as they are able to employ a lecturer. The Lodges generally in this district are in a very flourishing condition.

I have the honor to remain yonrs fraternally,

D. G. BURR,
D. D. G. M. 17th District.

EIGHTEENTH DISTRICT.

The Counties of Coles, Cumberland, Shelby, Moultrie and Effingham.

MATTOON, ILL., Sep. 24, 1870.

H. G. Heynolds, M. W. G. M. G. L. Illinois:

SIR AND BROTHER:—In accordance with instructions, immediately after reception of my commission as D. D. G. M. for the Eighteenth District, I notified the several Lodges in my district, and of my readiness to call upon them officially, should they so desire.

I have not been called upon to visit officially any Lodge in my district.

On the 19th day of last ..... I received a communication from you accompanied with charges preferred against the W. M. of Neoga Lodge No. 279, with instructions to investigate them at once. Accordingly, I notified the parties, and on the 2d day of June a thorough investigation was had, report of which has been made to you.

Again, on the 4th day of June I received a communication from you accompanied with several charges preferred against the W. M. of Muddy Point Lodge No. 396, with instructions to investigate the same. I accordingly notified the parties, and on the 12th day of July I met the parties, heard the case, and made report thereof to you.

Again, on or about the 25th of July I received another communication from you with instructions to investigate certain matters in Muddy Point Lodge No. 396. Accordingly, I visited said Lodge at their next regular meeting, and presided, when charges were preferred against Breth. M. T. HORTON and W. H. BRASIER, for unmasonic conduct, specifications of which I will not here mention.

On the 6th day of September I again met with the Lodge, when Bro. HORTON'S case was thoroughly investigated, and he was expelled from all the rights and benefits of Masonry.

Bro. BRASIER not being ready for trial I continued his case until the 20th inst., when I again met with the Lodge, and after hearing the testimony the Lodge indefinitely suspended Bro. BRASIER from all the rights and benefits of Masonry.

Fraternally submitted,

W. H. HOUSE,
D. D. G. M. 18th District.

NINETEENTH DISTRICT.

The Counties of Montgomery, Bond, Madison, Jersey and Macoupin.

ALTON, ILL., Sep. 17, 1870.

M. W. Harman G. Reynolds, Grand Master:

During the past year I have visited or met with the officers of most of the Lodges comprising the Nineteenth District, and it affords me great pleasure to be able to report that they are, with a very few exceptions, working harmoniously and with an eye to the good of the fraternity.

A few irregularities and questions of Jurisprudence have been referred to me, which have in all cases been adjusted to the apparent entire satisfaction of the Lodges interested.

On the 12th of July last, by your order, I visited one of the Lodges, to investigate difficulties that had arisen, and made report to you at that time. Under your direction the matter was satisfactorily adjusted, and harmony and fraternal feeling restored.

Other difficulties have since arisen in the same Lodge, which I fear will prove fatal to its usefulness.

I have been informed of a serious irregularity in another Lodge in this district, which I fear will result in its entire destruction. I think an appeal has been taken in the matter, and it will probably come before the Grand Lodge at the coming session.

With these two exceptions I am much pleased with the condition of the Lodges of the district.

Fraternally yours,

ELI T. HOLLISTER,
D. D. G. M.

TWENTIETH DISTRICT.

The Counties of St. Clair, Clinton, Marion, Jefferson, Washington and Monroe.

M. W. Grand Master:

I have the honor to submit the following report of my official acts as D. D. G. M. of the Twentieth Masonic District:

Soon after receiving my appointment I notified the several Lodges, and early in December received an invitation to visit Patoka Lodge, and install their officers, which I did. I found them in a healthy and prosperous condition.

In January I visited Dubois Lodge, constituted the same and installed its officers, giving them such instructions as they required, and have no doubt they will send up a good report.

Several complaints came to me of the situation and condition of J. D. Moody Lodge No. 510, at Iuka. I visited them early in the Spring and found them in far better condition than had been represented, having a comfortable hall, and much more secure than many others where they are better able, and with better facilities than the brethren at Iuka. Their records are well kept and all is peace with them.

At the request of the members constituting Irvington Lodge U. D., I visited them at their organization and assisted them in their first work, which was well done; and with the counsel of an old experienced P. M., who wields the gavel, I have no fears of a good report from them and that they will receive a charter at the coming session.

The only case of discipline which I have been called to adjust was in Odin No. 503, which, after a careful and impartial hearing was, I believe, amicably settled to the satisfaction of all.

In July last, at the request of the members of Ewington Lodge No. 149, I visited Effingham and laid the corner stone of the new Court House, on which occasion I was assisted by brethren from Kinmundy, Edgewood, Mason, Watson, Sigel and Freemanton. It was a rousing time. P. G. Master H. P. H. Bromwell delivered an oration in his usual masterly style.

I have visited nearly all the Lodges in the district during the year, and have the honor to report that all is in Peace, Health and Plenty in this portion of Egypt.

Respectfully submitted,

H. W. HUBBARD,
D. D. G. M. 20th District.

TWENTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

The counties of Clay, Richland, Lawrence, Edwards and Wayne.

To R. W. O. H. Miner, Grand Secretary Grand Lodge of Illinois:

Dear Sir and Brother:—Agreeably to notice received from you, requesting a report from me as D. D. G. M. of the Twenty-first District, would respectfully report that Peace and Harmony prevails in this district and has during the past year, so far as I have been advised, and I have my information direct from the Masters of the Lodges generally, though I have not seen all of them.

I have, however, to report one exception to the general harmony, which is very disagreeable to me: I received a note from W. Bro. M. L. Howe, W. M. of Parkersburg Lodge No. 509, requesting me to visit their Lodge at the regular communication in August, as he desired me to install its officers and to preside over the Lodge during the pendancy of a very important trial. Accordingly, at the appointed time, I went to Parkersburg, arriving there before the opening of the Lodge. The W. M. elect declined to be installed, and others of the officers not being present, but two or three were installed. The Lodge was opened by the W. M., at my request, as I desired to see their work, which was not up to the standard. After the opening I took the East. After the transaction of the regular business, the committee to whom charges against one of the members of the Lodge had been referred, presented their report, which, in the matter of testimony, was very lengthy. After some explanations regarding the testimony already taken, and the introduction of additional testimony, the report was received and the committee discharged.

After a full discussion on both sides, the question was put as to the guilt of the brother (the accuser and accused having retired,) which resulted in the acquittal of the accused brother by a vote of 13 to 7.

It having been suggested that the brethren try and settle the matter amicably, I, for that purpose, again visited the Lodge, on the 10th inst. (September), but am sorry to say that I see no hope of Peace. With some four the whole matter is a family feud, and it has worked its way into the Lodge. A want of discipline has had a great deal to do with giving strength to prejudice. I would here remark, that nothing tends so much to harmony as being in possession of true work and lectures, and I think every Lodge should be compelled to inform themselves as to the work. If this is not done we fail in our duty.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

HENRY PALMER,
D. D. G. M. Twenty-first District.

TWENTY-SECOND DISTRICT.

The Counties of Wabash, White, Saline, Gallatin and Hamilton.

CARMI, ILL., Sep. 15, 1870.

To the Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Illinois. A. F. & A. Masons:

Knowing of nothing to the contrary, not having been appealed to as a D. D. G. M., I am happy to state that Peace and Harmony exist among the brethren and Lodges throughout the Twenty-Second District.

I have made but one official visit during the past year, which was at your instance to Mt. Carmel, and reported upon at the time.

No serious questions have arisen for adjudication, and from all indications Masonry is doing well generally in Southern Illinois, and hoping that Peace and Harmony may continue to prevail,

I am respectfully and fraternally yours,

T. W. HAY,
D. D. G. M. 22d District.

TWENTY-THIRD DISTRICT.

The counties of Pope, Hardin, Massac, Johnson, Williamson and Franklin.

M. W. Harman G. Reynolds, Grand Master of Grand Lodge of Illinois:

DEAR SIR:—The undersigned, District Deputy Grand Master of the Twenty-third District of Illinois, would beg leave to report that the present Masonic year has been one of happiness and prosperity to the Craft throughout this district.

I was called on to visit but one Lodge where difficulties had arisen among the Craft, the cause of which I will not state here, but after a little explanation the whole matter was amicably settled.

I also visited Benton Lodge, on the 24th day of June last, and dedicated their Hall and installed their officers.

The Lodges generally are in good condition, and desire to respect the laws and acquire the work.

Fraternally,

THOMAS MOORE,
D. D. G. M. Twenty-third District.

TWENTY-FOURTH DISTRICT.

The counties of Alexander, Pulaski, Union, Jackson, Perry and Randolph.

M. W. G. M. Harman G. Reynolds:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:—Your instructions by Grand Secretary received.

I have not been called upon by any of the Lodges in the Twenty-fourth District, consequently I am of the opinion that all is Peace and Harmony.

The Lodges in this county, Chester, No. 72; Kaskaskia, No. 86; Hope, No. 162; Red Bud, No. 427, and Alma, No. 492, are all doing good work.

I would have been pleased, had I the time, to visit each and every Lodge in the district, but could not lose the time.

I am fraternally,

G. W. STALEY,
D. D. G. M. Twenty-fourth District.

OBITUARY REMARKS ACCOMPANYING RETURNS OF LODGES.

Mount Moriah No. 51.—Bro. McKenzie Turner, was born in the State of Tennessee. He was initiated in Mount Moriah Lodge April 29, passed May 6, and raised May 31, 1841. Was Master of the Lodge four years.

Havana No. 88.—Bro. W. W. Stout, was one of our oldest members. He served with gallantry and distinction in the late civil war as captain in the 27th Illinois Volunteers. In 1864, having been disabled by wounds received in the battle of Chickamauga, he resigned and returned home. In 1865 he was elected County Clerk of Mason county, holding that office at the time of his death.

Rockford No. 102.—Bro. Josiah E. Richardson, entered the army in the early part of the war for the Union, in good health, but returned with a shattered constitution, bearing in his body rebel lead. He was twice elected County Treasurer, and it was during his last term of office, while seeking relief, in the western territories, from the disease that was making him its victim, that he was called from labor to refreshment, as we humbly trust, in the Paradise of God.

Bureau No. 112.—Bro. J. K. Hoskins, was a faithful, zealous Mason, and an exemplary man and citizen.

Mound No. 122.—Bro. Dorice D. Shumway, was a prominent citizen of Illinois, having served in the Legislature, Constitutional Convention and several minor offices. He was for nine consecutive years Master of Mound Lodge.

Virden No. 161.—In the death of Bro. John R. Brooks, the Lodge lost a valued member; one whose quiet demeanor and exemplary life had won for him the love and esteem, not only of his brethren, but all who knew him.

Star in the East No. 166.—Bro. William Hulin, was one of the charter members of this Lodge. He occupied for many years the office of Clerk of the County Court, and was much respected for strict integrity, benevolence and devotion to duty. He was an affectionate husband and father, a valued citizen, and a Mason to whom we may all look as a model, exemplifying in an eminent degree the sublime tenets of our Fraternity.

Moultrie Lodge No. 181.—Bro. Henry Clapsaddle, was at the time of his death Treasurer of the Lodge. He was an ornament to his church, his Lodge, and the community in which he resided. His loss we can but regret.

Bro. J. M. Jones, had emigrated to Missouri but a short time previous to his death. His memory will long be revered for his many virtues and his worth as a man.

Meridian No. 183.—Bro. Cornelius Ashton, was a man that was loved and respected, not only by his brethren, but by all who knew him. Although, on account of his great age, he was unable to participate freely in the work of the Lodge, still, when his health would permit, he would meet with us, and seemed to love the Fraternity and his brethren next to his family and God. He had a kind word and pleasant smile for the brethren in and out of the Lodge, and his warm heart beat with generous emotion for all God's creatures. The Lodge, his children, his friends, and the community mourn his loss; but we are consoled with the almost perfect assurance that that which constitutes our loss is his eternal gain. Resurgam.

Louisville No. 196.—Bro. John W. Abbott, was a kind husband, an affectionate father, good citizen, and a faithful Brother. Bro. James Monical, was one of the pioneers of Clay county, and one whose decease was mourned by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Corinthian No. 205.—Bro. Jedediah Foster, was born A. D. 1780, was initiated, passed and raised A. D. 1801, having been a Mason 68 years.

Fairfield No. 206.—Bro. Daniel Turney, was one of the oldest men, one of the longest resident, and one of the oldest Masons in the county. He went to his grave in peace with God and his fellow-men, having filled up the measure of his days as only does the honest man and zealous Mason. Requiescat.

Oakland No. 219.—Breth. A. J. Campbell and Moses Hunter, were honest men and upright Masons: men whose example in life all good Masons can safely follow. Bro. Campbell leaves a widowed mother, well advanced in years, and one whose welfare in life it is the sacred trust of Oakland Lodge to maintain. Bro. Campbell died of disease contracted in a rebel prison pen during the late civil war.

Cairo No. 237.—Bro. H. W. Taylor, died suddenly of heart disease, at the age of 42 years, lamented by a large circle of friends, to whom he had endeared himself by his many virtues as a citizen; and by his Lodge for his uprightness as a Mason.

Western Star No. 240.—Bro. N. C. Beasley, was a Past Master of this Lodge, and an old and highly respected citizen of Champaign.

Wheaton No. 269.—Bro. William E. Martin, was a respected and influential clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and was universally beloved where known.

Tyrian No. 333.—Breth. Walter C. Whitney and William Billington. Both these Brethren were charter members of No. 333. Their decease cuts the number of charter members down to six. Bro. Whitney was a good citizen, enjoying the confidence of the community in which he lived. Bro. Billington was a native of England, by profession a civil engineer, and was a consistent member of the Episcopal Church. Both were initiated, passed and raised in No. 333, Bro. Billington being the first and Bro. Whitney the third initiate.

Jerseyville No. 394.—James Bringhurst, M. D., was a charter member of this Lodge, a good man, and a bright Mason. Solomon Calhoun, aged 74 years and one month, was a charter member of Morning Sun Lodge No 94. He was, for fifty-three years, a Mason, honored for his many virtues. He was made a Mason in Meridian Sun Lodge at Bath, N. H.

Batavia No. 404.—Bro. John H. Dewey, a worthy member, a faithful brother, a kind friend, and an earnest looker forward to the better land.

Palmyra No. 463.—Bro. Joseph H. Crouch had been in failing health and went to his native place in Washington county, Tennessee, but in less than a fortnight after his arrival, was called away by death. His remains were buried with the Honors of Masonry, by Jonesborough Lodge, Jonesborough, Tennessee. Our Lodge has lost, for the first time, one of its members. We revere his many virtues, for he was in the strictest sense of the word an honest man.

Andalusia No. 516. Bro. Samuel Love was cut down in the prime of life by a disease contracted while in the service of his country. He was a man of moral worth and integrity, and a zealous Mason. He, by his gentlemanly deportment commanded the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

Litchfield No. 517.—Bro. NERO C. ALEXANDER was a charter member of this Lodge. He was a worthy Mason and an excellent citizen, and a kind and affectionate husband. He was the first victim in our Lodge to the grim monster Death.

Illiopolis No. 521.—Brother A. R. MILLAR was Secretary of our Lodge from its organization until December, 1868. He was a good man and Mason. Bro. JOHN M. ENGLAND was, at the time of his death, Senior Deacon of this Lodge. He was a good man in every sense of the word, honest, temperate, upright. Because of his refusal to renounce Masonry, and sever his Masonic affiliation, he was expelled from the church of the United Brethren, of which he was a devoted member.

Perry No. 95.—Bro. FRANK FIFIELD. Bro. FIFIELD was a native of Boston, Massachusetts, and was, at the time of his death, in the neighborhood of thirty years old. He came west at an early age, settling first at Muscatine, Iowa. From thence he located in Perry, Pike county, Illinois. At the breaking out of the late civil war he enlisted and served nearly four years. After being discharged he was employed, in company with the writer, in the office of Major General JAMES OAKES, Assistant Provost Marshal General, at Springfield. During his employment there he entered into a long sought, long delayed matrimonial alliance with Miss MARY SUTPHIN, daughter of Dr. SUTPHIN, of Perry. After leaving the office above stated, he returned to Perry, engaged in the study of medicine, graduating at Rush Medical College, Chicago. His father-in-law, Dr. SUTPHIN, dying soon after FRANK succeeded him in his practice, which he held until failing health compelled him to relinquish it and travel west. He was a warm-hearted, generous, open-handed friend and brother, and a close friendship and intimacy only tended to reveal the fact that he was in every respect a man.

In the office he was an universal favorite, esteemed by all his associates, and respected by all with whom he came in contact. The first intimation of his decease afforded the writer, was had upon inspection of the return of Perry Lodge No. 95, for 1870. The sad fact that one with whom he had been on terms of close friendship, a mutual confidant, and one whom he had learned to love as a brother, and should never more meet on earth, stared the writer hereof full in the face, and entered into his soul, with force of an unexpected bereavement, and it is not to the discredit of human nature, and human feeling that the tears of mourning for the "gone before," and sympathy for the bereaved ones he left behind, come coursing down the cheeks of one unused to weep.

He leaves behind him his sorrowing wife and one child, whose welfare, we are firmly persuaded, will be the sacred the trust of the generous-hearted brethren of Perry.

Bro. FIFIELD, at his death, was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church.

We have thus endeavored in our feeble way to render a last tribute to the memory of a "departed worthy brother."
